SALES TAX DEFEATED IN HOUSE

Today

Houses With No Tax.
Dippy D's $200.
12 Cents to $200,000.
Devil Fish, Wild Cats, Etc.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 24.

CONSPICUOUS CITIZENS of Florida, including Carl Fisher and Edward C. Romfh, president of the Miami First National Bank, advocate a change in real estate taxation that interests every region.

They would exempt from all taxation the house in which a man lives, up to a certain value on house and land, suggesting reasonably, that a man should have somewhere on earth a place that really belongs to him and his children, as long as they last, once he has paid for it.

This suggestion, if carried out, would bring millions to live in Florida. It presents a pleasant change from other plans that would compel every American to spend his life pursued by tax gatherers, with no hope this side of the undertaker's embalming department.

IN FLORIDA, men take business as it is, philosophically, cheerfully. When you have survived a real estate boom, created 99 per cent by men from outside the state, the explosion of that boom, a big hurricane, and the Mediterranean fly, little things do not excite you.

Some true stories of the land boom days should be preserved for instruction and warning. A concern decided recently to sell two Miami lots, in the nearby business section, at present reasonable prices for fifteen hundred dollars above a mortgage of two thousand. Records showed that the lots had been sold during the boom for four thousand dollars, six thousand, twenty thousand, fifty thousand, and the last sale on which the buyer paid down twenty thousand cash was for NINETY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Now everybody having come down to earth again, the lots are sold for fifteen hundred dollars with the original two thousand dollar mortgage still on them. Nobody ever paid that.

Some day they will be worth twenty thousand, because they will bring in good interest on that amount of money.

ANOTHER STORY, by Mr. Romfh. A man whom he knew slightly, later known as "Dippy D," came to the bank saying:

"I suppose you wouldn't lend me one hundred dollars to see if I can get started?"

Mr. Romfh said he would.

"I suppose you wouldn't make that two hundred dollars, so that I can bring my wife down from Jacksonville?"

Mr. Romfh said he would make it two hundred dollars.

With that two hundred dollars "Dippy D" performed wonders in the boom. He "ran himself up to millions of dollars worth of transactions," during the course of which he got rid of his original wife and acquired a new younger one. Eventually he jumped from a steamer in mid-ocean, thus canceling all mortgages.

ON THE OTHER hand, as A. D. Lasker, of Chicago, remarked today in his fine house at the edge of the ocean:

"While prices are not what they were, there are improvements.

"For instance, before Carl Fisher and others developed this Miami Beach front, not so long ago, you could buy land along here, including this land on which my house and that of John Hertz next door stand, for twelve cents an acre. You can't buy it now for one hundred thousand dollars an acre, and you never will be able to buy it as cheaply as one hundred thousand dollars an acre."

TO HAVE LAND go from fifteen hundred to ninety thousand dollars and then drop to thirty-five hundred dollars does seem discouraging. On the other hand, to have land go from twelve cents an acre to two hundred thousand dollars an acre and stay there, is NOT discouraging.

And when you own real estate you are your own board of directors, and don't have to worry about what some other board of directors is doing with your property.

During the boom excited crowds piled seventy-seven million dollars in cash into his bank. He saw that pile of cash dwindle to twelve million dollars, and a line five or six blocks long outside his bank waiting to draw out money.

He shows you a photograph of that line framed in his office. He paid everybody that came, did not rediscount the notes of any client, and is still in the banking business, shock proof and fool proof.

He can tell you how the well-meant working of the Federal Reserve System has caused thousands of small country banks to go to pieces. Such a man as Eugene Meyer, Jr., head of the Federal Reserve, who combines, as some one has well said, ability with character, might talk to Mr. Romfh about small bankers and small business men and householders that depend on them.

IN THE WORDS of the old showman, "bear in mind and remember" that this column does not advise you to buy real estate, here or anywhere else on earth. But it does advise you to explore your country thoroughly, including this extraordinarily beautiful and brilliant Florida peninsula, and the city of Miami, which will be one day to avia-

Baby Theft Linked To Kidnaping of Woman in West

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS
International News Service.

TRENTON, N. J., March 24.—Far out to sea, to include the ships of the "rum fleet" anchored beyond the 12-mile limit off the New Jersey coast, the ever-widening hunt for the Lindbergh baby kidnapers stretched today.

The direct cause for extending the search for the abducted 21-month-old son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh to the ocean was the anxiety of police to apprehend Abie Wagner, East Side gangster, on suspicion he had some underworld information bearing on the kidnaping.

REPORTED HIDING

Wagner, who twice escaped assassins' bullets in feud wars, was reported to be in hiding with Harry Fleischer, member of Detroit's "purple gang," also sought in connection with the abduction.

Wagner, according to the news bulletin issued this morning by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, was alleged to have been seen in Central New Jersey shortly before the kidnaping of the baby and has not been seen since. Fleischer, the statement declares, has been "unaccounted for" since the Price kidnaping in Connecticut. The bulletin refers to Wagner as "a known kidnaper." It also stated:

"No information has been received from Erie, Pa., authorities concerning their activities. Police of Pennsylvania

Greta Garbo Delays Decision in Contract

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—(AP.)—Greta Garbo, who has often said she preferred Swedish farm life to living in the film capital, may return to Sweden. She had until June 1 to sign a renewal of her motion picture contract, but so far has given no indication she plans doing so.

ZACK MILLER ROUTS 'LAW' ON RANCH

'Elephant Girl' Shares '101' Barricade; Showman Fires On Lawyers, Halts Sale

MARLAND, Okla., March 24.—(AP.)—Armed with a shotgun, Col. Zack Miller barricaded himself in his "white house" home at the 101 Ranch today and virtually defied officers to come and get him, after firing a shot which caused two lawyers to flee.

Zelma "the elephant girl" of the now defunct 101 Ranch Wild West Show was in the ranch house with the pioneer showman and plainsman.

A cordon of deputy sheriffs was placed about the house but no effort was made to invade it.

The shooting occurred as preparations were under way for placing on the auction block today the personal properties on the ranch to satisfy the claims of creditors.

MILLER TROUBLED

Neal Sullivan and R. O. Wilson, attorneys for the receivers, visited the imposing "white house" to discuss details of the auction with Miller, who has been ill and troubled with litigation over the forced sale of the ranch and the Wild West show and family difficulties which resulted in a divorce.

When the lawyers entered there was an argument that grew warmer and warmer. Interrupting the conversation, Miller arose from his bed and left the room. Sullivan said he was standing with his back to the door through which the ranchman left. Wilson sat facing the door.

Sullivan heard Wilson exclaim:

"My God, Zack, don't get that out."

BOLTS FROM HOUSE

At the same time he heard the breach of a shotgun close. Without even turning to look, Sullivan bolted from the house as an explosion resounded at his back. Wilson said Miller shot into the floor. None of the shot struck the attorney.

Wilson fled, leaving Miller in possession. The doors were slammed.

A few minutes later Harold Mead, Kay County Sheriff, said he aproached the house and was greeted by Col. Miller peering over a gun barrel poked through a window. Mead said he was ordered to leave at once.

Bruce Potter, Kay County attorney, called the home on the telephone. He said Miller refused to talk to him, but indicated he might communicate later with W. E. Rice, Ponca City attorney.

FRED CLARKE IN CHARGE

Fred C. Clarke, former Pirate manager, is the receiver in the case. Honus Wagner, who rose to the pinnacle of baseball fame under the tutelage of Clarke, when told of Col. Miller's action, said:

"You know what Fred is likely to do, but I wouldn't do it. I'd get the Sheriff. If Fred decides that the sale is going through, it will."

30,000 to Join All-Night Prayers for Relief

Thousands of Catholic men in the Pittsburgh diocese tonight are expected to take part in all-night prayer for relief from present conditions.

In more than 100 Catholic churches all-night adoration was scheduled to end at 6:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Members of the Holy Name societies of the churches have been notified of the hours during which they will be expected to take part in the prayer. Each man will pray for at least one-half hour.

Henry Fitzpatrick, of the Holy Name Society executive committee, estimated that more than 30,000 members will take part.

Notices sent to these members said:

"May we ask you to pray before the Blessed Sacrament for relief from the misery and want which so many suffer today."

War Cry Raised In Commons on Irish Situation

By HARRY K. REYNOLDS
International News Service.

LONDON, March 24.—The cry of "war" was raised in the House of Commons on the Irish question again this afternoon.

Supporting a measure asking government assurance that no important step be taken in the Irish issue without consent of Parliament, James Maxton, Left Wing Laborite leader, said:

"The British government has replied to De Valera by making what we regard as a declaration of war which can only be backed up by force."

MOTION TO ADJOURN

De Valera's threat to abolish the oath of allegiance and withhold the Irish land annuities came before the House on a motion to adjourn for the Easter recess.

George Buchanan, Scottish Laborite, raised the Irish question by demanding that the government give full assurances "that no serious step be taken which might embroil Britain and the Irish Free State without consulting Commons."

In supporting Buchanan's motion, Maxton maintained that De Valera had taken a step for which he had received a mandate from the people in the recent elections.

De Valera Calls Cabinet On British Note

DUBLIN, March 24.—(INS.)—The British government's reply to Eamonn De Valera's proposal to abolish the oath of allegiance and withhold land annuities from the British treasury was received in Dublin this afternoon.

President De Valera, of the Irish Free State Executive Council, immediately summoned a cabinet meeting for tonight, at which the Ministry is expected to consider the British note and possibly draft a reply.

While De Valera refrained from commenting, International News Service ascertained that the Irish reply probably would constitute a restatement of the Free State government's views, despite the fact

BILL AMOS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

William (Bill) Amos, former football coach and famous all-round athlete of Washington and Jefferson College, was seriously injured this afternoon when his automobile crashed headon with a truck in Bethel road at Brookside Farms, near Mt. Lebanon.

Amos was unconscious when carried into the emergency room of the South Side Hospital, half an hour after the accident. His skull was fractured.

Two companions in Amos' car, Alderman I. E. Goodridge and Ernest Kaiser, both of Washington, were cut and bruised. Their injuries were treated at the hospital.

Aldreman Goodridge said they were on their way to Pittsburgh to arrange for talent for an American Legion benefit show in Washington. In rounding a curve at Walther stop, the car collided with a produce truck and was demolished. Goodridge said the truck was taking more than its half of the road.

Amos recently resigned as coach at W. & J. He was a stellar fullback of the team in his college days, as well as a baseball player and track star. He served overseas during the World War.

MAN KILLED IN QUARREL; WIFE HELD

'Didn't Know It Was Loaded,' Woman Sobs, as She Tells Of Pointing Gun at Mate

The wife, detectives say, fired two shots into his chest in the kitchen of their home.

In the next room sat their three daughters.

Mrs. Devlin, in tears, sat in the County Detective Bureau this afternoon explaining that she didn't realize the revolver was loaded.

She added:

"I only wanted to scare him. He was out all night, and when he came home he had been drinking. I called him down and he started quarreling and beating me.

"When he left last night he told me he had been made a deputy, and was going on guard duty. And when he came back and I saw he had been drinking, I accused him of lying."

As Devlin, a machinist for Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, and working part time, slumped behind the kitchen door, the three daughters rushed into the room, then spread the alarm.

They are Anna May, 21; Evelyn, 16, and Mildred, 14.

LINK CAPONE TO OFFICEHOLDERS

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP.)—An attempt by criminal organizations headed by Al Capone to secure his freedom through control of public officials was charged today by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission in a letter to Senator Borah.

Loesch, in a long letter reviewing attempts of Chicago gangland to control labor unions and public offices, said:

"It is my opinion based upon these facts and other indications that the combinations here now formed for getting men into public office turn very largely on the effort of the criminal organizations headed by Al Capone to control sufficient of the elected public officials, party lines not cutting much figure, to get Capone freed from the penitentiary sentences now hanging over his head, or secure reduction of the sentences."

Loesch said those who know the situation believe two-thirds of all labor unions in Chicago are controlled by or pay tribute to Al Capone's organizations.

He charged also that two "personal adherents of Al Capone" are members of the Illinois State Senate.

Zep Set for Return; Damaged in Brazil

PERNAMBUCO, March 24.—(INS.)—The Graf Zeppelin, veteran sky traveler, today was being groomed for a return trip to Friedrichshafen, Germany, on which she is scheduled to take off tomorrow. The giant ship was damaged slightly last night as she was swept against her mooring mast by a sudden blast of wind.

In arriving here yesterday the Graf completed the first trip of the world's first regular transoceanic air passenger and mail service.

High Court Delays Talbot Act Decision

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today concluded its spring session here, without handing down a decision on the constitutionality of the Talbot act, which appropriates $10,000,000 for unemployment relief.

The earliest date for a possible decision in the case is April 7, when the court will hold a one-day's special session in Philadelphia. The regular session will open April 11.

Baby Burns to Death In Pyre Brother Made

ALBERT SWINER, 3 . . . . CHILD-LIKE, HE PLAYED WITH FIRE

Misunderstanding Albert, 2329 Penn avenue, who, police say, lit a stick in an open grate and poked it playfully into the bedclothing of gleeful Dolores, 14 months, his sister, quickly turning the cot into a flaming mantle of death. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Boy, 3, Pokes Burning Stick Into Bedding, Starts Blaze

As she cooed and wriggled her tiny fingers with glee with the "new game," 14-month-old Dolores Swiner, according to police, was burned to death at the hands of her little brother, Albert, 3, in their sleeping room on the second floor of 2329 Penn avenue, shortly before noon today.

An open coal grate and ashes scattered across the floor to the charred baby's bed told the story.

Left alone in the room while Mrs. Catherine Brooks, Negro, who has been caring for the children for the last week, went to the drug store for medicine, Albert started poking a burning stick into the bed clothing, turning them into his sister's flaming death mantle, police reported.

Albert, police said, told them:

"I was playing fireman and was trying to scare my sister. I burned her with a stick."

Vincent Demacey, living on the first floor of the building, smelled the smoke and made a futile attempt to rescue the baby.

The children's mother, Mrs. Jennie Swiner, is employed as a domestic in a Squirrel Hill home. She had not seen the babies since Tuesday, according to Mrs. Brooks. Their father lives in Chicago, Mrs. Brooks said.

Mrs. Brooks was detained at the Penn avenue police station by Lieut. Patrick Dixon for questioning.

GIRL DIVER DIES; CRIPPLED YEARS

MIAMI, Fla., March 24.—(AP.)—Anne Booker, noted diving star whose back was broken in a high dive at Vienna three years ago, died in a hospital here today.

The end came peacefully for the girl whose bravery, despite a broken back, attracted famous surgeons and bone specialists to study her case. Mother Mary Alice of St. Francis Hospital said Miss Booker died as she had faced her injuries, smiling and conscious. Mother Mary Alice said:

"She had known for two weeks the end was near. We never tried to deceive Anne as to her true condition—she was much too brave a person."

Mail Lost in Crash Of Airplane Found

WHEELING, W. Va., March 24.—A sack of mail, en route from Wichita, Kan., to Camden, N. J., lost when the Transcontinental Western Air Express crashed and was wrecked in a storm last Monday, was found floating in the Ohio River at McMechen today. Twenty of the 47 sacks have now been recovered.

Fist Fight Barely Averted As Battle Rages Over Exemptions; Chaos Grows

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The sales tax was defeated in the House this afternoon.

A motion to strike the sales tax from the billion-dollar revenue bill was adopted after a stormy session in which numerous amendments were adopted.

The vote came on a motion by Representative Doughton (Dem.), of North Carolina.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—With food, clothing and many other necessities already eliminated from the manufacturers' sales tax, the House today added further exemptions as the struggle over this provision of the new tax bill moved toward a climax.

Acting Chairman Crisp (Dem.), of Georgia, of the Ways and Means Committee, bearing the brunt of the fight, made efforts to preserve the sales tax as representatives of different sections and industries clamored for exemptions.

DECISIVE VOTE NEAR

Few of the amendments presented a real test on the sales tax provision. Both sides were confident of victory as they neared a decisive vote on striking out this entire method of raising revenue to balance the budget.

Becoming more confident of his position, Crisp forced a motion to close debate on amendments, thus paving the way for the final vote.

Among exemptions adopted were materials for the construction of ships with government-lent money, electric power used for agricultural purposes, malt syrup for making malted milk, parts for farm machinery, and crate, box and bag containers of fruits and vegetables.

Exemptions defeated included containers for fruits and vegetables, including cans, turpentine and resin and all electrical power.

GALLERIES CROWDED

A crowded gallery looked on and the air was surcharged with excitement.

A fist fight was barely averted between Representatives Blanton (Dem.) of Texas and Mapes (Rep.) of Michigan. Mapes sought information from the chair. Blanton objected and accused Mapes of making a speech and called for the regular order.

Starting from the lobby, Mapes said to Blanton:

"Come on with me."

"Fight! Fight!"

There was a general movement to follow the two.

Representative Wood (Rep.), of Indiana, and another member in the lobby stepped into the breach, but not before Blanton had threatened:

A. W. Mellon Celebrates 77th Birthday Here

Ambassador to Great Britain Andrew W. Mellon, is observing his seventy-seventh birthday today with members of his family, and will sail for London to take charge of his new post about April 1.

Mr. Mellon had intended leaving Pittsburgh last night for Washington, but on account of some pressing business matters he will not leave the city until tonight. Mr. Mellon said:

"I am going to Washington to dispose of some business before sailing for London April 1."

Ambassador Mellon's mail has been unusually heavy since coming to Pittsburgh to observe the seventy-fourth birthday of his brother, R. B. Mellon, president of the Mellon National Bank. Many well wishes have been received by both brothers.

RIVALS GLOOMY OVER OUTLOOK FOR PEACE

SHANGHAI, March 24 (AP)—The Chinese and Japanese armies went methodically about the business of grooming their trappings of war outside Shanghai today as formal peace negotiations finally got under way in the International Settlement.

China was represented by Gen. Tai Chi, Shanghai's military garrison commander, succeeding Gen. Chiang Kwang Nai, who walked out of the opening session yesterday because he could not sit as military delegate unless Japan named a high ranking general to sit opposite him.

The first session started at noon and was [illegible]. When the delegates [illegible] the British consulate both Chinese and Japanese were [illegible] but the neutral observers were in a hopeful mood.

LINES STRENGTHENED

Meanwhile the Japanese under General Yoshinori Shirakawa continued to strengthen their positions about the 12-mile ultimatum [illegible] wise the Chinese were digging in busily opposite them.

There was evidence that the negotiations were up against a stiff problem. Specifically they were trying to arrange a formal armistice providing for withdrawal of Japanese troops into the International Settlement and establishment of a neutral zone.

Chinese observers held to the belief that the Japanese would insist on a gradual withdrawal in stages with a provision that would leave their troops in the Kiangwan and Woosung sectors indefinitely.

HARBIN, March 24 (INS)—Owing to heavy pressure from Chinese troops, Japanese forces have been forced to withdraw from [illegible], Japanese military forces announced today.

Bomb Exploded in Home Of Ex-Chinese Minister

SHANGHAI, March 24 (INS)—Shanghai was plunged into temporary excitement today when a crudely-fashioned bomb exploded in the home of T. V. Soong, former Nationalist government finance minister, severely injuring the daughter of Soong's gardener.

Japan Averts Crisis; Cabinet Change Near

TOKIO, March 24 (AP)—An immediate crisis in Japan's political affairs was averted today by a compromise agreement which closed a serious gap in the higher ranks of the Seiyukai (government) party.

Premier Tsuyoshi Inukai's regime was saved by an intra-party understanding providing for reorganization of the cabinet shortly with Kisaburo Suzuki in the post of home minister, a key position.

The special session of the Diet to approve the gold embargo and appropriate money for the Manchurian and Shanghai campaigns will end formally tomorrow without a voice being raised against the general principles of operations abroad.

Chinese Heads Deny Executing Col. Ken

NANKING, China, March 24 (AP)—Chinese officials today denied a report that Col. Wang Ken, an army officer who was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1918, had been executed on a charge of giving military information to the enemy.

The young colonel figured in a sensational incident in Shanghai last month when he was arrested by the Japanese in the lobby of the Astor House Hotel in the International Settlement. He was released a day or so later and turned over to Chinese authorities, who said today that he was still in confinement.

Woman Menacing Borotra to Go Free

NEW YORK, March 24 (INS)—Mrs. Dorothy A. Cutler, 33, was to be released from an observation ward of Bellevue Hospital today after she declared she meant no harm when her behavior caused an uproar at the indoor international tennis matches.

Jean Borotra, French tennis star, made no charges against her, nor did the police, after she was seized while brandishing a paper cutter during the match, seemingly directing a verbal onslaught against the Frenchman.

TWO CRIMES LINKED

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., March 24 (AP)—Kansas City detectives seeking Martin Depew in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Nell Donnelly in Kansas City last December, today said they had information which indicated connections between the Donnelly case and the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Detectives Robert Cole and Joseph Brennan have been working in Pennsylvania for several months tracing all clues regarding Depew, whose wife is detained at Kansas City after being arrested here. Brennan said:

"We have information that will be more than a blind lead. But it may be a couple of days before we get to Trenton with it."

Brennan and Cole left here today for New Jersey, where they expected to continue their investigation in Newark before going to Trenton to confer with Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, in charge of the Lindbergh case. They said they are concentrating on the hunt for Martin Depew, who they believe is connected with an eastern gang of kidnapers.

WILL CONTINUE HUNT

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—H. Wallace Caldwell, member and former president of the Board of Education, upon returning home from the east last night, said he would continue his private investigation into the kidnaping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., in Chicago and was hopeful the outcome would be "satisfactory."

He declined to say what information he had but declared it was considered important by "the officials." He admitted spending three days and several evenings on the estate of Col. Lindbergh at Hopewell but said he was told by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf that "the less said of your visit and information the better."

Income Tax Receipts Still Decreasing

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Income tax receipts on March 22 amounted to $5,848,933 as compared to $8,337,875 for the similar date a year ago. The collections brought the total for the month to $184,416,406. They were $271,373,166 for the same number of days a year ago.

For the fiscal year they were $842,537,388 against $1,492,804,190 for the same period a year ago. The decrease in income tax allowed the government's deficit to climb to $1,829,082,797.

GIRL MISSING, RANSOM ASKED

LINCOLN, Neb., March 24 (AP)—Miss Laurel Morrison, 30, Aurora, Neb., beauty parlor operator, was missing today and the police expressed belief she has been kidnaped for $1,000 ransom.

A letter demanding that amount was received at Aurora yesterday by Miss Morrison's partner in business, but while neither its contents nor the address on the envelope were in the missing woman's handwriting, the writer explained the substance was "dictated" by another individual.

Following receipt of the message, which was mailed at Lincoln yesterday afternoon and instructed that the money be mailed to Miss Morrison in care of the Lincoln general delivery, the authorities instituted search for the woman under direction of Sheriff J. J. Mohr at the request of her father, Robert Morrison, wealthy Central City farmer.

Kentucky Legion Warns 'Red' Students

PINEVILLE, Ky., March 24 (INS)—The American Legion today added its warning to a delegation of eastern students en route here that Communistic activities must be banned on their visit. If the students prove to be reds, the legion here will take full charge, the post commander announced.

FAME WRECKS ANN HARDING'S MARRIAGE

International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—Fame today had wrecked the home of the film colony's "most ideally married couple," Ann Harding, the wealthy film actress, and her husband, Harry Bannister, screen and stage actor.

In an announcement that made Hollywood gasp, Miss Harding and Bannister revealed that they had separated and that divorce proceedings would be instituted immediately.

The couple admitted they still loved one another deeply but that each had tired of having Bannister's identity cloaked under the tag of "Ann Harding's husband."

Happily married, Bannister was being shunted into obscurity under the radiance of his actress wife until their position became untenable.

ANN EXPLAINS

Signing her name "Ann Harding Bannister" to a letter to the press, the actress declared:

"Due to Harry's constant and generous effort to forward my interests, often at the expense of his own, he is gradually losing his identity, becoming a background for my activities, and looked upon as 'Ann Harding's husband.'

"We have decided that the only way for Harry to re-establish himself in his profession is to cut the Gordian knot, to set forth on his own, quite apart from me, and win his way back to the standing he enjoyed in the theater before this unfortunate situation in pictures has a chance to reach us and destroy the love and respect we have for each other."

BANNISTER BRIEF

Bannister's statement was more brief. It read:

"During the five and a half years I have been married to Ann Harding, I have had the love, respect and devotion of the very great and lovely person who is my wife.

"Therefore, in order to preserve this in its entirety, we find the apparently drastic course of divorce the quickest and best solution to our eventual complete happiness. There is nothing further that I can add to Mrs. Bannister's statement."

Tiring of playing only "bits" in pictures, Bannister recently at his request obtained a release from his studio contract which called for a salary of $75,000 a year. He will free lance in more important roles and hopes to leave soon for New York to appear again on the stage.

CLEVER ACTOR

Bannister is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is tall and handsome, a clever actor. Miss Harding is a graduate of Bryn Mawr, was with the Provincetown Players, and headed a stock company in 1927 in Detroit when she met Bannister. They were married in New York that year. She was with the George Sharpe Players in Pittsburgh.

Their daughter, Jane, was born in Pittsburgh in June, 1928, while Ann was playing in a summer stock company at the Nixon Theater there. Coming west, Miss Harding and Bannister each had screen tests, and their film careers began in April, 1929—just three years ago.

'WAR' CRY IN IRISH CRISIS

that Britain has served formal notice it will not consent to De Valera's proposals.

MAY DISSOLVE DIAL

Well-informed Irish circles are discussing reports that De Valera is seriously considering exercising his prerogative and asking the governor general to dissolve the Dial and call a special election for April in the hope of obtaining a clear majority for his Fianna Fail party.

This would give him a clear mandate from the people, authorizing him to repudiate the Anglo-Irish treaty and cast the die for complete Irish independence.

The Irish government stated that the text of the British note would not be made public "for the present," and denied a rumor that President De Valera would go to London personally to discuss the situation with Prime Minister MacDonald.

COSGROVE FOR TREATY

William T. Cosgrave, former president of the executive council, was asked by International News Service today whether he would oppose the bill abolishing the oath when it is introduced in the Dail Eireann. He said:

"My party has always stood by the treaty. We are unlikely to change our views now. There will be time to discuss it when the Dail meets."

Although the Laborites, who hold the balance of power in the Dail, have not given their unqualified approval to De Valera's plan, actual legislation is not necessary to carry out the scheme, as the land annuities can be withheld by orders in council.

Britain to Stand By Policy in India

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—Great Britain intends to proceed without deviation with its program for India, Sir Samuel Hoare told the House of Commons today, and will not be deflected from it "by threats of force or sudden alarm."

HARRY BANNISTER

SENATE GROUP FOR BEER BILL

WASHINGTON, March 24 (INS)—Although doomed to defeat in the Senate the Bingham 4 per cent beer bill appeared today almost certain of receiving indorsement of the Manufactures Committee as a result of an informal poll. The poll showed 7 favorable and 6 against.

The committee is expected to report the bill favorably next week, when Senator La Follette (Rep.), of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee, returns from his home state.

The informal poll showed the following in favor of the beer bill: La Follette, Metcalf (Rep.), of Rhode Island; Davis (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, Wheeler (Dem.), of Montana, Bulkley (Dem.), of Ohio; Cutting (Dem.), of New Mexico, and Long (Dem.), of Louisiana.

Senator Davis also is listed among 25 Senators who have signed a petition urging a vote on the proposed amendment repealing the prohibition law.

Roosevelt Opposes Murray in W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 24 (AP)—The certificate of candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the Democratic presidential nomination in West Virginia preferential primary was filed today with the Secretary of State.

He will oppose Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, of Oklahoma, who already has filed. Delegates to national conventions are not bound by the results of a preferential primary in this state.

GEORGIA VOTES HEAVILY FOR ROOSEVELT

N. Y. Governor's Popularity In Adopted State Scores In First Test in South

International News Service

Latest figures in yesterday's election gave New York's chief executive a preponderant majority over his opponent, Judge G. H. Howard, and virtually assured Roosevelt the state's 28 votes in the presidential convention at Chicago.

In the popular vote Gov. Roosevelt held almost a 10-to-1 lead over Judge Howard, who voluntarily advocated the nomination of Speaker John N. Garner, of Texas. The count stood: Roosevelt 51,498; Howard 5,541.

Of the 410 county unit votes, Gov. Roosevelt had amassed 398, with five counties still to be tabulated. Up to that point in the tally Judge Howard had not gained a single county unit vote.

Political observers here credited Roosevelt's personal popularity in Georgia with a large share of responsibility for the victory. The New York Democrat made many friends on his various visits to this state.

Speaker Garner's name was not entered on the primary ballot, but Judge Howard, who sits on the Fulton County bench, had volunteered to throw his 28 state delegates to the support of the movement for Garner's nomination, should he have won the primary.

Smith Forces Enter California Fight

Following announcement from Sacramento that the Smith ticket had qualified for a place on the May 3 primary ballot, organization of forces supporting the 1928 Democratic nominee were completed at a meeting here last night.

A. B. Redding, of Berkeley, was placed in charge of activities in the Bay region, and it was announced campaign headquarters will be opened in San Francisco.

The two other Democratic presidential candidates in California are John N. Garner and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Henry M. McPike, Garner chairman for Northern California, said he welcomed the third candidate. He declared:

"The Smith ticket will not hurt us, but will cut into the Roosevelt vote and assure our election."

Dakota Delegates Claimed for Hoover

BISMARCK, N. D., March 24 (AP)—James Morris, state attorney general, in an informal ruling today, said he believed nine of the 11 North Dakota delegates to the Republican national convention elected in the March 15 primary are bound to President Hoover.

United States Senator Lynn J. Frazier (Rep.), of North Dakota, in a statement at Washington last Saturday had asserted that this state's Republican delegates must support J. I. France, of Maryland, who won the presidential preference vote in the primary. Senator Frazier said the result of preference vote is mandatory upon all the delegates.

Attorney General Morris, commenting today on the Frazier statement, said he saw nothing in the preference law that would in any way bind the Hoover delegates to France.

Foil Plot to Kidnap Child of Portes Gil

MEXICO CITY, March 24 (INS)—A plot to kidnap Rosalvo Portes Gil, 4-year-old daughter of former President Emilio Portes Gil, of Mexico, became known today.

The kidnapers, suspected of being political enemies of the former chief executive, were thwarted when friends of Portes Gil learned of the plot.

Campus Fight Victim Near Death, Murder Case Looms

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 24 (INS)—Doctors battled today to save the life of Frank Luckey, one of three engineering students shot in a campus feud over the prankish kidnaping of Mary Louise Butterfield, pretty University of Missouri co-ed.

Blood transfusions were necessary to stave off death, physicians announced, but the danger of peritonitis lingered and rendered Luckey's condition extremely grave.

Meanwhile, Burnis Frederick, accused of wielding the revolver, was free on $1,000 bonds under charges of carrying a concealed weapon. Arraigned before Justice W. H. Tandy last night, Frederick, a law student, pleaded not guilty through his attorney.

Frederick was injured during the campus fracas Tuesday night which followed the shooting of Luckey, Charles Love and Jerry F. Cebe. Love and Cebe were not seriously wounded. Frederick's head injury, received in an alleged beating, was found to be minor after a medical examination.

A double investigation of the entire episode was under way today. President Walter Williams directed the university's inquiry and issued a statement warning against student lawlessness. County Prosecutor Franklin Reagan said murder charges will be filed against Frederick if Luckey dies.

The campus war between the embryo engineers and lawyers broke out when law students last Saturday night kidnaped Miss Butterfield and did not return her until it was too late to crown the co-ed "St. Pat's Queen" at the engineers' annual ball.

FINAL CURTAIN BELIEVED NEAR FOR METROPOLITAN OPERA

RADIO CITY MAY DIM 'GOLDEN HORSESHOE'

Greatest Social Grandstand On Brink of Ruin After Fifty Years of Glory

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service

NEW YORK, March 24.—The drums were muffled and the "Diamond Horseshoe"—America's greatest social grandstand—glowed but dimly.

The exclusive corporation is "broke."

Whether it will sink into oblivion after 50 glorious golden years or whether New York will have its songbirds and pageantry next season dangles precariously upon the heroic reorganization plans underway by the board of directors.

SEEK MORE MEMBERS

When the famous curtain drops on the season week after next the company's capital of $550,000 along with most of its reserve funds, will be wiped out.

In an effort to continue existence, the restricted membership will be broadened. The Metropolitan Opera Company, a stock corporation, has been converted into a membership corporation, the Metropolitan Opera Association. This will pay the way for admission of new members merely by election.

Other drastic changes reported under consideration included:

2—Shortening the season.

3—Drawing up of more favorable contracts with artists, musicians and stage workers.

AIM TO CUT EXPENSES

Paul D. Cravath, chairman of the board, said:

"An earnest effort will be made to secure such co-operation on the part of all concerned in the continuation of opera, in working out a plan for such reduction in expenses and other measures as will be necessary to make it possible to present Metropolitan opera in New York next winter."

There have been only two winters in the past 50 years when New York did not have its opera.

Fire destroyed the interior of the opera house in 1892.

CAROL, RIOTERS HOLD PARLEY

VIENNA, March 24.—(AP.)—Reliable reports reaching here today said that serious student disorders had occurred in Rumania and it was definitely known that King Carol had consented to receive a delegation of university students to hear their grievances.

As details of the disorders were received here, it was known that uprisings occurred both at Bucharest and at Jassy, and that several border points were affected.

At Bucharest the students tried to rush the royal palace, but they were turned away and concentrated their violence on the Senate building.

The university group at Jassy attacked a group of officers, two of whom were severely injured. Members of the Right radical group were reported to have stormed a synagogue at Jassy.

The gendarmes lowered their bayonets and fixed blanks, and the student replied with a pistol volley from barricaded dormitories. Many were injured.

Helen Keller Gains, Operation Delayed

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—Miss Helen Keller, suffering from an illness it was feared might necessitate an operation, was reported "quite a little bit brighter" today by her secretary, Miss Polly Thomson.

Physicians said it was not necessary to remove Miss Keller, who has been blind and deaf since birth, from her home in Forest Hills to a hospital at present.

Arrest of Leaders Balks Cuban Strike

HAVANA, March 24.—(AP.)—The general strike called by various labor leaders for today to go into effect at midnight did not materialize at that hour. Street cars were running and the city appeared normal.

Authorities said the arrest of 100 or more radical leaders in recent weeks had effectually nipped the walkout.

$200,000 ASKED TO AID STORM SUFFERERS

Toll in South Mounts to 358; Red Cross, Legion Give Aid to Survivors

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 24.—(AP.)—Relief agencies and neighbors of the stricken lent a hand of mercy to the South's tornado victims today as the death list grew to 358.

Survivors worked with the American Red Cross, the American Legion and other organizations to bury the dead, care for the injured, house the homeless and launch a program to rehabilitate the devastated regions.

APPEAL FOR $200,000

Field representatives pushed into the less accessible communities dashed flat by the freakish winds of Monday night to survey damage and determine the amount of aid needed. An appeal for contributions was broadcast here last night after relief workers conferred and estimated from $150,000 to $200,000 would be required for immediate needs of the storm victims.

Today the death list by states showed: Alabama 298, Georgia 37, Tennessee 18, South Carolina 3, and Kentucky 2.

Gov. B. M. Miller of Alabama began a personal survey of the tornado-swept regions of his state and Gov. Richard B. Russell, Jr., assured Stone J. Crane, general field representative of the Red Cross, who has begun organization of relief work in Georgia, of full co-operation in that state.

'WORST DESTRUCTION'

While some of the rescue workers searched wreckage for additional dead today, others turned to with survivors and neighbors of victims in the repair and reconstruction of homes. Hospitalization of the injured continued and cots, blankets, tents, food and clothing were distributed.

Col. Sumter Smith, of the Alabama National Guard, made an aerial reconnaissance of a portion of the storm-struck county and said it looked as though a titanic drag had been lowered to the ground to sweep it clean. He said:

He told of fields littered with debris, houses torn to splinters and forests that were a mass of broken tree trunks and branches.

PLAN AIR 'WAR' IN MINE STRIKE

ATHENS, O., March 24.—(INS.)—Airplanes may be called into use, if further disorders occur in Ohio's strike-ridden coal fields, it was indicated today.

With tension increasing and the strike spreading to the eastern section of the state, Adjt. Gen. Frank D. Henderson and Capt. Fred L. Smith, state aeronautics director, were in Athens today for the purpose of locating emergency landing fields near coal mines. Airplanes will be employed for observation and transportation of supplies for National Guardsmen, the officers said, in the event martial law is proclaimed.

The ranks of the strikers were swelled by the walkout of more than 1,000 men in Eastern Ohio bituminous fields. The walkout was in sympathy with the strike in the southern fields.

The latest disturbance consisted of a machine gun and rifle battle between a National Guardsman and a mysterious sniper.

Actress Gets Term As Reckless Driver

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—(AP.)—Mary Finch, film actress, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for reckless driving by Superior Judge Irvin Taplin yesterday. She was allowed until today to adjust her affairs before beginning the term.

Miss Finch's car struck an automobile driven by Don Gregory. She was pursued and arrested by policemen, who accused her of drunken driving, a felony. She was allowed to plead guilty to reckless driving.

Kin of Stotesbury, Phila. Deb, to Wed

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 24.—(AP.)—Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia, announced the engagement of her granddaughter, Miss Louise Brooks, to William Ross Howard III, of Baltimore.

The couple arrived here last week to be guests of the Stotesburys. Miss Brooks is one of the most popular debutantes of the season. Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross Howard, prominent in Baltimore society.

Los Angeles Leaves On Training Flight

LAKEHURST, N. J., March 24.—(INS.)—The dirigible Los Angeles left the naval air station today for a training flight over Trenton, N. J., Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del., Cape May and the New Jersey coast. Fifty-nine officers, men and passengers were aboard.

TIN PAN ALLEY SEIZES HOOVER SONG IDEA

President's Hint to Vallee To Croon for Prosperity Spurs N. Y. Piano Beaters

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—All Rudy Vallee has to do to make a name for himself—again—is to write a theme song for prosperity.

President Hoover handed the megaphone maestro the assignment yesterday when Vallee called at the White House to pay his respects. Rudy said:

"Mr. Hoover smilingly told me that if I could sing a song that would make people forget their troubles, he would give me a medal."

The idea of a serenade to the goddess of plenty—Cornucopia, Here We Come—was a title one songwriter thought up—bounded around Tin Pan alley today like a ball on a roulette wheel looking for a good number to land on.

FIRST INSPIRATION

One of the more talkative, if possible, piano-punishers broke into a cold sweat at what he frankly confessed was the first inspiration he has had since he did that smash "Ducky-Wucky Don't Youse Leave Me No More." Fumbling for a handkerchief he came up with the laundry bill.

The more mature minds among the music makers, however, mulled the matter. They recognized the task would be no light one. Finding rhymes for "moon" and "love" is a simple matter. A rhyme for "Reconstruction Finance Corporation" is not so easy.

But Tin Pan Alley is not a thoroughfare to curl up. It began casting about today for lyrics that would definitely launch America down the way of happiness.

OUTBREAK OF LYRICS

Prosperity lyrics suddenly were thicker than Mississippi mud. A tune tinker who had been at work on a "wow" titled "With You, Dear Elaine, in Spain in the Rain," tore it up and began humming madly:

"Do not say you can't afford it!

A companion in chromatic crime said:

"That's terrible. Listen to this:
"Oh, it's just around the corner,
Bay-bee
Prosperity, and I ain't meanin' may-bee."

Another juggernaut of jazz shouted:

"From Maine to Alabamy
Ev'ry uncle, aunt and mammy,
Ev'ry trade, ev'ry profession
Hollers, 'Down with the depression!'"

Thus it went! The idea was at work in Tin Pan Alley, biting this songwriter and that. About all they needed were four more lines and then a smash finale to give the tenors their chance.

Rosa Ponselle Confesses She Wants Mate

SINGER ROSA PONSELLE, 34

Has Career, Must Have Husband, Singer Says.

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—Rosa Ponselle, 34-year-old prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is seeking the missing link in the charmed chain of her life—a husband.

Her glamorous dramatic soprano voice has brought her international fame. Her wealth includes a pent house overlooking the Hudson, a villa in Switzerland, swift motor cars, beautiful clothes, travel. Her Latin charm and exotic beauty have brought her many admirers, but no answer to her prayer for a husband.

She said today:

"All my girlhood was a battle between career and marriage. I have the career; I must now have a husband. If the right man came along, I wouldn't hesitate a moment."

For the past 13 years Ponselle has sung with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She has been singing in public ever since she was five years old. She couldn't stop now and she doesn't want to. She explained:

"If he were the right man, you see, I wouldn't have to give up my career entirely. But I would want to be able to stay in one place long enough to maintain a home for him and raise children."

The two greatest thrills in Ponselle's life, she said today, were singing and pretending she was the mother of the neighbor's baby when she was a little girl.

Ponselle's idea of a husband is someone tall and blond, serious-minded and wholesome. She doesn't want a mollycoddle or a man so poor she will have to buy his neckties. Most of all he must be understanding.

PASTOR IN LOVE RULED INSANE

HARRISBURG, Ill., March 24.—(INS.)—The Rev. Lester O. Beers, former pastor of the fashionable Signal Hill Methodist Church at Belleville, Ill., declared insane by a jury of six men in the County Court here today, was confined in the State Asylum at Anna for observation and treatment.

Beers freely admitted a love affair with Miss Erena Weil, 17-year-old Belleville girl, who had come to him for spiritual advice.

On the stand he denied insanity and cited Scripture to justify his affair.

Appealed to when members of the pastor's family suspected him, Dr. Whitlock and Dr. W. E. Williams, Cartier Mills dentist and son-in-law of the pastor, conducted an investigation which resulted in the disclosure of Beers' trips to Missouri and Kansas with the girl as his companion, gifts of jewelry which he had given her and letters she had written him addressed to "Big Boy" and signed "Sugar."

Unperturbed by the jury verdict, he declared that he loved Miss Weil better than anything in the world.

He also loves his wife, the mother of his two sons and a daughter, he said, but stated:

"It is a different kind of love that I can't explain."

Inquest in Death Of Indian Author

ARCADIA, Cal., March 24.—(AP.)—A coroner's inquest was to be held today to investigate the supposed suicide of Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, Indian author and former Carlisle athlete.

His body was found last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Anita Baldwin McLaughery, where he was a guest, with a bullet wound in the head and pistol clasped in the hand.

HOLY THURSDAY OBSERVED IN ROME

Many Pilgrims, Including Americans, Attend Church Of St. John Lateran

ROME, March 24.—(AP.)—The bells of Rome's 400 churches heralded Holy or Maundy Thursday today, the anniversary of Christ's institution of the Eucharist, then became silent to remain mute until Saturday noon. Rome has begun to mourn the passion and the crucifixion.

Thousands of pilgrims including many Americans in Rome for Easter, went to Rome's cathedral church of St. John Lateran to venerate the table exhibited as the one used for the Last Supper.

The pilgrims saw two skulls accepted as St. Peter's and St. Paul's, viewed a portion of the pillar known as the one at which Christ was scourged, and looked upon a part of the sponge said to have been lifted to Christ's lips when He said:

"I thirst."

Many churches repeated Christ's washing of the Apostles' feet, priests washing the feet of 12 selected poor men, to whom afterward money and food were given.

Pope Pius attended mass this morning in the Pauline Chapel. In Vatican City the principal ceremony was in St. Peter's, conducted by Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state and high priest of the Basilica. The Sistine Choir sang the "Gloria in Excelsis," while St. Peter's newly-electrified bells rang out.

King George Gives Holy Thursday Dole

LONDON, March 24.—(AP.)—For the first time in more than 200 years the King of England today distributed in person the traditional royal maundy (Holy) Thursday pence to the poor persons at Westminster Abbey.

James II was the last English sovereign personally to perform this office. Each of 67 men and 67 women received 67 pence today, as many as there are years in King George's age. Queen Mary accompanied the King.

The Maundy ceremonies are a survival of the ceremony of the washing of the feet of 12 poor men which used to be done by an English sovereign in commemoration of the washing of the Apostles' feet.

DEPUTY DENIES FIRING IN RIOT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 24.—Parker Claybaugh, mine guard, one of nine charged with murder of Mike Philipovich, in the Arnold mine strike riot last June, first defense witness today, testified that between 12 and 15 shots were fired by strikers during the fighting. The shots followed sticks, stones and other missiles hurled by strikers. Claybaugh said he did not fire a shot, although he was armed.

Shots which he claimed came from within the Philipovich store and from the rear whistled close to his head. He took refuge in a gutter. He said he did not see an officer fire a shot. Claybaugh testified Gallo, a state witness, hurled several bricks aimed at Guards Ingram and Yoder.

In the exhibits offered by the commonwealth, no shotgun, such as alleged to have been used in the killing, was produced. Efforts to have the weapons taken from the eight deputies submitted as evidence failed when no one was present to identify them. Testimony in the case will not close until Saturday.

Holds Raquel Torres 'Just Fair' Singer

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—(AP.)—Raquel Torres, screen actress, was rated "just fair" as a singer by a vocal teacher in Small Claims Court here. The teacher, L. A. Lambert, was awarded $20 from Miss Torres for singing lessons when the actress did not appear.

Judge Robert W. Kenny asked:

"Is she a good singer?"

"Oh, just fair."

Lambert replied.

Chicago Lacks Law In Ban on Nudists

CHICAGO, March 24.—(AP.)—Now that Mayor Cermak has turned a cold shoulder to the idea of Chicago having a stockade for nude bathers who pleaded for the privilege in the name of ultraviolet rays, someone has discovered that the city hasn't any bathing ordinance at all.

HOOVER WARNS UNION RACKET GANGSTERS

Anti-Injunction Bill Will Not Protect Strong-Arm Methods, Statement Says

International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 24—Racketeers who have been amassing fortunes in the big cities by exacting tribute from union and non-union working men alike were on official notice from the White House today that they cannot look to the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act for comfort in protecting their strong-arm tactics.

President Hoover, in signing the measure for which organized labor has fought so long, last night issued simultaneously an opinion from Attorney General Mitchell which declared specifically that the Department of Justice intended to proceed as in the past so far as the racketeers are concerned.

LIMITS INJUNCTIONS

The Norris-LaGuardia bill limits the power of the courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes and outlaws the so-called "yellow dog" contracts whereby employers have been getting agreements from employes not to join labor unions.

Mitchell advised the President to sign the measure although he said that the "yellow dog" provision and certain other sections were so debatable as to constitutionality that judicial decision probably would be necessary for final settlement.

MOBSTERS WARNED

But on the score of the mobsters who are terrorizing working men into joining "unions" of their own creation, the Attorney General had this to say:

"It is inconceivable that Congress could have intended to protect racketeering and extortion under the guises of labor organization activity, and the anti-trust division of this department, having carefully considered the measure, has concluded that it does not prevent the maintenance by the United States of suits to enjoin unlawful conspiracies or combinations under the anti-trust laws to outlaw legitimate articles of Interstate Commerce. It does not purport to permit interference by violence with workmen who wish to maintain their employment, and fairly construed, it does not protect such interference by threats of violence or that sort of intimidation which creates fears of violence."

Pianist Award Determined by Lot

WARSAW, Poland, March 24—(AP)—Two young pianists, one of them blind, played so brilliantly in the quintennial Chopin musical competition here during the past two weeks that the judges were unable to choose between them and the winner was decided by lot. Alexander Uninskii, 22, a Russian emigre living in Paris, won the draw from Imre Ungar, 22, a blind Hungarian. Eighteen countries were represented, including the United States, whose entry was Salvatore Sullo.

Berlin Bank Closes, Kreuger Aftermath

BERLIN, March 24—(AP)—Reaction to the recent suicide in Paris of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish industrialist, was seen today in the suspension of the Industrie and Privatbank, which is owned by the extensive Michael interests.

The suspension was attributed to a frozen condition of Berlin real estate and a drop in the prices of securities.

BELL ON TRIAL IN SHAKEDOWN

ERIE, Pa., March 24—(AP)—A jury was drawn late yesterday for the trial of Anthony W. Bell, former Fayette County detective, and three companions on charges of impersonating federal officers. The trial starts today in Federal Court.

Bell, who recently confessed a part in the murder of Constable John Donahoe near Uniontown, Pa., in 1929, and Joseph Dawson, who told Buffalo authorities Bell's confession was made for spite, were brought from Buffalo by United States deputy marshals.

Frank Barrhanowicz and Glenn Allum, named in the same indictment, were brought from Pittsburgh for trial.

The indictment against the four charges they posed as prohibition agents and extorted $100 from Frank Pawloski, $40 from Mrs. Anna Weber and $25 from Stanley Pawloski, all of Westmoreland County, and attempted to extort money from Pete Festa of Parnassus.

Airplanes Used In New Gold Rush

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 24—(INS)—Lured by stories of vast wealth to be found in mineral deposits on Great Bear Lake, the world's first great airplane mining rush was under way today along the uncharted air trails across the snowy wastes of the great Northwest. Already Harry W. Hayter, 33, intrepid flier, was winging his way in short dashes to the area where reports of radium strikes and gold finds circulate.

MORGAN TELLS OF 'BLOCK-AID' RELIEF PLAN

Financier in First Radio Talk Stresses Giving Small Sums to Assist Neighbors

For 15 minutes the 64 year old financier described over a nation wide hookup a unique relief plan which he said he "fully expected will prove in large measure to be the much desired solution of the most pressing problem of our country today." He declared:

"We have reached a point where the aid of governments or the gifts of individuals, no matter how generous, are insufficient to meet the conditions which have come upon us."

In calling upon everyone to "do his bit" Morgan said:

"I must remind you that many people are too proud and too brave to reveal their necessities to charitable organizations or to state and city relief agencies. These people suffer in silence, often they suffer until parents and children are seriously ill."

The plan he outlined he said would also go far toward solving that problem. It is the "block-aid plan" under the general direction of the emergency unemployment relief committee, which Morgan said has raised and is now distributing over $18,000,000 for relief.

The financier told how 10 block-aiders in each of New York City's 16,000 blocks will start out Monday on a canvass of their sections seeking out those who need relief and asking contributions from others.

The first radio speech of J. P. Morgan was heard in this district through the facilities of WCAE, which changed its program schedule late yesterday afternoon when notified that the financier would be speaking over the red network of the NBC. Previously the address was scheduled for only the blue chain, but the additional hookup was decided on because of the importance of the speaker and his subject.

6 HELD IN PARTY GUEST'S DEATH

South Side police today were holding four men and two women for questioning in connection with the death of Adolph Rottgar, 52, of 2617 Sarah street, Tuesday. Rottgar died from a fractured skull in the South Side Hospital.

Those held, police said, were David Tucker, 38, and Richard Harris, of 3006 Carey way; Thomas McHue, 56, of 405 Ariston street, and Betty Mitchell, 22; Lillian Oehling, 35, and Nick Kasnovich, 49, all of 2708 Arlington avenue.

The women, according to police, reported Rottgar was thrown out of a house at the Carey way address during a party Sunday. Rottgar was found unconscious near his home.

Communion Given Manuel by Pope

Train Held While Engineer Helps Fight Fire

STODDARD, Wis., March 24—(AP)—Old No. 12 on the La Crosse and Southern was late and the passengers were peeved.

But they got over it when they learned what happened.

Mrs. Ellen Joseph's home was on fire. The fire department was handicapped because it's hand pump was frozen, so the train engineer stopped and solved the problem by thawing it out with live steam.

Patten, Wheat King's Son, Retires at 36

CHICAGO, March 24—(AP)—At 36, John I. Patten, son of the late James A. Patten, the "wheat king," is retiring from business. He sold his membership on the Board of Trade yesterday.

Patten bought an estate at Miami Beach, Fla., last November and said he intended to go there and do a lot of sailing. He owns several boats.

STIMSON FIRM ON NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, March 24—(INS)—Secretary of State Stimson today was believed to have put a stopper in the jug of home brew politics in Nicaragua which he said might upset the present political tranquility there.

At the same time he served practical notice that the United States Marines will be withdrawn from Nicaragua at the end of the present year, regardless of the outcome of the presidential elections to be held there in November.

Stimson said "no" in 700 words in reply to a proposal by President Jose Moncada for constitutional reform in Nicaragua, which Stimson anticipated might require an extension of the Marines' stay in the Central American republic.

Warning Issued Against Flood of Bogus Cash

NEW YORK, March 24—(INS)—Warning was issued to the general public today to be on the lookout for counterfeit money.

Banks in New York City have been finding a large number of fake 10 dollar Federal Reserve notes in their cash drawers and the warning was the result.

United States secret service men are said to have rounded up a score of suspects.

20 Farrell Mills To Resume April 4

SHARON, Pa., March 24—(AP)—Twenty mills at the Farrell plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will resume operation April 4. Approximately 1,800 men will return to work. The plant has been closed since January 8.

DUCE PLEDGES BETTER TIMES

ROME, March 24—(AP)—Premier Mussolini has made a solemn promise to Italy. Here it is, given on the thirteenth anniversary of the birth of his Fascist party:

"The north wind is blowing, but now it is spring. Five months ago I told you this would be a hard winter, but we would live through it. From now on I will be thinking of next winter.

"I tell you—and you know I keep my promises—that next winter there will be more work and more help for all the people of Italy. The watchword will be 'durade' (carry on)."

BODY OF AGED SUICIDE FOUND

The body of Patrick McKeown, 86, of 221 Third street, Braddock, who bowed in prayer for a few minutes and then leaped to his death from the West Braddock Bridge into the Monongahela River yesterday morning was recovered from the stream several hours later, according to police.

Braddock police started in a rowboat in an effort to rescue the aged man, but he sank before they could reach him. Later, the body was found floating near Brown's Bridge by Michael Parrat, of 2304 Manor avenue, Swissvale, who towed it ashore with a skiff.

At the morgue the body was identified by Peter McKeown, a son. He told Deputy Coroners Mullen, Jackson and John McQuaid that his father had been ill.

When you count your money in advance

Don't forget the dentist. Particularly if you have not been protecting your teeth against pyorrhea

So much for rent, for food, for clothes, for recreation. Perhaps you had better count out something for the dentist, too. Your teeth are in perfect condition, you say. That's fine, if you're sure. Perhaps you had better see your dentist twice a year anyway. Then you will be sure.

Do you know that half the adult teeth lost are due to pyorrhea? Do you know that pyorrhea may be undermining your teeth for five or ten years, even longer, and you may not realize it? Do you know that four out of five people past the age of forty are finally forced to realize the presence of pyorrhea—when it starts to take their teeth? All facts, nevertheless.

Why not face this pyorrhea business frankly? There is no use in putting off the dentist until you think you need him. Visit him twice a year and make a point of it. That is prevention—and sensible prevention, too. There is no use in making believe that white, shining, "clean" teeth are either safe or sound. Nobody believes that any more. The gums must be considered as well. Forhan's Toothpaste is the double-duty toothpaste that does both halves of the job. Originated by Dr. R. J. Forhan, for 26 years a pyorrhea specialist. Save pain, expense and humiliation. Start the whole family today with the big brown tube of Forhan's. All druggists.

PLAN FUNERALS FOR STUDENTS DEAD IN CRASH

2 Princeton Youths Killed, Three From Pittsburgh Hurt as Cars Collide

The bodies of Francis Trimble, 7152 Brighton road, Ben Avon, and William H. Zink, Jr., of Steubenville, Princeton sophomores killed late yesterday near Easton in an automobile crash, were being returned to their homes for burial today.

Three other Pittsburgh students were injured in the collision on the Freemansburg-Easton highway. The car in which they were returning here for the Easter holidays struck another machine.

BACK BROKEN

The injured are E. Bruce Hill of 5505 Hampton road, in a critical condition in St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, with a broken back; N. A. Coyle of 6603 Beacon street, in the Easton Hospital with internal injuries, and Burton Dunn [illegible] whose injuries were slight.

[illegible] of Easton was driving [illegible] at the [illegible] machine [illegible] the other [illegible] of the [illegible] Dunn [illegible] Easton [illegible] pending action by the Coroner.

COUSIN OF STAR

Trimble [illegible] Mrs. F. H. Trimble [illegible] his mother and [illegible]. He was a cousin of Robert M. Trimble, Princeton football star, who graduated in 1930. Trimble was graduated at Shady Side Academy. Zink was the son of William H. Zink, a furniture dealer in Steubenville.

Coyle is the son of Robert A. Coyle, Jr., a Pittsburgh real estate man.

Committee Approves Shoals Lease Bill

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—The House Military Committee today approved the James Bill providing for the disposal of Muscle Shoals.

It provides for leasing the $150,000,000 wartime nitrate plant for private operation and in event that [illegible] for government operation.

15 Homeless Men Perish in Flames

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 24.—(AP)—Fifteen homeless men sleeping in a hay barn near Reval, Esthonia, were burned to death yesterday when the barn caught fire from an undetermined cause.

than what Chicago is to railroads.

You learn from Frank B. Shutts, who owns the Miami Herald, that Miami is already the world's greatest flying city, the spot whence passenger and mail [illegible] to all the Americas.

MEN INTERESTING and intelligent come here to spend their winters in sunshine instead of fighting draughts and colds in the North.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis has his big yacht, the Lyndonia, anchored here. Nearby are other yachts which [illegible] not an [illegible].

There is a big yacht belonging to Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., head of General Motors, another that belongs to Chief Engineer Kettering of General Motors, many other big yachts and houseboats.

IF THE PURSUIT of pleasure sport in any form interests you, fishing, shooting, this is your country.

One young man from Dr. Mather Abbott's Lawrenceville School, here for the Easter vacation, hoped that he might catch a sailfish. The first day with the renowned Capt. Tommy Gifford he caught one six feet long and many other fish. He got two more fish even bigger the second day.

At this moment he is off to the depths of the Everglades, one hundred and fifty miles away with Indian guides, looking for wild [illegible] that weigh up to fifty pounds, and hoping to find a panther, an animal that grows bigger in Florida than anywhere else, according to guides.

FROM THE Everglades he will hurry to a reef off the coast of Cuba where [illegible] fish eighteen feet across have been seen and "broadbill" [illegible] fish are plentiful. In the Everglades are alligators, easy to shoot, but hard to recover, as the animal shoots on sliding off the bank into the water when shot.

You hunt at night, use a flash light and know you have met an alligator when you see two other flash lights, his eyes, shining at you. He foolishly turns toward the flash light.

IT IS ALSO a good place for those that are older, as Mr. Rockefeller, who spends every winter here and is long past ninety, will tell you.

You ought to see this place in winter, the coast of Maine in summer, the Pacific Coast from San Diego to Seattle all the year round, and the wonderful gulf coast with its fertility, including the tropical Isthmus of Texas which will soon produce more grapefruit than any other place in the Union.

Everything in America is worth seeing and you should see everything.

GIRL DIES AFTER 5-FLOOR LEAP

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—A 22-year-old girl identified as Laura Anderson died this morning in Mt. Sinai Hospital after leaping from a window of the luxurious apartment of Philip S. P. Randolph, wealthy broker and so[illegible].

Her body was found in a court beneath the bathroom window of Randolph's fifth floor apartment shortly before midnight.

A note left in the Randolph apartment and addressed to "Dear Thomas" told of her regret at not being able to keep a promise and asked that her mother, Mrs. Maureen Smith, of Toronto, not be advised of her suicide.

Randolph was not in the apartment at the time of the leap. He was reported by business associates to be out of the city.

Nitti, Capone Aide, Completes Pen Term

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 24.—(INS)—Frank Nitti, reputed henchman of Al Capone, was released from the federal prison here today where he had served a term for violation of the income tax laws.

Egg Row to Cost Patrolman's Job

An argument over hard-boiled eggs today led to a recommendation that Patrolman Clure Shelton be dismissed from the police force.

The Police Trial Board acted after hearing testimony that Shelton, crack pistol shot, became boisterous and tried to hit a clerk in a drug store at Sixth street and Penn avenue a week ago. Shelton had eaten the eggs and refused to pay for them, witnesses said.

Cherry Blossoms Delayed at Capital

Motorists who visit the National Capital on Easter week-end are not likely to see any of the famous Japanese cherry blossoms in bloom, the Pittsburgh Motor Club was informed yesterday by its Washington office. However, they will be privileged to witness the annual rolling of Easter eggs on the south lawn of the White House on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Herbert Hoover in charge. The cherry trees are not expected to bloom until the first week in April.

Pitt 'Prof.' Addresses Goethe Meet Here

Dr. Charlotte Lohstoeter, modern languages professor of the University of Pittsburgh, addressed a meeting of the Pittsburgh Technical Society last night commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Goethe, the famous German poet.

The meeting was held in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association and also was addressed by Dr. Carl Stahl, Max Hartenheim and the Rev. Dr. August Voss, pastor of the German Evangelical Protestant Church.

Mt. Washington Road Plans Nearly Ready

Contract plans for completion of the Mt. Washington roadway extension project are more than 95 per cent complete, Chief Engineer Charles M. Reppert of the City Public Works Department told Council today. Estimated cost of the project is $900,000. The improvement will run from the mouth of the tunnels to South Tenth street, according to present plans.

Included in the cost of the construction, Reppert said, are property damage claims, and $100,000 for easements over the Pennsylvania Railroad's property.

Anthracite Pickets Given Thirty Days

SCRANTON, Pa., March 24.—(AP)—Two insurgent mine pickets were sent to jail for 30 days each when they defied state police at Taylor Borough, near here.

James Guernack, of Taylor, one of the two men arrested, was armed with a long meat hook while the other prisoner, Michael Kepieck, also of Taylor, had a blackjack.

State police encountered a crowd of several hundred pickets at Taylor who were trying to prevent miners from going to work.

Bill for Immediate Bonus Loans Backed

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP.)—The Senate Finance Committee voted today to report the Barkley bill making loans to veteran on their bonus insurance certificates immediately available.

The present law requires that the certificates be held for two years by a veteran before he can obtain the loan. Senator Barkley, (Dem.), of Kentucky, sponsored the measure, which was favored by a vote of 6 to 5.

$5 PER WEEK FEEDS FAMILY OF FIVE

Nutrition Expert Lists Foods Which Maintain Health at Lowest Costs

Five dollars will feed a family of five for one week in Pittsburgh, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Ruth Fisher, nutritionist of the Public Health Nursing Association. She supports her statement with a week's shopping list, including all essential calory requirements.

For the current week this figure could be cut to $4.76, but a good average cost per person is $1, according to Mrs. Fisher. But the meeting of the food requirement, especially in a time of crisis, is the important thing to bear in mind, and not the cheapness of food, she cautions, adding:

"The big point in compiling a food list is not merely whether a person can exist, but whether his health can be maintained. With the list we have compiled, normal health will be maintained in a normally healthy family consisting of two adults and three children, 2, 5 and 8 years old. If the children are older, more food must be added. If any member is ill or suffering from malnutrition, special attention, of course, is required.

For better health on minimum incomes, Mrs. Fisher urges the building of a menu around cereals, milk and vegetables rather than meat, bread and coffee.

Other tips for the cheap way to health are the substitution of bulk cereal for package cereal, butter substitute for butter, provided green vegetables are used, and occasionally, macaroni, rice and spaghetti for some of the flour.

1⅓ dozen eggs	35c dozen	.47
4½ pounds meat and fish
1 pound salmon (pink)	13c pound	.13
2½ pounds beef (ground)	20c pound	.50
1 pound liver (beef)	20c pound	.20
2½ pounds fats
1½ lbs. butter substitute	20c pound	.30
1 pound lard	12c pound	.12
1 large can tomatoes		[illegible]
3 pounds apples	.04 pound	.12
1 pound prunes	.06 pound	.06
1 peck potatoes	.25 peck	.25
9 pounds vegetables
3 pounds cabbage or kale	.02 pound	.06
3 pounds carrots	.04 pound	.12
2 pounds turnips	.05 pound	.10
1 pound spinach	.10 pound	.10
2 pounds beans (dry)	.05 pound	.10
10 pounds flour	.04 pound	.40
4 pounds cereals
2 pounds rolled oats (bulk)	.03 pound	.06
1 pound wheat	.05 pound	.05
1 pound cornmeal	.07 pound	.07
[illegible] pounds sugar	.05 pound	[illegible]
½ pound [illegible]	.14 pound	.07
3 cakes yeast	.02 cake	.06
3 [illegible]	[illegible]	.06

A plea for the maintenance of this minimum diet was made by Miss Helen Stevens, director of the Public Health Nursing Association, who points out the dangers to the ultimate health of the nation, if the children's health is neglected now.

PLAN PARENT-TEACHER GROUPS

Wilkinsburg Women Voters' League And School Board Co-operate In Organization Work

The Wilkinsburg League of Women Voters is co-operating with the school board of the borough in organizing parent teacher associations. There are to be individual organizations in each grade school as well as one in the junior high and one in the senior high school, all to be active by September 1.

Several years ago the Wilkinsburg schools had one parent teacher association, but it is believed the separate organizations for each school will be more effective.

The officers of the league, Mrs. Arnold M. Replogle, Mrs. C. I. Bepler and Mrs. Jessie Nesbitt, together with Mrs. A. F. McCalla, Mrs. C. A. Atwell, Mrs. G. H. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. F. F. Egli Jr. and Mrs. H. S. Beakes comprise the organizing committee.

Meeting of Prohibition Reform Group Apr. 12-13

The third annual conference of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform will be held in Washington April 12 and 13, with headquarters in the Mayflower Hotel. By taking their conference to Washington on the eve of national political conventions, the women feel they will have their first opportunity to carry the fight for repeal into a nation-wide political campaign.

At least 1,000 delegates from 40 state divisions are expected to attend the conference. The organization has grown in three years to a membership of almost 500,000 women, all of whom are of voting age and have agreed to work for repeal through their respective parties and, failing that, to support only those candidates who pledge themselves for repeal irrespective of party affiliation. Mrs. William Thaw Jr. is chairman of the local branch.

Holy Week Services In Carnegie Church

NOVEL DECOLLETAGES MARK THE LATEST EVENING MODE

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, March 24.—A new high and a new low marks many of the latest evening frocks, when it comes to the decolletage. For one or two houses have been showing frocks with the front neckline reaching nearly to the throat, while the back joins the waistline. And so cleverly are these frocks done that they do not look nearly as bizarre as the description of them would lead one to believe. But such a model should be worn only by the rather tall, slender, beautifully groomed woman who has the gift of putting on a wonderful frock and then forgetting all about it. Which is in effect the secret of good dressing. One can wear anything, old or new, lavish or simple, if one is not conscious of one's apparel. But to get back to our two-faced frocks, for they are just that since they present such different views. With frocks of this kind the whole virtue is to be found in the original cut, for every effort is made to keep the rest of the model quite simple without any trimming or extra embellishment. The high neckline in front is really attractive and dramatic, as you will no doubt soon be seeing for yourself. For frocks of this type were purchased at the openings for exploitation at home.

* * *

WE HAVE HAD sketched for you one of the new high-low evening frocks. This model is by Madame Yteb and she has made it in a refreshing yellow-green, the tender green of early spring leaves. The front of the bodice consists of a wide flat panel cut high nearly to the throat, and in one piece with the skirt, closely molding the figure and bust. At each side of this panel, draped material is drawn back in soft folds which dip to a low V-shaped decolletage. The closely fitted hipline is shaped across the back with diagonal tucks. There are no shoulder straps, but the top of the bodice panel in front is rolled over and roped in a twist of crepe, which passes around the neck and is knotted in back with two ends. The matching crepe bolero is fur bordered and finished with narrow capelets.

HARMONY BUS OPPOSED

Application of the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company to carry passengers from Rebels Corner on Perry highway to Pittsburgh today was under consideration of the Public Service Commission with opposition on record from the Pittsburgh Railways and Motor Coach Company.

The Johnson Bus Service now provides transportation over the route to West View, where passengers change to street cars to continue to the city. Under the proposed Harmony plan, passengers would be carried to the city on buses now operated between Pittsburgh and New Castle. David I. McCahill, Harmony company attorney, introduced witnesses at yesterday's hearing who claimed present service was inadequate. The railways company claimed the service was satisfactory.

Solemn Observance In Churches Here to Mark Good Friday

Many Services Set, Honoring Day of Crucifixion

Good Friday, marked throughout the Christian world as the Day of Crucifixion, will be observed in the Pittsburgh district tomorrow with services in many churches.

The Day of Darkness will be observed with solemn ceremony in Catholic churches. Stations of the cross will be said. Services will be held in Sacred Heart Church, Shady avenue and Walnut street, from noon to 3 p. m., at which the Rev. Andrew J. Pauley and the Rev. Leo A. McCrory will officiate.

Following the special sermons the stations of the cross will be silently dramatized by the pupils of the Sacred Heart grade school, after which there will be adoration of the cross. The services at 7:45 p. m. will consist of the dramatization of the stations and the adoration of the cross.

Passion services will be held in St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, Center and Morewood avenues, from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. and again at 8 p. m. The Rev. Dr. H. P. Eckhardt will be in charge.

DOWNTOWN SERVICES

At 10:30 a. m. bi-lingual services will be held in the German Evangelical Protestant Church, Smithfield street, at which the Rev. Dr. C. A. Voss will speak.

"The Passion," a cantata, will be presented tomorrow night by the Choral Society of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, Sixth avenue. The society will be accompanied by the organ and stringed instruments. The Very Rev. N. R. High Moor, dean of the cathedral, will conduct services from noon to 3 p. m.

A musical program will mark the celebration of the day in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West View. The chorus choir will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion" at the 8 p. m. service. The Rev. Luther F. Spoehr will be in charge.

ILLUSTRATED SERMON

An illustrated sermon on the Via Dolorosa will be presented tomorrow night by the Rev. Dr. Louis H. Evans of the Third Presbyterian Church, Fifth and South Negley avenues. Dr. Evans will tell of his visits to the Holy Land.

Communion will be celebrated tomorrow night at the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, North Highland avenue and Rippey street. The Rev. M. B. Fuller will speak.

Union services of the North Side Christian churches will be held tomorrow night in the First Christian Church, Arch street and Montgomery avenue. Seven ministers will assist in the service.

Bishop Herbert Welsh, of the Pittsburgh Methodist area, will speak tomorrow noon at the services of the Smithfield Methodist Episcopal Church, Seventh avenue and Smithfield street. The Rev. Nicholas F. Richards will be in charge.

UNION SERVICES

Union services will be held in the Oakland Methodist Episcopal Church, Forbes and Boquet streets. Members of the Gustavus Adolphus Lutheran Church will attend.

"Jesus in Agony" will be the subject of the Rev. W. Raymond Williams of the First Primitive Methodist Church, Holmes street. This service will climax a week of services in the church.

The Rev. Herman M. Meyer of the Stewart Avenue Evangelical Church, Stewart avenue, will speak tomorrow morning on "When Death is Victory." Communion will be celebrated.

Wilkinsburg community services will be held from noon to 3 p. m. in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Franklin avenue. The Rev. William Porkess will be in charge of the service and will be assisted by six pastors of the district.

ALL NIGHT VIGIL

Four hundred men will keep an all-night vigil in St. Francis de Sales Church, Chartiers avenue, tonight in commemoration of Christ's agony in the Garden of Gethsemane. They will go on watch every hour from 8 p. m. to 8 o'clock Friday morning.

The Rev. Frederick Kempster, rector, will have charge of special services at St. Mark's Church, South Hills. A three-hour service will be held beginning at noon with seven addresses from the Seven Cries from the Cross by the rector. At 7:45 p. m. there will be litany and the benediction.

U. S. Judges Adopt New Court Rules

Judges R. M. Gibson, F. P. Schoonmaker and Nelson McVicar of the District Court signed orders adopting new rules of procedure in bankruptcy, equity, civil and criminal statutes in the District Court. The rules were drawn by committees composed of lawyers, appointed by the judges. The new rules become effective April 1.

Council to Inspect Mayview Next Week

Annual inspection of the City Home and Hospital at Mayview will be made by members of Council early next week, it was announced today. Members of Council will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. James S. Hammers, the former the superintendent of the institution, during the inspection tour. Date of the visit will be announced Monday.

ESCAPES JAIL BY KIN'S DIARY

He was arrested last night on a suspicious person charge as answering the description of the man who on January 21 attacked Bert Barker, 50, of 504 East Lacock street, in the hallway of his home, beat him unconscious and took $3 from his pockets and a radio from his home.

Lieut. Harry Moore, investigating, however, found that Mager's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Mager, had a diary in which the date of the prisoner's arrival in Pittsburgh from Uniontown was recorded as January 28, more than a week after Barker was attacked.

Moore and Mrs. Mager both testified to this in North Side Police Court today and the brother-in-law went free.

K. of C. Post-Lenten Dance Set Monday

Don't Nag Your Hubby About His Love for You

Can you make your husband forget the poker game down on the corner by wailing: "You don't care any more! If you did you'd want to stay home. You'd want to be with me. And even if you'd rather go out, it's your duty to stay here and make love to me."

"No! You can't!" says Rosemary. "That's one of the best ways on earth to drive love away!"

And she thinks it likely that a line like that is what makes Freda's big boy dash off the minute he's gulped his dinner, and not come back till far, far in the night.

"Dear Sally—

"I've just read Freda's moan, and I'll say that your answer to her was wonderful—as far as it goes.

"Tell her also that she should learn how to be interesting and entertaining, and when she does her husband will be glad to stay at home.

"But the initial reason why he runs from her as quickly as possible may be still something else. It may be because she insists on his loving her 'because he should.'

"And if that is what she does, that is probably the reason why he is getting so he doesn't. People do not love other people because they should. They're far more apt to fly the coop the minute such an idea is brought up.

IS NOT A DUTY

"Love is not a 'duty.' We love people because we love them, in spite of everything. If she doesn't entertain him as per your program, he is bored to death with her moans, and the minute she gets to asking him if he doesn't love her any more, and reminding him that 'She is his wife,' he is bound to dash off. Anybody would.

"But if she changes her attitude of criticism and whining, and begins to act as if she loved him, without nagging him about his love for her, she'll find that his attitude toward her will change, too.

SHOULD BE ENTERTAINING

"Then, if she is interesting, if she knows something to talk about, if she learns to laugh with him and make his home pleasant, she'll find things getting back to the happy state they were in to begin with.

"There are boys who must be fed entertainment till their dying day, and they'll fall for it plenty. But the word 'duty' will scare them off.

"I don't need to tell you. You know. There are 'male babies' who must have rattles dangled before their eyes always, and there are plenty of smart women who dangle 'em.

"But whether a man is a baby or not, he likes a wife he can be interested in, and who doesn't nag him about how much he loves her. And he won't run out on her, either.

"ROSEMARY."

Right you are, Rosemary!

No one ever caught a fly with vinegar, and no one ever held love by being disagreeable or moaning or demanding.

Sometimes love flies away, anyway, despite our best effort, but it's sure to fly away if it's bored or nagged.

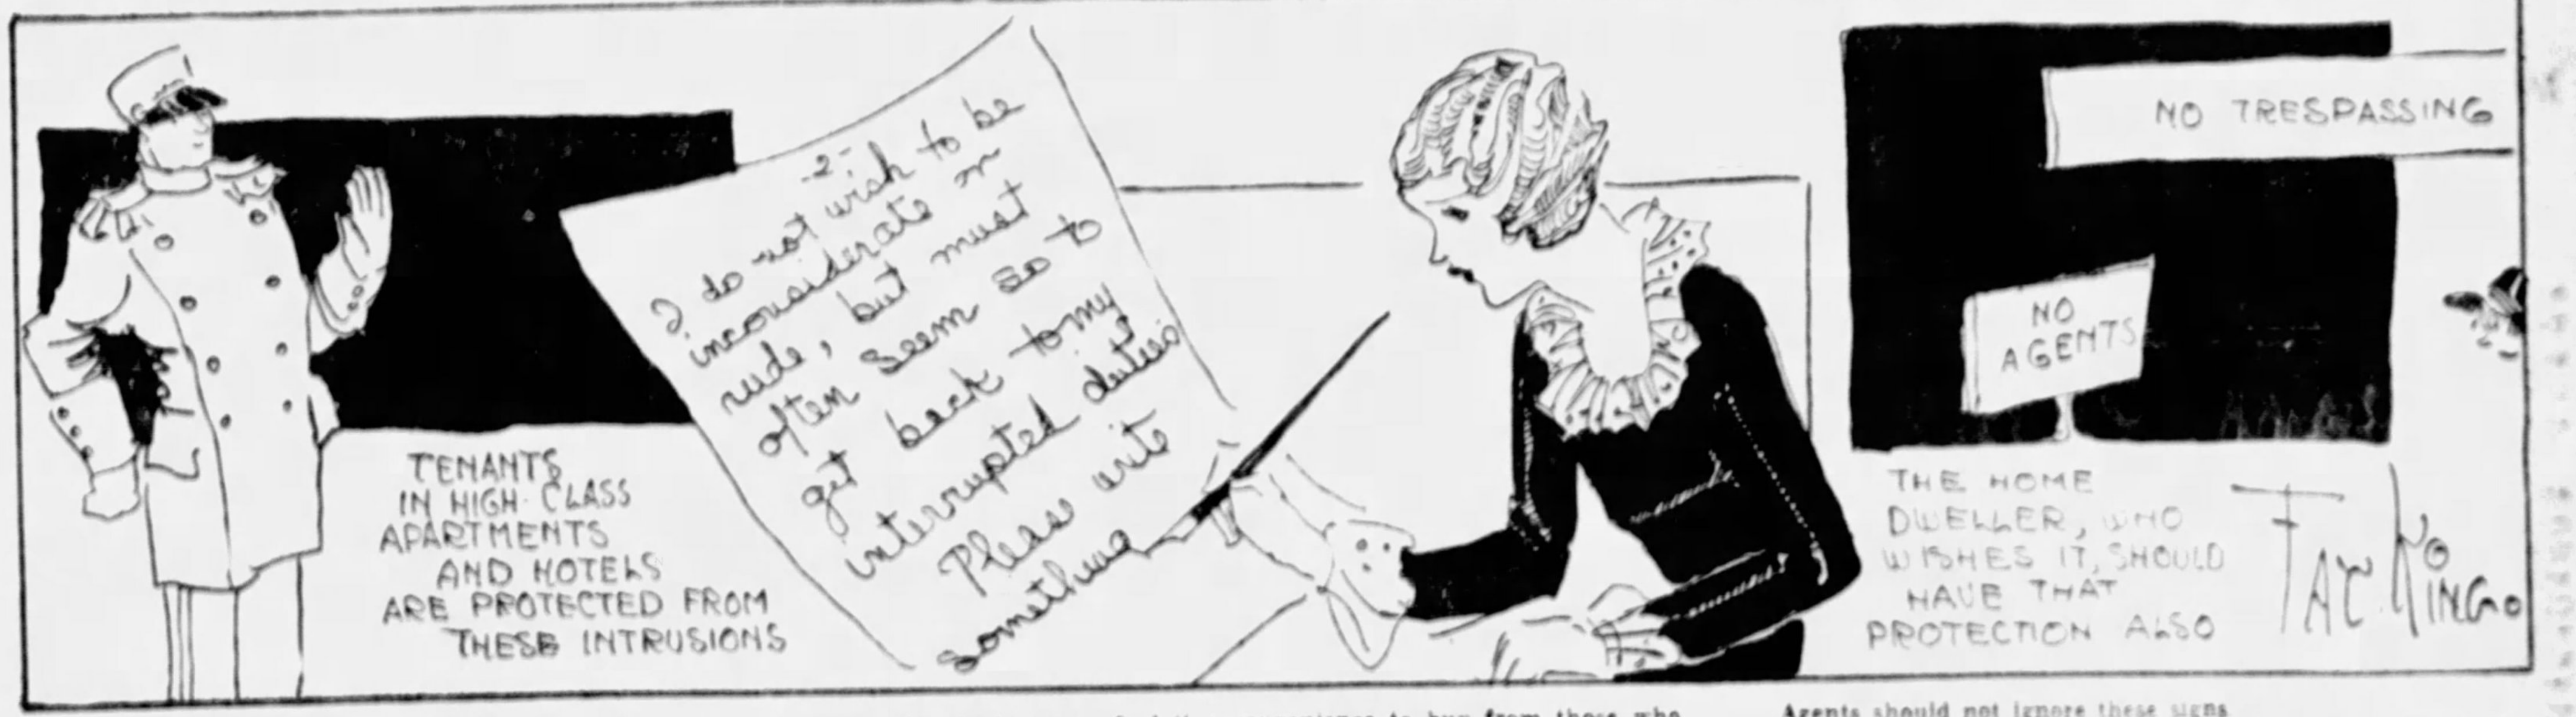
Fay King Joins in Protests Against Agents' Ringing of Doorbells



I do not wish to be inconsiderate or rude, but must often seem so to get back to my interrupted duties. Please write something
TENANTS IN HIGH CLASS APARTMENTS AND HOTELS ARE PROTECTED FROM THESE INTRUSIONS
NO TRESPASSING
NO AGENTS
THE HOME DWELLER, WHO WISHES IT, SHOULD HAVE THAT PROTECTION ALSO FAY KING

By FAY KING

Quite a few women have written to me complaining of the number of agents who ring their doorbells daily, and wish something could be done about this.

No doubt many find it a convenience to buy from those who come to their doors, but others who never buy anything in this way find it only a nuisance.

These should put out signs asking agents please not to call, which will save the time and patience of both.

Agents should not ignore these signs.

Homes are private property, and such a sign on the smallest house should be respected as much as the "No Trespassing" sign on a rich man's big estate.

And it seems to me that cities should see that they are.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Vaccination Discovery Great Boon to Mankind

Dr. Copeland

In 1796 vaccination against smallpox was first accomplished in England by Edward Jenner. This discovery was of tremendous value to mankind. It gave protection against smallpox, at that time a common and dreaded disease which was then prevalent throughout the world and caused more deaths than any other disease.

Too many people do not realize the importance of vaccination against smallpox. Because of the rareness of the disease today, many neglect vaccination. Though the disease is not as common as in the days of Jenner, yet smallpox is found in communities where vaccination has been neglected.

Many are opposed to vaccination. These are the so-called "anti-vaccinationists." As I view it, their attitude is injurious to the health of their followers. Vaccination has definitely controlled the spread of smallpox and in countries where vaccination is compulsory the disease is rarely encountered.

Every baby should be vaccinated against smallpox before it is 12 months old, and it is safe to vaccinate an infant as early as the age of six months. It is best to do this even if there is no smallpox in the community. The disease may break out when least expected and it is extremely dangerous for an infant.

Vaccination is a simple procedure and rarely if ever causes any important reaction. There is no pain associated with the scratching of the skin with a special needle containing the vaccine.

Some believe that if once vaccinated they are immune to smallpox for the rest of their lives. This is not true. The protection given by vaccination has been estimated to be approximately seven years. In order to have continued protection against smallpox it is necessary that the vaccination be repeated at intervals not longer than seven years.

Do not be misled by alarming statements about the "perils" of vaccination. There has been abundant proof that vaccination deserves all the credit and praise it has received.

If your children have not been vaccinated attend to the matter at once. If they have been vaccinated and a period of seven years has elapsed, they should be vaccinated again.

Vaccination against smallpox is just as important for adults as it is for children. If everybody would co-operate in this matter, smallpox would eventually be completely eradicated.

Please remember that though smallpox is rare it still exists. In 1930 there were more cases of smallpox reported in the United States than in any other country with the exception of Great Britain.

Household Hints

Let the ham remain to cool in the water in which it is boiled and it will be deliciously moist.

If a teacup of vinegar and six or eight cloves are added to each gallon of water in which a ham is boiled, the flavor is greatly improved and the ham is more tender.

An excellent clear varnish can be made by dissolving beeswax in warm turpentine. The turpentine is heated in an old pan and the beeswax (shredded) is stirred slowly into it.

When buying materials for chair covers or curtains, more material will be required if the design is one of large set figures, on account of having to match the figures. If you wish to economize in material, buy either plain or small figured material.

-:- Correct Manners -:-

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Proper Designations

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

In a group of couples, who are only casual acquaintances, should one refer to husband and wife as "Mr. So-and-so" and "Mrs. So-and-So," or "my husband," "my wife"? Please let me know when it is proper to use these different designations.

E. S. W.

When a wife is speaking to tradespeople or servants, she refers to her husband as "Mr. Allen." When she is speaking to an acquaintance, such as might have been in the group you mention, or to friends whom she does not know very well or even, perhaps, fairly well, she would refer to her husband as "my husband." When she is speaking to close friends, she would say "John."

There is not, however, so much difference between the two last groups as there is between the first and second groups. That is, for a woman to refer to her husband as "Mr. Allen" when she is speaking to an acquaintance or to a friend is very poor form. And every married woman should study these differentiations, for they are significant.

Candles at Table

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Are candles lighted at an informal mid-day dinner, say, for instance, a Sunday dinner?

M. M.

No. Candles should not be used at a luncheon table (and this table, even for dinner, would be set at the luncheon hour), unless they are absolutely necessary, that is, unless there is otherwise not enough light in the room. And they should not even be placed on the table. The first hour at which candles should appear on the table is at the tea hour, for the tea-table.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Dark brown hair doesn't take the bleaches very well, too much peroxide and ammonia have to be used. If a change is necessary to the soul's contentment, it's better to acquire an auburn cast by basking under a henna pack.

Decorative details of beauty are the perfect arch of the eyebrow, the coral blush of the cheek, the glimmer of the finger nails; the sum and substance of beauty are what you are. Character, ideas, emotions, speech and maybe 49 other ingredients contribute to the formula of pulchritude. External trimmings like coiffures, make-up and dress are essential for self-respect and happy spirits, but there's more to the beauty game than that, though some of the vain little dollies will never find it out.

No woman of 40 need grieve about grey hair or a little laughing wrinkle that comes crimping out from her eye winkers. For every mark that time sets upon the face it contributes a new quality of beauty—tolerance, maybe, or a better understanding of one's fellow creatures. At 40 a woman doesn't suffer from self-consciousness as she does at 20; she knows we're pretty much off the same bolt, and that social fear is senseless. With youth on the wane, she doesn't have to tear around like mad. And she does certainly enjoy a good night's sleep.

OFFICIAL SYSTEM
As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Every Day Happenings

A very common situation is to have your partner double an opposing bid, after he has supported you to his safe limit. If you hold added unshown values and rather small defensive strength, you must choose between a small and none too certain penalty for defeating the double bid, and gambling that you may make game by continuing your own declaration. The hand below well represents such a situation.

♠ Q 9 7 4
♥ K J 10 8 4
♣ 9 6
♦ A 10

♠ A K J 10 3 2
♥ 6 3

Z

♠ 6 5

♣ K 8 4 3 2
♦ K J 8 6 4 3

♠ 8
♥ A Q 9 7 5 2
♦ Q 7 5 2

Z bid 1-Heart. Y jumped to 3-Hearts over A's 1-Spade. B ventured a bid of 4-Diamonds. Z bid 4-Hearts. Y doubled A's bid of 4-Spades. B passed. Should Z let his partner's double stand, or should he bid hearts again? Z was vulnerable, but he did not fear going down more than one trick at the worst; perhaps he could fulfill a contract of five. A was not vulnerable. Y's jump bid made it seem quite possible that no heart trick might be won against a spade make. Outside of hearts Z held only a single trick that he could expect to win. Whether Y could win the remaining three tricks needed to defeat A was the question. The longer Z thought, the more convinced he became that risking going down one trick for the sake of a fifty-fifty chance of going game and winning a love rubber offered him good odds. He bid 5-Hearts, and was doubled by A, who expected his partner to win one diamond trick at least, and that A would ruff a return lead of that suit. That with a single spade trick would defeat Z's contract.

A led his lone diamond, only to see the trick won by dummy's Ace. Two rounds of trumps pulled all of A's hearts. Then dummy's last diamond was led. B won the trick with his K, and returned a spade, which A took with his K. It seemed better to lead back A's Q of clubs than to lay down his Ace of spades, but the club lead came too late. Z won the trick with his Ace. Then he discarded dummy's last Club on his own good Q of diamonds.

Thus far Z had won five of the seven tricks played. There was no possibility of losing another trick. Y trumped the losing club and the losing diamond held by Z, and in return Z ruffed two spades held by dummy. The last two tricks were won with declarer's two remaining trumps.

It should be noted that Z had realized that he was gambling upon results when he bid 5-Hearts over his partner's double of 4-Spades. The only thing that enabled him to fulfill his contract was A's lead of his singleton diamond. That lead afforded Z a later opportunity to discard a losing club from dummy. Had A made an opening lead of clubs Z would have been beaten one trick, because he then must have lost one spade, one diamond and one club trick.

Had A been allowed to play his contract against perfect defense, he would have made only two-odd, losing 200 points, less 100 honors—a great saving for him from what happened.

MORIN FAVORS U. S. RELIEF FOR IDLE

Congress Candidate Urges Public Works Loan Plan And Repeal of Dry Law

Former Congressman John M. Morin, candidate for another term as representative from the Thirty-second District, has announced a platform of eight major planks as follows:

Modification of the Volstead act pending repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, ratification of the [illegible] abolishing the "lame duck" session of Congress, national system of unemployment insurance, stabilization of labor and [illegible] national system of bank deposit guaranty, better hospital facilities for war veterans and federal aid for relief of the unemployed, Morin declared.

"I believe in the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the substitution of an amendment giving the states the right to deal with the liquor problem with a federal guarantee to prevent transportation of intoxicating liquor between dry and anti-dry states.

"Pending repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment I shall vote for modification of the Volstead Act so as to permit the manufacture, sale and transportation of light wines and beer.

"Economic security should be guaranteed to every American worker and his family should not be in want in periods of unemployment. A five-day week and a six-hour day appears to be the best plan thus far suggested to so stabilize industry as to provide employment for all our people.

"I advocate and shall support a national system of bank deposit guaranty. This would do more than anything else to stop hoarding and get $1,000,000,000 back into circulation.

"I favor immediate federal aid for the relief of the unemployed through direct appropriations to the states, and a program of public work to be financed by a prosperity loan or bond issue."

AIR RIDER HELD AS FRAUD

Taxiing around the country on a stolen pass, a man who identified himself as James Pert Williams, 37, an Australian, and who postal officers said had served 13 years in various prisons for forgeries, was being held in $2,500 bail today for a hearing tomorrow before a United States Commissioner. He is charged with impersonating a postal employe.

Yesterday he rode from Columbus to Betts Field on a Transcontinental and Western Air Line plane, having used the pass stolen March 2 from Gustave Johnston, postal engineer, inspectors charged.

Postal officers said Williams admitted he served time in San Quentin Prison, California, state prison at Carson, Nev., and in the Mansfield, O., Reformatory. He had the names of 35 women obtained through a matrimonial agency with the age, wealth and religion of each noted.

Williams was arrested by Postal Inspector Earl Barnhart and Patrolman Jess Crawford of Mifflin Township.

AUTO MEN PLAN HUGE EXHIBITS TO AID TRADE

Show to Reveal How Motor Industry Would Help Others Regain Prosperity

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation, today announced that April 2 the corporation will launch perhaps the most gigantic program ever attempted by an industrial enterprise to stimulate business when it opens simultaneously national exhibits of its many products in 55 leading cities, including Pittsburgh. The exhibits, carrying the theme "Work for Many Hands," will continue through April 9.

In each of the 55 cities the corporation has engaged the largest available auditorium for the exhibit, Motor Square Garden having been selected for the Pittsburgh exhibit. These halls have an aggregate floor area of more than 1,000,000 square feet.

The theme of the exhibits will be symbolized by two mammoth hands flanking the entrances. These will show the manifold activities of the motor car industry and how it draws raw materials from every state. Seventy leading orchestras have been engaged for the exhibits. Don Bestor's orchestra will furnish the music in Pittsburgh.

Sloan, in announcing the plan said:

"This program was conceived and has been developed as a direct and aggressive attack upon existing psychology—the prevailing attitude of mind of waiting for something to happen before anything is done. So long as this attitude of mind prevails, we are bound to go downward. When it changes we are bound to start upward.

"There are too many who can afford to buy but who lack confidence or believe it to be the thing not to do. There are also too many who have in mind doing something constructive, but are waiting to do it some time later.

"To my mind the automotive industry has shown great aggressiveness and courage in investing tens of millions of dollars in new and progressive products, resulting in the greatest values ever offered and probably greater relative values than can be offered for many years to come.

"If this fact could only be appreciated and capitalized by those who are in a position to do so by purchasing, this industry, the greatest in the country, distributing as it does its purchasing power throughout every state in the Union, would broadcast a wave of increased industrial activity which through its accumulative effect would exert a far-flung influence toward reaching the necessary objective.

"General Motors makes its contribution toward this objective in the form of these nation-wide exhibitions with the firm belief that a better appreciation of the above facts is bound to be a forward step in the direction that we must go."

The exhibits will consist of a representative line of the more than 150 different models of General Motors cars, various automotive accessories, household appliances manufactured by the corporation such as vacuum cleaners, electric fans and iceless refrigeration units, and water and lighting systems for farms.

English Flier Off On Capetown Hop

LYMPNE, England, March 24.—(INS)—J. A. Mollison, noted British flier, hopped off from here early today for Capetown, South Africa, in an attempt to make the long flight in four days.

G. M. MERGES 4 DIVISIONS

DETROIT, March 24.—(INS)—Girding forces for their greatest sales battle General Motors executives today announced plans for consolidations involving four divisions.

The mergers, effective April 1, will bring Chevrolet and Pontiac manufacturing divisions under leadership of W. S. Knudsen. Oldsmobile and Buick manufacture will be headed by I. J. Reuter. Even more compact will be sales direction of Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick under Reuter with Chevrolet distribution in charge of Knudsen.

Reuter, now president and general manager of the Pontiac division, will be aided by Richard H. Grant, vice president in charge of sales. Knudsen is president and general manager of the Chevrolet division.

Commenting further on the announced exhibits in connection with sales, Grant said:

"We hope that through increased sales under the new arrangement we will be able to add men at the various factories and speed up local operations in each case."

Caruso's Widow Out As Child's Guardian

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—The American says Mrs. Dorothy P. B. Caruso Ingram, widow of Enrico Caruso, the tenor, has been removed as general guardian for her daughter, Gloria, 12, because she neglected to file the annual accounting of the estate as demanded by law.

The accounting was due in January, 1931, for the previous year. On September 30, Mrs. Ingram was ordered to show cause why she should not be removed. She never answered the action. Warren C. Fleming was appointed special guardian.

Souvenir of War Gives Sleuths 'Bomb' Scare

Kearney Diven of 1316 Fifth avenue, found the shell in the rear of his home and, believing it a bomb, summoned police, who took it to the station. Detectives were summoned and believed it a time bomb. To decide if it was really one, they took it to the Monongahela River bank in front of the Central Police Station.

Cautiously they fired at it three times with a shotgun. The shell did not explode, and the detectives threw it into the river. A short time later the officers learned the source of their concern was only a souvenir of the World War.

DRIVER FREED IN TRUCK CRASH

Edward Hintemeyer, of 3243 Central avenue, was fined $10 on a reckless driving charge in Traffic Court yesterday as the result of an automobile crash at Penn avenue and Stanwix street late Monday.

John Sharpler, of 2462 Colorado street, driver of the truck with which Hintemeyer's car collided, was discharged, as was Bertha Meyers, of 1129 Troy Hill road, a passenger in Hintemeyer's machine.

Miss Meyers was arrested when Sharpler told police that he believed she had been driving the Hintemeyer car when the collision occurred.

HOOVER 'WIRE' LAUNCHES SHIP

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—President Hoover today pressed a button in the White House officially launching the new Grace Line steamer Santa Rosa, at Kearney, N. J., and shortly after made public a message hailing the construction of this vessel as part of a "revival of shipbuilding" in the United States.

The chief executive spoke of the "far reaching benefits" of the Merchant Marine act of 1928, with the aid of which, he said, orders have been placed for 45 new vessels of 500,000 gross tons and for the reconditioning of 19 vessels of 160,000 gross tons.

KEARNEY, N. J., March 24.—(AP)—Speaking at the launching of the new Grace liner Santa Rosa here today, Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, said the great depression sapped the courage of countless millions, but the building of this ship went on undeterred because men had faith in the future of this country.

Heralding the launching as a triumph of faith and courage, he said that in the midst of a depression the work of preparation for a better day went courageously on. He said the government likewise should have furnished work for the unemployed.

Ban on Russian Anthracite Asked

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—A delegation representing Pennsylvania anthracite operators today presented evidence to the Treasury which they hoped would result in barring Russian anthracite from this country.

Headed by Senator Davis (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, and Representative Boland (Dem.), of Pennsylvania, the delegation contended Russian anthracite is mined by forced labor.

BOGGS & BUHL

LISTENING IN—With the Radio Editor

GOOD FRIDAY brings to radio listeners tomorrow a series of notable programs which mark the solemn significance of the day.

Mr. Maitland

Franz Liszt's "Christus Oratorium" which he often referred to as his musical will and testament, is presented by an orchestra under the direction of Erno Rapee and soloists at 11 a. m. over two NBC networks and heard here through stations WCAE and KDKA. The program takes the place of the usual Music Appreciation Hour at 12:30 p. m. over WCAE. Rollo Maitland, famous organist and guest artist this week in the Heinz organ recitals, offers a religious recital featuring "Meditation" from Thais, Nevin's "Rosary" and "Rock of Ages." At 1 p. m. the sermon by the Rev. H. P. Eckhard in St. Andrew's Lutheran Church is heard from WCAE.

"The Terrible Meek," human drama of the famous English actor and dramatist, Charles Rann Kennedy, is presented by the Radio Guild on KDKA at 3 p. m. An hour later, KDKA presents Act II of Richard Wagner's famous opera, "Parsifal" from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House. "Good Friday Spell" from the same opera, is played by Zoel Parenteau's Orchestra at 2:15 in KDKA'S "Today In History."

The passion service commemorating the crucifixion, conducted in the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral, is heard on WJAS from 1:15 to 3. Meditations by Bishop James E. Freeman punctuate the musical portion of the program by the famous Cathedral Choir. From 3 to 3:30 WJAS offers a special Good Friday concert by the famous Marine Band.

Excerpts from Haydn's "Seven Last Words" are given in the Pittsburgh Musical Institute program on WWSW at 3, under direction of Charles N. Boyd. KQV at 8:30 a. m. features Charles Jones, organist in a special program of 14 sacred selections.

Program Pointers

Frances Williams, blonde singing comedienne of the stage well known to Pittsburgh playgoers, joins Rudy Vallee as guest artist in his program heard through WCAE at 8 o'clock tonight. Roy Perkins continues as master of ceremonies. The program comes from Washington, where Rudy is appearing with his Connecticut Yankees this week. Next week, when he comes to Pittsburgh, Sophie Tucker will be heard as Rudy's guest.

Miss Williams

Rudy will broadcast his network program from the studios of WCAE Thursday night. In addition he will speak into a WCAE microphone from 12:31 to 12:36 a. m. next Tuesday as part of a special program starting Monday midnight in honor of Buddy Rogers' debut as a dance tune leader.

The timely comedy song, "An Income Tax on Love," is interpreted as a duet by Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit over KDKA at 9.

The singing song writer, Herman Hupfeld, sings his latest composition, "Baby Likes a Blue Suit Best of All," with the Trumpeters tonight at 10 over WJAS.

Stops are scheduled at San Francisco and Oakland, Cal., when Walter Winchell sails his magic carpet through WCAE at 10. . . . Tom Coakley's orchestra plays from Oakland and Anson Weeks from San Francisco. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming, is guest speaker.

Numbers from three musical shows, "The Cat and the Fiddle," "The New Moon" and "Bitter Sweet," comprise Countess Olga Albani's song group over KDKA at 9:30.

Rudyard Kipling's "The Man Who Would Be King" opens a new series of stories replacing the Sherlock Holmes series on WCAE tonight at 9:30, with "The Old Beetle" as narrator. The sponsors and cast remain unchanged and Sherlock returns at the end of six weeks.

Fan Fare

LOTTICE HOWELL, NBC soprano, is serving as nurse in the tornado-swept region of Alabama, where more than 200 persons were reported killed Monday night. She was visiting her parents in Moundville, Ala., a village not far from Tuscaloosa, when the tornado swept through Central Alabama. . . . The young singer notified NBC officials by telephone that she and members of her family fled to an improvised cellar and escaped injury. She is extending her visit in Alabama in order to continue to help minister to the injured.

Miss Howell

Roxy can tell whether a man walking into a studio is an announcer or not. On his recent visit here he "spotted" Herb McGee, WCAE announcer, as soon as he met him. Herb's quick stride is a sure sign of the man who watches the clocks in the studios closely, according to Roxy's theory.

Three masters of ceremonies, Don Bestor, Glenn Riggs and Walter Myers, will announce the program and describe the festivities at Don Bestor's farewell party in Pirate Hall, Friday night, April 1. Bestor's guest artists in his farewell broadcast that evening will be the Johnson Sisters.

Clarence Mackay once paid Paul Whiteman $6,000 to play at an all-night reception when the Prince of Wales was visiting America . . . Jane Frohman likes comfort . . . She always sings into the microphone from the left, with her arms resting on a music rack . . . That new voice at WCAE is Leland Becraft . . . Connie Boswell collects locks of hair . . . They total 300 envelopes now . . . Nick Lucas says he knows a drummer who was fired because he "didn't give a rap" . . . Francis Owen, of WWSW "Wastebasket" fame, plans something "a bit different" for tomorrow night . . . Someone's always trying to find out the age of the Lawson Sisters—without much success.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

TOO BAD SHE CAN'T TALK AND SMILE WITHOUT SHOWING THOSE DIRTY TEETH!
DO YOU SUPPOSE SHE EVER BRUSHES THEM?

LIKE millions of others she has been fooled! Fooled into thinking that dull, offensive-looking teeth are an affliction she must endure simply because ordinary brushing has failed to make them white and attractive. Don't you make this mistake.

You can have teeth that others will admire. Just use a half-inch of antiseptic Kolynos on a dry brush twice a day. And much sooner than you expected your teeth will look like you want them to.

When it enters the mouth Kolynos instantly foams into every tiny crevice. It washes away stain and discoloration. It erases tartar. Then it does what no ordinary toothpaste can do . . . It kills millions of germs that pour into the mouth and cause tooth and gum troubles and bad breath.

This double-action actually cleans teeth as they should be cleaned—right down to the beautiful, natural white enamel without injury. It stimulates and invigorates the gums and purifies the mouth.

Now don't let your teeth look uncared-for another day. A half-inch of antiseptic Kolynos on a dry brush morning and night will quickly make them flashing white and keep them sound. Try it.

HOARDING OFF $157,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP).—A decrease of $157,000,000 in currency in circulation since the inauguration of President Hoover's anti-hoarding campaign, marking a definite trend toward bringing money out of hiding, was announced today by Secretary Mills.

At the same time the Secretary pointed out that bank failures had dropped from 83 in the week ending January 16 to five in the week ending March 19.

It was disclosed that the Reconstruction Corporation has already used up its $500,000,000 which the Treasury subscribed to its stock, and that another $200,000,000 would be subscribed.

Secretary Mills made no prophecy about present or future conditions.

In preparing the figures showing the decrease in currency circulation allowance was made for seasonal currency movement so that the actual reduction was listed as $157,000,000.

HOOVERS PLAN EGG ROLLING

WASHINGTON, March 24 (INS).—White House gardeners and workmen today began the task of preparing the spacious south grounds for that unique springtime fete which is peculiar to Washington—egg-rolling for the children on Easter Monday.

Thousands of youngsters from all walks of life will romp and tumble around President Hoover's big back yard the day after Easter and dispose of their multi-colored Easter eggs in the messy but complete fashion which only small boys and girls have at their command.

Their host and hostess will be the Chief Executive and the First Lady. The White House gates for that one magic day will be open to one and all, provided only that each grown-up is escorted by a child of 10 or under.

If This Fails To Knock Your Cold In a Few Hours

Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

HILL'S Cascara Quinine is GUARANTEED to knock a cold in a jiffy. To relieve the pain, to break up tightness. If it fails, you pay nothing.

This guarantee is made to prove that the surest relief is to go back to first principles and use something that you KNOW does the work. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink plenty of water, too—that's all. You'll feel like a new person almost before you know it. Pain eased, congestion broken, your mind cleared and yourself ready to go back on the job with a wallop.

That's because Hill's is a scientific formula made to DO ONE THING WELL: to knock colds in a hurry—not to cure a score of different troubles.

Get a package for a few cents at any drug store. Your money back if it fails. Try it—you'll be glad that you did.

Coyne Denounces Pinchot for Dismissing Neely

POOR BOARD'S BONDS MAY PROVIDE RELIEF

POLITICS

Evidence Shows Grundy Still in Politics

—By MARK SHIELDS—

Mr. Shields

Belief that former Senator Joseph R. Grundy had withdrawn from politics is proven unfounded by evidence of the Bristol manufacturer's activity in certain parts of the state. The mistaken thought was based on Grundy's decision not to be a candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention from the Bucks County district, the first time in years he has not attended a party conclave.

In some legislative districts of the state the Senator, through his able lieutenants, is making a drive for members of the House. He is not giving battle where the odds are hopeless, but is carefully picking his spots. He is not, as in 1930, in a coalition with Gov. Pinchot all along the line, though in some districts their aims meet.

Mr. Grundy has no thought that he can gain any majority in the House. He never had that on any clear-cut issue. But he always had a compact bloc which fought not only valiantly, but subtly, and thus was much more influential than larger and less-disciplined factions. He maintained a balance of power which enabled him to get for himself legislation which met his requirements.

That, according to the evidence, he is attempting again. If successful, this means that John Flynn, of Elk County, will continue as an important factor in Harrisburg, not only on the basis of his own legislative intelligence and force, but through the backing of the Grundy shock troops.

There are also indications that here and there the former Senator is attempting to pick up a Republican state committeeman. In 1930 he threw in his forces with Gov. Pinchot in a vain attempt to organize the state committee and eliminate Gen. Edward Martin as chairman. This year it is doubted that he will take the same open position in advance of the committee meeting.

* * *

Not Necessarily Break Between Coyne, Grundy

Indeed, if the cards are stacked against him, it is improbable he will show any activity in the organization of the party government. But if the contest is close, and if a few votes either way are important, then the politically cherubic but hard-boiled gentleman from the East will spell the difference between victory and defeat.

Here in Allegheny County the strongest local man in the Grundy army of 1930, Senator James J. Coyne, has split with Gov. Pinchot, whom he assisted materially two years ago through Grundy's desire. There are observers who do not believe Coyne would have been so abrupt in his alliance with Philadelphia and the state organization for this campaign if Grundy had strenuously objected.

If there is a special session of the Legislature—and the impression is growing that there will be such a session in the spirit of a mutual need throughout the state—do not be surprised if no attempt is made to raise all the revenue necessary for appropriations through direct and immediate taxation.

About the state there is a feeling that current taxes are as high as they can be boosted, and that any additional drain on the treasury must be met by new revenue sources and a diversification of imposts. There has been discussion of the advisability of a state bond issue to meet economic conditions in many parts of the state.

Some Minds Altered On Need for Relief

To insure success of a bond issue it would be imperative that in advance of a session there should be a pledge from all political factions to support it not only in the special meeting, but at the next regular session in 1933 and the general election of that year.

A bond issue, of course, would fall equally on all parts of the state, though naturally the normally richer portions, which pay the larger tax, would make the greater contribution to interest and amortization. Those are now the sections in greatest distress.

In the special session last year a number of members refused to recognize the fact that there was any suffering in the state, and were against any relief program. The minds of some of these men have altered with the passage of months, it is reported.

Furthermore, there is a growing appreciation of the indisputable economic fact that one section of the state cannot be unhappily affected without the repercussions being felt elsewhere, which makes co-operation a matter of sound business to those who discard the argued moral obligation.

When the purchasing power of one large area is depressed the markets of other sections are affected.

Representative Max Spann has advanced the idea that the legislative session should be called far enough ahead of the adjournment of Congress so a memorial could be sent to the national Legislature requesting federal aid, if that is deemed necessary.

Men who previously opposed federal help are now reflecting on its possible feasibility, and the thought of Spann is worth considerable thought.

Asserts Waterways Insure City as Steel Center

The greatest asset Pittsburgh has today is the rivers and any opposition on the part of railroads to the improvement of waterways is short-sighted, Maj. Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, president of the Inland Waterways Corporation, declared in an interview today.

He said:

"It was the rivers that made Pittsburgh. It is the cheap water transportation of coal and raw materials that will make it very difficult for any other district to take away Pittsburgh's steel business. The advantages of the rivers built the community that brought the railroads here in the first place."

Most of the difficulties of the railroads are due to extravagant duplications in their own services, in the opinion of Gen. Ashburn. The railroads are receiving special consideration from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and with the return of better times they will recover with other industry, he believes.

The proposal to build a flood wall around downtown Pittsburgh will interfere in no way with navigation as long as the channels of the rivers are not restricted, Gen. Ashburn said. A platform on columns, an alternative proposal for adding to the level area of the wharves, he thought, would be practical as long as it is not built out into the river.

Gen. Ashburn was speaker today on river transportation before the Pitt Businessmen's Club at the Chamber of Commerce.

MISS KITTY LACEY

BURNED CHURCH PLANS BENEFITS

The first of a series of entertainments to raise funds for the rebuilding of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Tenth avenue and Amity street, Homestead, destroyed by fire March 13, will be inaugurated with a dance and card party in the gymnasium of the church's new school building, Easter Monday.

A benefit basketball game is scheduled for Thursday and other entertainments will follow.

Miss Kitty Lacey, of West Homestead, general committee chairman for Monday's event, has reported the sale of 2,000 tickets and receiving more than 300 gifts from business houses, individuals and public officials from Pittsburgh and Homestead. The donations will be awarded as prizes.

The school auditorium was converted into a church with a seating capacity of 1,200 the day following the fire. Three altars were erected in classrooms. The church has a membership of more than 4,000.

Retired Lutheran Minister Succumbs

The Rev. Edward E. Blint, a retired Lutheran minister living at 939 East End avenue, Wilkinsburg, died today in Mercy Hospital.

Mr. Blint held pastorates in Littlestown and Leechburg, Pa., prior to 1929 and was a member of several church boards at the time of his death.

EASTER TREAT AT MAYVIEW

To provide the chickens, inroads will be made on the institution's hennery. However, the hennery is to be discontinued and the dinner will be the first step toward that end, according to Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director of welfare, as it has not proved economical, she said.

Dr. J. S. Hammers, superintendent of Mayview, said the epidemic had been conquered after a month's strict enforcement of isolation regulations.

The Shrine plane, Islam, was to arrive at Bettis Field today carrying Past Potentate William H. Woodfield, Jr., director general of the 1932 Shrine convention of North America. He will be met by Potentate Karl Rex Hammers and Recorder James W. Barber of Syria Temple.

Local Shrine officers will confer with Woodfield and his party concerning the convention in San Francisco, July 26. There will be a reception and dinner in Woodfield's honor tonight at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

COYNE ATTACKS PINCHOT FOR FIRING NEELY

Senator Flays Governor's Act as Revenge in Fight For Rival State Ticket

State Senator James J. Coyne, Western Pennsylvania field marshal for the state ticket being supported by the "regular" Republican organizations, has issued a statement interpreting Gov. Pinchot's motive in discharging Howard Neely, Coyne's friend, from the position of Deputy Attorney General. Coyne declared:

"Mr. Neely was removed, not because of any fault found with his work, which can be verified by those associated with him, but because he is a close personal and political friend of mine.

"He was that when I was of some assistance to Gov. Pinchot in the primary and general election that gave Mr. Pinchot his present office.

CITES FORMER ALLIANCE

"I did everything I could for him in that primary and election. I helped him in every way possible during the 1931 session of the Legislature to carry out the pledges he made to the people.

"While I was doing that, Gov. Pinchot never missed an opportunity to tell me what a great help I was to him.

"I can't understand the Governor's way of playing politics. I was everything to Mr. Pinchot that goes to make a good man when I was helping him to carry out his program.

"When I decided in 1930 to support Mr. Pinchot for Governor and Mr. Grundy for U. S. Senator, it seemed to be a tragedy to some people, but it was very agreeable to Gov. Pinchot.

CAUSE OF FEUD

"Since I have decided to support candidates for state and national offices others than those selected in the Governor's office by himself and a few Amos and Andys and maybe a Kingfish from Pittsburgh, I am not so good.

"When I again choose to use my own judgment in preference to that of others, my friends who have served the public honorably and capably must suffer.

"It's getting to be a pretty dangerous task for a person to use his best judgment without being punished by those in power."

Schooley Recovering From Influenza

Roy D. Schooley, deposed City Treasurer, is recovering from an attack of influenza, it was said at his home today. Some concern was expressed for him several days ago, but he is now able to sit up in bed.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park said he has no thought of listing Schooley's case for trial and that of Arthur G. Burgoyne, both charged with irregularities growing out of the audit of the City Treasurer's office, until after the trial of Mayor Charles H. Kline and Bertram L. Succop, set for May 2 at Butler.

CHARGES MORE PAY PADDING

Further city payroll padding by Ray Willoughby, former Public Works Department employe, now under indictment for larceny and embezzlement, was charged by City Controller James P. Kerr today. The latest revelation was in connection with work on the Nine-Mile Run sewer and came in an auditor's report given Kerr last night, he said.

Employes were marked up as paid, Kerr said, when they were absent from duty. The entire figure was $1,138.50.

Of this amount William Bartoft, the report showed, was credited with $456.50 by Willoughby, although he was marked absent by the timekeeper.

Other employes whose names are alleged to have been used, despite their absence, were J. T. Tilles, $66; Theodore Balinger, $44; Louis Cardamone, $202.40; Archibald Hazley, $206.80, and C. Paul Clarke, $162.80.

Inventor Held On Stock Charges

Nels Areson, 42, of Seattle, Wash., reputed inventor of a theft-proof automobile wheel, was held for court in $10,000 bail on charges of false pretense by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Central Police Station today.

Detectives testified that Areson, who had patent papers, had sold about $3,700 stock to eight Pittsburghers. The latter instigated the prosecution of the inventor. He testified business conditions were delaying formation of the company.

Only Bystanders Endangered by U. S. Budget Duel

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Trouble with America is that the budget has taken over the government.

Right now that drastic slashing should be engineered with the loving kindness and tender care of a farmer paring a pet bunion. Little bit at a time.

It's the same all over the world. Even in England they have killed the appropriation for red lead for the admirals' epaulets.

If the budget is down to the bone now it's because the Republicans got the meat.

We're not economizing for what was borrowed and spent. We're suffering for what evaporated in transit.

One Out of Hundred To Survive Wound So Near Heart.

Weak and emaciated from her long battle against death, Josephine Steiss, 20, British subject who shot herself below the heart during a card party in her room at 701 Ridge avenue, January 12, promised in Morals Court today to begin life anew.

The former waitress was discharged by Magistrate T. D. Jones in care of her sister, Mrs. Dora Kramer, 6 Albert street.

She testified:

"I didn't have enough money to pay my room rent and thought ending my life would be the easiest way out. I learned a lesson and will never do it again. I am going to start life all over again."

Sergt. Samuel Wheeler, of the homicide squad, who supported the young woman as she testified, informed the magistrate the immigration authorities would not seek to deport her as long as she was promptly cared for. Her parents live in Berne, Switzerland.

Physicians at Allegheny General Hospital told police she was one out of 100 to recover from a wound so near the heart.

Only 7,500 Register For Primary Here

Only about 7,500 voters registered yesterday for the April 26 primary. It was the last registration day, and the enrollment was composed chiefly of those whose names had been stricken from the records by the registration committee last fall, and those who had moved since last election day.

SET SULLIVAN APPEAL DATE

A special hearing of the appeal of Patrick Joseph Sullivan, a carpenter, of Station street, East End, opposing Congressman Patrick J. Sullivan for renomination, was fixed for April 7 in Philadelphia by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court yesterday.

The regular Philadelphia session of the court will not convene until April 11, originally fixed for the Sullivan hearing on Tuesday when the Supreme Court granted a supersedeas. The advance in date will permit a decision before the ballots for the Thirty-second Congressional District are printed and delivered, although the Congressman's opponent will draw for a place Monday.

He appealed from a decision in Dauphin County, which threw out his petitions after 50 names were eliminated as unqualified electors, reducing the total to less than the 200 signers required.

Squire Awaits Fate In Extortion Case

Justice of the Peace John G. Metz, of Kennedy Township, and Constable Edward Brubach, of Ben Avon, may learn the verdict of the jury late today in their trial for conspiracy and extortion before Visiting Judge R. R. Lewis, of Potter County.

Metz was on the witness stand for practically a day and a half, explaining each of eight arrests in which the state alleges he charged alleged liquor law violators from $20 to $75 and did not return the fines to the county.

BLIND, CITED FOR TAX

BLIND ENOCH NORRIS, 62

Declares He Paid Installment But Lacks Receipt

For nine years Enoch Norris, 62, blind, faithfully paid his taxes on two pieces of property at 1926 Fox way. Last July he saved until he had $40, and with the aid of 15-year-old Edward Fritz, a neighbor, he went to the City Treasurer's office to pay the third quarter on his taxes. He paid $37.79, received his change and a tax statement and returned home.

Last week a neighbor came to him, holding a paper from which he read to Norris that his name was listed among the tax delinquents. Norris searched in his cigar box for his tax papers, but could not find a receipt. The paper he had preserved proved to be only a statement.

Norris and Fritz visited Controller Kerr and City Treasurer Thompson. Norris did not know to whom he had paid the money. Fritz was not sure at which window he had guided his aged friend. Kerr and Thompson said nothing could be done.

Norris has no money. He and his wife live in a small first floor room in the rear of 1926 Fox way. They depend on the rents they receive for the property in the front and from two garages.

Norris said today:

"I know I paid the money. I have paid always for nine years. I went back last October and paid the final quarter and they did not say anything to me about the third quarter not being paid."

RIGHT TO SHARE $12,000,000 STUDIED

Members Seek Opinion on Unused Borrowing Power As Means to Aid Jobless

An entirely new source for obtaining funds for direct relief in Allegheny County was disclosed today in the $12,000,000 unexpended bonding power of the County Poor Board, whose members have indicated they will make a serious effort to raise money to meet the emergency.

The Poor Board met today at Woodville and reserved its decision pending further advice from its counsel, Harry W. McIntosh, on the legality of issuing bonds for direct relief. A special meeting of the Poor Board has been called tomorrow to decide on what will be done to provide $260,000 for relief asked by the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

BOND ISSUE SEEN

A $260,000 appropriation would furnish direct relief in the county for almost 10 weeks, it was stated. The funds may be furnished by issuing bonds, Director Miller indicated. The Poor Board has a bonding power of $13,980,000, and has used only $1,300,000, he said.

The advance guard of the family-help-family campaign of Senator Frank J. Harris will meet tonight at a dinner at William Penn Hotel. Plans will be made for gathering large subscriptions. Taylor Allderdice will preside.

All expenses of the Harris campaign are to be underwritten by individuals so that the money actually raised in the drive will go directly to needy families. An intensive campaign of radio speaking is being organized under W. E. Furey. Public speakers to make personal appearances before many organizations are being recruited by Alexander P. Lindsay.

CITY RELIEF

The Emergency Association is preparing to distribute the $260,000 voted by the Mayor and Council. Requisitions for food will be handled through the welfare agencies and the Emergency Association beginning Monday, according to S. E. Claney, director of relief.

Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director of the City Welfare Department, will direct the work. Relief headquarters will be established in various sections of the city.

City Council, through President John S. Herron, indicated yesterday that money will be appropriated to finish nine sewer projects which had been halted due to the stopping of the Emergency Association work program.

Steps have been taken to provide money at once for the completion of the Montgomery avenue sewer job, to cost $18,000 more. The Commerce way sewer will also be completed, labor being financed for the present by the James L. Stuart Company until Council can appropriate money. The last of the Emergency Association's city labor crews were dismissed last night.

Bank Dividends Await Depositors

Depositors of the closed Garfield Bank are slow in calling for their 25 per cent dividend checks which have been ready since Monday, according to J. S. Brooks, assistant to Deputy Hill Burgwin in charge of the distribution. Only half of the available $90,000 dividend checks have been called for since distribution started at 4761 Liberty avenue.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.,
March 24.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Will Rogers

Congress knocked the rich in the creek with a 72 per cent income tax, then somebody must have tole 'em: "Yes, Congress you got 'em while they are living, but what if they die on you to keep from paying it?" Congress says: "Well, never thought of that, so we will frame one that will get 'em, alive or living, dead or deceased." Now they got such a high inheritance tax on 'em that you won't catch these old rich boys dying promiscuously like they did. This bill makes patriots out of everybody—you sure do die for your country, if you die from now on.

Yours, WILL.

HURLS PERJURY ACCUSATION IN TRUCK QUIZ

County Legal Aide Scores Retraction of Witness; Clashes With Woodside

The inquiry into truck hire that last year cost the county $200,000, being conducted before Controller Robert G. Woodside, continued today. C. F. Kaechele of Glendale was scheduled to produce records showing payment for his trucks. [illegible] A. F. Kaechele was [illegible] as to the operation of [illegible] on county work.

The hearing yesterday was high-[illegible] by a wordy interchange between Assistant County Solicitor Ralph H. Frank and Woodside.

CHARGES PERJURY

When Woodside refused to impound books of the Auto Truck Company which Kaechele said bore the titles to two of his trucks, Frank objected.

"This hearing started yesterday with flat bold perjury on the part of a witness who this morning retracted everything that he said. There never was a fairer ground for proof of fraud. We are here investigating fraud. We have laid as firm a foundation as ever was laid in such a short space of time showing lying, chicanery and fraud."

Woodside said:

"I don't see any reason for roaming afield in this inquiry. The question is, were these trucks worked and were the people paid for them? The witnesses have proved, if anything, that there was political favoritism, but I am interested only in finding out if the county got its money's worth for the trucks."

Kaechele had testified he did not know where two of his trucks were and later changed his testimony because he said there was a matter pending that might mean seizure of one truck.

AIRPORT WORK INVOLVED

The hearing is the result of investigations made by Main & Co. in their audit of the county's fiscal affairs.

Walter Bowser of Kittanning, who operated a fleet of trucks on the airport construction work done by the county maintenance forces, will be [illegible] to testify.

Edward [illegible] [illegible], former [illegible] [illegible], was the first witness when the hearing started Tuesday. Newspapermen barred from the opening session were admitted yesterday by the Controller.

Commissioners C. M. Barr and W. D. Mansfield attended the hearings. Barr characterized testimony of witnesses as:

"A tissue of lies from the beginning."

Pedestrian Injured By Mail Truck

Anthony Vusknewuski, 27, of 8 Belmont street, was injured last night when he was struck by a mail truck at Galveston and Reedsdale avenues, according to a police report. He was removed to Allegheny General Hospital by the driver, William Colburn, 22, of 3341 Allendale street. Colburn was released on his own recognizance.

McKeesport Cuts School Salaries

School teachers and other employes of the McKeesport schools had their salaries reduced 10 per cent by the McKeesport School Board last night and the action represents an annual saving of $165,512, it was reported.

In cases where the reduction interferes with the Edmond act governing the school minimum wage a "voluntary" 10 per cent salary reduction will be asked.

2 HURT FIGHTING FIRE DOWNTOWN

Two firemen were injured and damage estimated at $2,000 was caused early today when a stubborn fire raged through the basement and first two floors of the eight-story building occupied by the Harris Pump and Supply Company, 318-20 Boulevard of the Allies.

The injured were Capt. James Labarty, of Engine Company No. 30, and Hoseman L. C. Beigel of Engine Company No. 1. They were given first aid at the scene and returned to work.

Patrolman Carl Locker summoned Company No. 1 when he saw smoke issuing from the building. An alarm was sounded upon the arrival of the first company. Firemen were forced to put on masks to enter the building in the heavy smoke.

BANDITS KIDNAP GAS ATTENDANT

Two holdup men early today kidnaped Nat Pinsker, an attendant, after taking $12 from the cash register in the American Gas and Oil Company service station, at 1600 Monongahela avenue, Swissvale, according to a police report.

It was the fifth holdup of the place within a year and the third for Pinsker.

After taking the money the bandits forced Pinsker into their car. He was driven to Braddock and Biddle avenues, Wilkinsburg, where he was told to "get out." Pinsker notified Swissvale police and gave a description of the two men.

Dr. H. I. Miller, of 2404 Shady avenue, was robbed of $30 by an armed man who confronted him as he was driving his automobile into his garage in Eldridge street last night.

ENAMEL SHOW HOLDS EASTER INTEREST

Religious Scenes Featured In Exhibition of Antique Limoges Painted Plaques

By PENELOPE REDD

Miss Redd

An exhibition of particular import this Easter season is the group of antique Limoges painted enamels, from the Rothschilds collection, on view at Grogan's through March 26.

The plaques, excepting one by Reymond, are by Jean Penicaud, one of the great enamel workers in sixteenth century France. Limoges, the center of this art, was also the innovator in simplifying the technic. First the workers modified the intricate cloisonne enamel work with its network of fine metal wires attached to the plate to outline the design, to perfect the less laborious champleve method. In the champleve procedure, hollows for the design were made in the plate.

The introduction of painted enamel predicated a closer alliance with pictorial art. Enamels became less like medieval tapestries with all-over patterns and more like paintings with a dominant center of interest.

The collection at Grogan's indicates the German pictorial masters as the stimulus for Penicaud's efforts in composition. There are the same grave and austere figures moving through the scenes of the Christian tragedy that one finds in Durer's and Schongauer's engravings.

Sonorous passages in green, amethyst and blue with the golden stars reiterated, suggest the translucent and elevating beauty of painted glass. Although the enamels are miniature in size, their dignity preserves the scale.

The "Christ Appearing as a Gardener," "Christ Put Into the Tomb," and "Ascension of Christ" commemorate the Eastertide with religious solemnity.

Why not try this reasonable, safe and effective way—

Say good-bye to a pimply skin

You, too, may have a clear, smooth skin

"There is no denying it . . . we all worry about skin troubles, I did . . . until I was almost sick. Always, when I went out, I was embarrassed and self-conscious about my skin.

"It seemed that each day it became worse . . . naturally I didn't look well . . . one by one, friends were neglecting me—then something happened I shall never forget!

"Mother asked me to try S.S.S. Well, just to please her, I did—and it wasn't long before I could see improvement—in time my skin became clear . . . smooth as satin . . . and my color is better than it has been in years.

"Now I mingle with my friends and associates with confidence and enthusiasm. It's wonderful the difference it makes in the way you feel and look when your blood strength is right."

Beneficial results come from within

Medical authorities stress the importance of building up the system when in a weakened, "run-down" condition, or to combat pimples and boils.

The first step in this direction is to restore the hemoglobin content to the blood and increase the red-blood-cell count.

When these precious red-blood-cells are lowered in number, due to overwork, worry, colds, sickness or dietary neglect, the system suffers—usually lowered blood count is symptomed by quick fatigue, lack of appetite, pimples, boils, or other evidences of a "run-down" condition.

S.S.S. gives New Strength

If you require a tonic you should by all means try S.S.S.—this long established medicine acts by stimulating the secretions of the stomach . . . reviving the appetite . . . aiding digestion . . . regenerating hemoglobin . . . restoring the red-blood-cells—and builds greater resistance against infection and disease.

S.S.S. helpfulness is illustrated by this fact—our records show that nearly one-half of those who have taken it, for the first time, do so upon the recommendation of some friend who has been benefited. Can there be any stronger recommendation for its merit and usefulness than this?

A distinctive thing about S.S.S. is that it is made from fresh roots, barks and herbs . . . it is readily absorbed by the system. Another thing is that its efficiency has been proved by scientific tests and by its use for more than 100 years. It is a safe Tonic to take.

S. S. S. is an economical way to health. Try it yourself. Get S.S.S. from any drug store. In two sizes: regular and double—the latter is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks' treatment. It may be the means of bringing better health and happiness to you.

Allison Funeral

Funeral services for John N. Allison, of Glenshaw, who died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. O. Donaldson, 1665 Morningside avenue, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the First United Presbyterian Church, Butler, of which he was a member. Mr. Allison was born in Center Township, Butler County in 1847, and devoted the early part of his life to teaching school. Later he took up farming, which he followed until moving to Butler 27 years ago. He was interested in educational work and served three terms as Butler County Auditor. Had Mr. Allison lived until November, he and his widow, Mrs. Harriet Smith Allison, would have celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Besides his widow and daughter, he leaves three sons, Perry C., Robert P. and Wesley L. Allison.

Siviter Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. William H. Siviter, who died at her home, 122 North Dithridge street, Tuesday night, will be held there tonight. Interment will be in Fairmont, W. Va., tomorrow. Mrs. Siviter was widely known in literary circles and was prominent in club, civic and social work in Allegheny County. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. James Chambers Pryor, wife of Capt. Pryor, of the United States Navy Medical Corps, stationed in Boston.

Lang Seeking Data On Light Rate Cut

Public Works Director Edward G. Lang said today he was preparing data on terms of the proposed new five-year contract for city lighting, requested by President John S. Herron of City Council.

Lang will include in his report, he said, an answer to the plan suggested by Councilman W. Y. English that a 20 per cent slash in street light rates paid by the city be made by the Duquesne Light Company. Council is expected to receive the report by next Monday. Annual bill for city lighting is approximately $800,000. Approximately $826,000 was set up in the 1932 budget for this purpose.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Wanderlust

I saw it in the corner
Of a sweating cobbler's eye,
As he watched a zooming man bird
Streak across the open sky.
I saw it in the rapture
Of a city clerk today;
When an ocean-going liner
Ploughed a furrow through the bay.
I saw it in the wistful
Glance a crate of chickens drew
From a little chorus lady
Walking Seventh Avenue.

George Olson.

Gag

You've probably heard about the [illegible] motorist who was doing 90 along a road when his car kissed a telegraph pole embracing in the affectionate manner. The pole, wires and everything tumbled down around him.

As rescuers tried to lift his semi-conscious form out of the wreckage he feebly plucked at the wires and hiccoughed:

In Fewer Words

George M. Cohan, who will shortly appear in the first of his spring plays, "Confidential Service," was running through the manuscript when a player asked him what he thought was the matter with the country.

"It needs a rehearsal," snapped George.

Add Sillies

Norman Prescott, now clowning at the Hollywood Theater with Mr. Holtz, offers the silly about the Russian who was being marched to his execution by a firing squad on a rainy dawning.

"What beasts you Bolsheviks are," groaned the condemned one, "to march me through a storm like this!"

"Look who's makin' cracks!" snapped one of the squad. "We gotta march back!"

Said Teddy Roosevelt

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; who does actually strive to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions; spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Of Course

And Frank Mullahey sums it up this way: Acting is like scratching a critic's back. The critic can't do it himself but he knows where it itches.

I Know the Show!

Then there's the one (take it from Bing Crosby) about the show which was so bad that after 15 minutes of it a guy went up to the box-office and demanded that his seat be changed to one behind a post!

Betrayed

You will forget my small allures,
Brown shoulders, tilted head,
My hand in darkness touching yours,
The silly vows we said.

Each in itself a trifling thing
Like wild grape in the rain—
Thin fragrance past remembering
Till mad May calls again.

You will forget. And, after all
Why not? But grant me this:
On quiet moon-washed nights recall
How tender was my kiss.

O, Mr. Wilstoch!

Add Similes: R. V. Remen's: Good-looking as three meals a day. Optimistic as a radio listener. Sarcastic as a hidden meaning. Pliable as heartstrings. Downtrodden as the path to Hell. Empty as desire—and Devoted as a bad habit!

The Hooeywood Manner

According to James Quirk, the photoplay editor, Don Marquis, a former New York columnist, knows nothing about the Spanish language and comparatively little about Spain. Yet he was selected to write the dialogue for "Marchela," a flicker about Madrid.

On the other hand Robert Presnell is at the same studio. He speaks Spanish like a native, has been in Spain and is familiar with the customs of the people. He has never been on a New York newspaper.

But he has been assigned to prepare a scenario about a columnist!

As If We Didn't Know

When Marquis chucked his columning career he said that he did it because his column kept reminding him of a grave 23 inches deep.

Observation

Nancy Carroll says that years ago there were all sorts of endings to the shows. The villain was shot, the son returned home and lifted the mortgage, Little Eva kicked the bucket, a bugle sounded and the militia arrived or the lovely young heroine fell into the arms of the handsome hero.

Now there appears to be but one fitting ending. It is to have the girls in the chorus waving ta-ta—to what's left of the audience.

Removes Corns in 3 Minutes

Get a package of safe, soothing [illegible]—the modern, scientific corn [illegible] and apply a few drops. Enjoy its soothing, comforting effect while you wait only three minutes for it to soften and loosen callused tissue. Then simply remove your corn—roots and all. No long treatment—no soaking or bother—no danger of injuring healthy flesh. [illegible] is non-irritating, it's harmless, safe and speedy.

Try this new scientific method used by high priced chiropodists. A bottle keeps you corn-free and foot-happy for months. Inexpensive—druggist will refund your money if not delighted.

Pittsburgh on Broadway; Good-By, Chauncey; Bolshevik Opera

By GEORGE SEIBEL

Pittsburgh is represented on Broadway just now by two plays, both of which appear to be successful. One is "Money in the Air," by Thetta Quay Franks, niece of the once omnipotent Senator Quay. This mystery play, produced in Sewickley some months ago, was well enough thought of to be taken to New York. Its original title, "Too Much Money," was changed in the moving. The critics were not particularly kind when it opened, but Congressman Sirovich has told us what the critics are. Anyway, "Money in the Air" is still collecting the coin.

Mr. Seibel

The other play is not by a Pittsburgh author, but Woodman Thompson, one of the best men of Carnegie Tech Drama School, designed the production of "The Warrior's Husband." It is one of those plays like "The Road to Rome" and "Lysistrata," which have become popular since war has become inglorious. One critic said "it's been many a night since so glowing a performance has brightened the Broadway scene." Another calls the play "one of those happy delightful things, a source of much merriment and good hearty laughter." A great deal of the success of the production, I am informed by some who saw it, is due to the fine atmospheric settings in classic mood provided by Woodman Thompson. This young man, whose settings for George Arliss' "Merchant of Venice" were praised so highly, disputes with Robert Edmond Jones the honor of being the American Gordon Craig.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT GONE

Perhaps you've seen that one of the best beloved of all Irishmen has just died. He was an Irishman though he was born in Buffalo and died at Monte Carlo. That means Chauncey Olcott—who wrote words and music of "My Wild Irish Rose."

Within a few months the stage has lost by death four of its most successful stars—William Hodge, Tyrone Power, Mrs. Fiske and now Chauncey Olcott. He was not a great actor, but a rare entertainer. The school of acting in which he made his fame and fortune is associated with the coming of Dion Boucicault to America, as the best interpreter of his own play "Conn the Shaughraun." Then there was Joseph Murphy in "The Kerry Gow." In all such plays the villain was British and wore a red coat. Now Ireland is a republic and has to furnish its own villains.

Olcott's first professional appearance was as a member of the male quartet in Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead," another old play that toured the country year after year and never lost favor. His last appearance in Pittsburgh was in the revival of "The Rivals" during 1925, when he was Sir Lucius O'Trigger in the all-star cast with Mrs. Fiske.

The names of Olcott's plays will revive fond memories. People who saw him in "Macushla," in "Ragged Robin," in "Honest John O'Brien," in "Edmund Burke," in "The Isle of Dreams," in "The Heart of Paddy Whack," and many such plays, will feel a moisture in their eyes.

And how he could sing "Mother Machree!" You could hear the vibration of his heartstrings, and it was this, along with his personal charm, that made Olcott the beloved actor and won him a large fortune, which he was enjoying on the Riviera when death came at the age of 71.

CHANCE FOR COMMUNISTS

Remembering the red-coated villians in plays of the Irish school, we are reminded that those were propaganda plays, just like Shaw's. And, by the way, almost the last of such Irish propaganda plays was the opera "Aileen," by Victor Herbert, containing some of his best music, but stopped by the outbreak of the war because it was considered anti-British propaganda.

We are inclined to set our faces against all propaganda unless it's our own sort of propaganda. Which brings to mind that there is a good chance now for our Communists to make 20,000 roubles if they can produce an opera to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

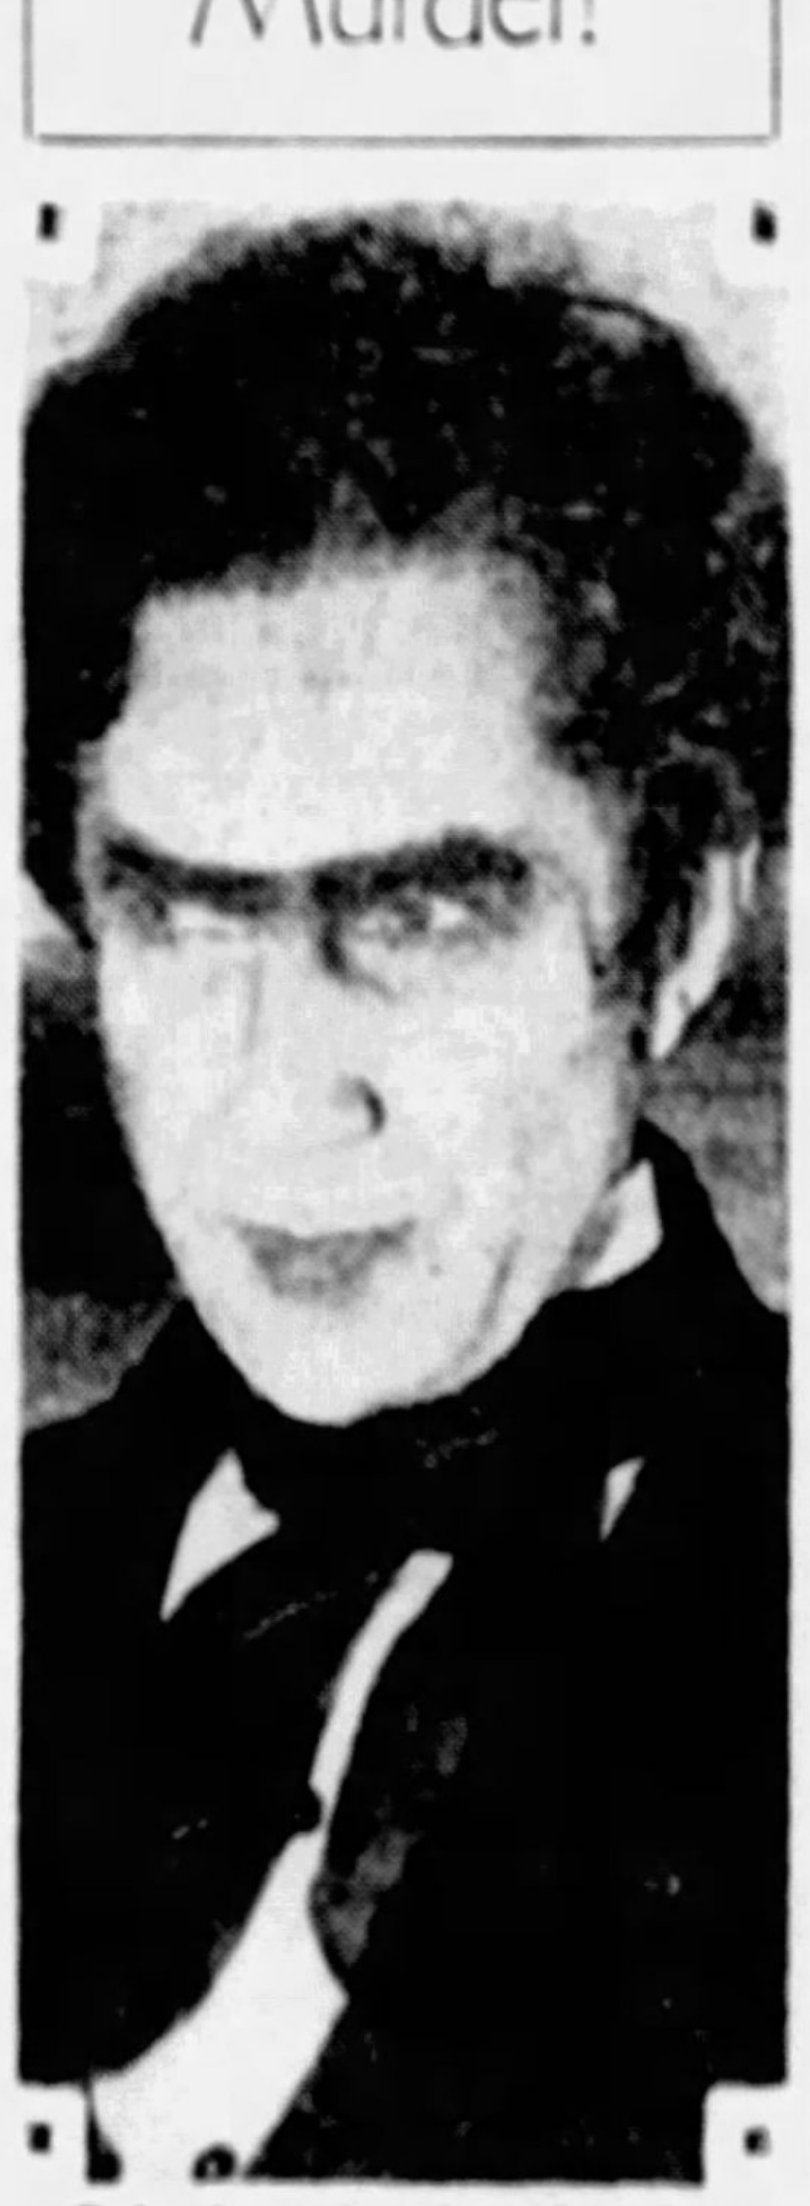
But they'll have to work in the propaganda, for the prize contest announces that "libretto and music must show socialistic industrialization, socialistic reconstruction of agriculture, and a lot of other things leading up to the union of Socialist Soviet Republics as the shock brigade of the world proletariat."

Now if W. S. Gilbert were alive there would be a theme to tempt him! But then Aristophanes did it about 2,300 years ago.

Escudero, the Dancer, Coming April 2

Escudero, Spanish Gypsy dancer, who comes to the Nixon for one performance Saturday evening, April 2, danced for the first time on any stage in Portugal in 1920. Escudero's ensemble includes Senoritas Carmita and Carmela, and they will dance to the airs of Spanish folk-lore music by De Falla, Albeniz and Granados. To the accompaniment of piano and guitar, as well as castanets, a program of 20 numbers will be given.

Murder!



Bela Lugosi, who played the title role in "Dracula," will come to the Davis tomorrow in a film version of Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue."

Studio Buys New Tully Novel

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, King Features Synd., Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.

One look at Jim Tully's new novel, "Laughter in Hell," and Universal has laid a check on the dotted line. This makes two Hollywood studios planning pictures about southern chain gangs. Warners already have announced a story with a similar theme for Paul Muni.

The Tully novel was bought before it even reached the publication stage—a practice growing in favor with the movie producers.

Jim Tully

In this story, the Irish author, fiery-headed and one of Hollywood's most truculent individualists, delves back into his own youth. At the age of 17 he was arrested for vagrancy in a Southern town and actually served a short term in a chain gang. Later, after he began to write, he touched on the experience in "Emmett Lawlor," a novel that won him a reputation with the literary critics of the country.

Tully now lives in Hollywood, where he regularly turns out books, and, between times, accepts fancy prices for writing interviews for fan magazines.

AND SO TO GOSSIP

Esther Ralston

Director Michael Curtiz actually started production on the horror picture "Dr. X" at midnight. The first set was the reproduction of a morgue . . . Ran onto Ricardo Cortez yesterday at Radio. He and George O'Brien had just arrived by plane from Kansas City. George's new contract with Fox began yesterday and he wanted to be on time. Ric tells of meeting Winfield Sheehan in Havana, also Tom Meighan in Miami. And, awful to relate, he confesses to having poured out a whole keg of Bacardi rum just before reaching New York harbor. He wasn't taking any chances with the customs. . . Speaking of liquor, Joe Jackson and Tay Garnett are trying to get Wilson Mizner to play the bartender in "S. S. Atlantic," without a rehearsal, too . . . Oscar, the Paramount bootblack, has been loaned to RKO to play a part in "States Attorney" . . . Charlie Richards, formerly casting director at Pathe, will have the same job at RKO. Charlie is very popular among actors and studio officials and has a reputation for discovering new talent . . . Little Thomassina Mix witnessed her father's remarriage the other day at Yuma. Tom finished his picture today and will return to Hollywood . . . Dolores Del Rio gave a party last week-end at her beach place—most of the film people were in Agua Caliente . . . Dick Arlen and Jobyna Ralston are still in Palm Springs.

NEW TALENT ARRIVES

Three pretty young things, eager and talented, have arrived at Warners to start their career in the movies.

They are Gloria Shea, 20, who did "Blind Mice" on Broadway and who has appeared in several Vitaphone shorts; Sheila Terry, 22, skating expert, former Minnesota school teacher and more recently understudy for Queenie Smith in the big town, and Betty Gillette, 19, social registerite from Douglaston, Long Island. Miss Gillette had so little confidence in a screen test that she had gone to Florida for the winter season when Jack Warner's wire recalled her to New York to sign a Warner contract.

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

False Faces

IN ONE of those lavish speakeasies that now form the major part of New York's night life a great many people danced by me the other night. I sat in a corner and watched them for a long, long time. I knew many of those people, even though they didn't know me. And as I looked into their faces a strange feeling stole over me. Because I suddenly realized that nine-tenths of those faces were false faces.

Masks; that's what they were. Human masks. Products of the modern age and filled to the brim with the cup that leers. Dancing until dawn—and for what? Just to sleep the sleep of the bleary, so that they can awaken refreshed and dance until dawn once again. It's an endless cycle, really. Because when one mask falls there are two new ones—even more grotesque—ready to fill the void.

Consider a few of those masks. Sit with me as they whirl by. They amuse me. Perhaps they will amuse you. . .

See the young girl with the elderly man? Her face is very close to his, and he wears a grin that tells you immediately of his great vanity. All Broadway knows their secret. He is very much in love with the girl.

That grin is a false face. He is happy, yes—but only in one direction. That child in his arms has made him feel that, even though he is not as youthful as he might be, he is as gay and debonnaire as any youngster in the room. He is proud to be with her; proud of her very great love for his distinguished charms.

And underneath the mask? Oh, my friends, how his feet ache! How he wishes, as his eyes droop, that he was home asleep! How he worries and trembles when those funny, little pains start clutching at his heart! How well he knows that he is old!

The girl? Surely you know. She's been around far longer than her looks would suggest. Only 19, she has a 3-year-old baby up with the folks in Boston, Mass. There's but one thought in her heart at the moment. And that's a hope that this old buzzard will take her home and leave her. Then she can call Charlie, who will be waiting. Charlie is young and handsome—and broke.

"I'm crazy about you, daddy," she whispers as she goes by.

"Me, too, about you," whines the fool.

False faces . . .

Here's a Wall street man with a woman who is strictly society. I've known him for years. Once upon a time he had money. That tells the entire story.

He is broke now. Very broke. But he hates to give in. He feels that he must keep up appearances. Two or three times a week he gets out the high hat and steps out. His check has now bounced in several places and he knows the game is almost over. Yet he keeps his nose in the air and pays marked attention to the woman with whom he is dancing.

There's a reason. She is married to a wealthy man, but she is standing on the threshold of a divorce. When she decides to sue it will be a mutual affair and she will come in for plenty of sugar. The Wall street man thinks he will step right into the spot.

He is wrong. The woman is as mercenary as they come, and she knows as well as I that her escort is broker than broke. He hasn't any more chance of marrying her than I have of eloping with Peggy Joyce. Less.

"Bring another pint of wine," he calls to the waiter. "And see that it is properly chilled."

"Wine—in these times?" cries the woman. "Dear boy, you must be laden with money. Isn't this music divine?"

Masks . . .

You can't miss this team. You'll find them in almost any speakeasy. The college boy and the chorus girl. They're doing steps that I couldn't name and neither could you. Maybe we're both better off.

The boy has one of the biggest names in the social register. If you can buy any steaks with that—which you can't. I don't think he's more than 19, although he may be 20. He's probably going to wind up marrying the dame he's dancing with. Because the girl is attractive in a coarse sort of way and because it's the first affair of his life.

I can't hear his exact words. But if I know my type, I can't be far wrong.

"Of course," he is saying, "I've had plenty of experience with women. A fellow that's seen as much as I is naturally a little cynical. But you're the sweetest kid I've met yet. When you meet my dad he'll go crazy about you."

The girl isn't doing badly either. Four years in the chorus taught her plenty. They should.

"I'm very happy," she is replying. "I know I'm going to love your dad. If he's anything like you, he must be one of the sweetest men in the world."

If the boy's father saw him with this girl at this particular moment, he'd probably drag him home by the ears. And if the girl's gangster sweetie even suspected that she was out with somebody else, he would undoubtedly slug her plenty. Meanwhile, they dance.

False faces . . .

Wish I had more space to develop this thing. I haven't. Just an ordinary column. So I must hurry.

Look at this strange couple. It's a middle-aged woman and her youthful escort. Almost the same types, with the sexes reversed, as the elderly man and the young girl in the beginning of the column. Yet there is a distinct difference.

The woman's eyes are burning. She is trying to cling to youth with a tenacity that is a little more than pitiful. She wants desperately to combat Age, the one foe that stands alone in its class. As she prances by in a coquettish fashion, you can almost see the beauty experts bending over her with their mud packs.

What the boy is thinking about, I don't know. Very possibly, he isn't thinking at all. Yet he is whispering sweet things into her ears. And she is smiling happily, even though she knows that she will pay for the whispering in cold cash before the dawn comes up.

False faces. Masks. Fools . . .

* * *

The proprietor speaks to me. He asks me how I like his place.

"Great," I reply enthusiastically. "It's the last word. Nothing in town to equal it. Everybody is here and I'm having a grand time. This is life. I—"

I stop abruptly. Because I suddenly realize that I, too, am just another false face . . .

'The Monster Walks,' Talks in Sheridan

Another melodrama of horror and mystery opened yesterday in the Sheridan Square. It is "The Monster Walks" and the cast features Rex Lease and Vera Reynolds. The story details the efforts of a rich man's brother to wipe out all possible heirs to said brother's fortune.

Plays and Players -:- By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

Joan Abbott, although this is her first season on the professional stage, has a featured spot in George White's "Scandals," which will reopen the Alvin next Monday after its long spell of darkness. Miss Abbott, singer and dancer who hails from Brooklyn, leads the "Here It Is" number in the revue, which has Willie and Eugene Howard, Rudy Vallee and Ethel Barrymore Colt among its principals. There'll be a matinee each day after Tuesday.

* * *

Bernard Shaw, whose latest play, "Too Good to Be True," begins the last half of its week in the Nixon tonight, with Beatrice Lillie and Hope Williams featured, compels producers of his works to stage them exactly as he has written them. No line or word he writes can be cut or altered without his consent. Sometimes the Theater Guild, producer of his plays in America, asks for such consent, but not often. It's too expensive. Cable rates are not nominal, and Shaw is just as prolific of words in a cablegram as in other things.

Registration for the eighth annual amateur players' contest under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Drama League have been completed. The plays will be presented the last week in April in the Theresa L. Kaufmann auditorium of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement, where they were produced last year. There will be 10 new entrants as well as winners of awards in previous contests, including the Emerson Club of Sacred Heart Church, Dracomtra Players of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, Jamestown Players of Jamestown, N. Y., and Dramatic Club of the Downtown Y. M. C. A. Representatives of contestants will discuss plans at a meeting in the Irene Kaufmann Settlement next Tuesday evening.

This is the season of Pneumonia

Beware of Colds NOW!

THIS is the season when pneumonia takes its heaviest toll. With an unusually large number of colds prevalent here and scattered cases of flu reported in many sections of the country, it is more than ever important to treat all colds promptly. Colds pull down body resistance and often pave the way for flu and pneumonia. Don't take chances. Double your protection with Vicks Plan for better "Control-of-Colds."

1 To Prevent Many Colds: Whenever you feel yourself "catching cold"—that unmistakable stuffy, sneezy feeling—apply a few Vicks Nose Drops up each nostril. This will check many colds before they get beyond your nose and throat—where most colds start.

2 To Reduce the Severity of Colds: If a cold slips by these precautions . . . or strikes without warning . . . don't neglect it. At bedtime massage your throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub. During the day use Vicks Nose Drops every few hours for added comfort and relief. This gives you full 24-hour treatment.

The BEAST of the CITY

"ENTER—A REAL HERO

IF PROOF were needed that the activities of the guardians of law and order offer as good material for adventure films as can be found in gangland's doings, the movies themselves have presented this proof. In "The Beast of the City," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release, thrill-seeking moviegoers have found entertainment packed with action and suspense. But it is chiefly the action to be found in the discharge of police duty and a suspense entirely in sympathy with the enforcement of law that holds the spectator's attention."

HARD TO JUDGE PLAYERS UNDER ARCS

NIGHT BASEBALL HAS met with opposition from many quarters but with no other class of diamond men has it proved so unpopular as with the scouts. Take it from Jack Doyle, one-time major league player and now the official ivory hunter for the Chicago Cubs on the Pacific Coast, the nocturnal system is poison to a scout. Not only is baseball by artificial light unorthodox, but the conditions, according to Doyle, render it absolutely impossible to judge the value of a young player. Form under the arcs is so treacherous that the big league agents are afraid to rely on it in recommending purchases.

Jack Doyle

For this reason, Doyle spent five weeks watching Stanley Hack last season before he felt safe in advising the Cubs to buy the youthful third baseman. The explanation of the long watch is that the only daylight games in which Hack played during the five weeks were the morning and afternoon events staged on Sundays. Doyle threw out all the night games in which Hack appeared in the meantime and judged the youngster solely on what he showed in the sunshine numbers.

YOU SIMPLY CAN'T tell a thing about a young player, Doyle declares, when there is only night competition on which to base an opinion. He says that while some of the minor league boys look better under the moonbeams than in daylight contests, others are ruined by the night game.

It was for the latter reason that the Yankees took Jesse Hill out of the Coast League. He made a great record as a hitter in his first year playing daylight ball, but under the arcs last season he fell off and his general play suffered. The Yanks knew Hill wasn't ripe for the majors, but they lifted him with a view to getting him away from night ball and have just turned him over to their International League farm in Newark.

CONDITIONING THE PIRATES on the Coast is only part of the big job of getting things ready for another Pittsburgh baseball season. While Groundkeeper Jack Fogarty is shaping up the playing field in his usual perfect style—visiting players will tell you there is no better-kept park in the country—work is humming behind the scenes on the other details for opening day.

That's one huge annual operation in which no hitch ever develops in Pittsburgh. In Vice President and Secretary S. E. Watters the Pittsburgh club has one of the ablest officials and directing heads in the realm of baseball, and in his capable hands the preparations for the 1932 season are progressing with the customary smoothness. Nothing is ever neglected on that score.

THERE WILL BE an unusually strong attraction for the opening game at Forbes Field on Wednesday, April 20, with the world champion Cardinals, carrying all the color given by Pepper Martin and the other stars that conquered the mighty A's, appearing against the Pirates, and the rate at which reserved seat ticket orders are already pouring in by mail assures that there will be a bumper crowd on hand to see the season launched and to greet the Pirates' new manager, George Gibson, an old favorite come back. Vice President Watters advises that to assure choice locations, reserved seat applications for opening day and the other games in the first series should be mailed to him at once at Forbes Field or the Flannery Building, with check or money order enclosed. The usual rates of $1.25 for reserved grandstand seats and $1.75 for box seats will prevail. This year, by the way, it will be possible to buy single box seats for the season. A few of the season box holders have expressed a willingness to sell some single seats in their boxes for the season and have asked the club to dispose of them. The rate is $25 per seat for the year exclusive of admission. These seats may be obtained through Vice President Watters.

Chick Davies

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY may well be said to have kept up its remarkable progress in athletics in securing for itself the continued services of Chick Davies as basketball coach by signing him to a new two-year contract. It is a step that will be heartily approved by all friends of the Bluff school.

Davies ranks high among the country's greatest basketball coaches. He has made a national reputation for the Dukes in his eight years on the Hilltop, and this year he put over his crowning achievement by winning the city intercollegiate championship in his first season of competition with Pitt and Carnegie Tech. They don't make basketball coaches any better than Chick, and the continuance of his contract means that Duquesne is going to stay right up in the front ranks.

OTHER BASEBALL CLUBS cut down on the number of rookies carried this spring, but not so the Cardinals. The Redbirds grab them young and school them in large numbers. That's how they manage to keep their team built up from year to year.

They have so many rookies in camp at Bradenton that they're using an infantry barracks as a clubhouse. Sam Breadon found 55 players eating in his mess hall the other day, 25 of them pitchers, and many of them booked for the Card baseball school, opening tomorrow at Springfield, Mo.

ANOTHER OF THE Stanley Cup play-offs, under the ridiculous system whereby the National League has spent five months eliminating two clubs, and which makes it possible for a team that finished third in its division to win the championship and the famous trophy over an outfit that landed first, will be opened tonight. The cup was put up by Lord Stanley, then Governor of Canada, for competition 39 years ago.

ORIGINALLY THE CUP was only a pewter mug costing $25, but it has since grown into a pyramid of silver, tier after tier having been added to the bowl to represent a new chapter in the history of the ice sport. The New York Rangers represent the only chance the United States has to capture the trophy this season.

Chicago and Detroit also are in the play-offs, but neither rates with the Dominion teams that are in the series—Les Canadiens, Maroons and Toronto. This is the first time in six years that Boston has not been in the post-season argument.

RECORD STANLEY CUP scores were those of 1905, when Ottawa beat Yukon 9 to 2 and 23 to 2. The longest game was a Ranger-Canadian tilt in 1930, lasting 128 minutes and 52 seconds, with the Flying Frenchmen winning, 2 to 1.

The individual record for goals scored in a series is six, first set by Jack Adams, of Vancouver, in 1922, and equaled by Nels Stewart, of the Montreal Maroons, in 1926.

Billy Petrolle

A COUPLE OF months ago there would have been little doubt in the mind of fistic fandom as to the outcome of a bout between Billy Petrolle and Battling Battalino, as Battalino was only a featherweight while Petrolle was riding high on a wave of welterweight success. But the meeting of these battlers in New York tonight presents a different situation, as Battalino, grown out of the featherweight division, has shown his ability to cope with the lightweights and welters, and not a few are picking him to halt the sensational winning streak of Petrolle. That's a mighty big contract, even for Battalino, who has never lost a fight in New York. An all-around form study would appear to show a slight edge for Petrelle. But no one can deny Bat at least a chance in a battle that promises to be one of the high spots of the year in the fight game.

W. & J. BOXERS TO TRY FOR OLYMPICS

By JESS CARVER

Heavy equipment and some rough and tumble, mostly tumble, work was the order of the day yesterday as Jock Sutherland took advantage of the comparatively okey-okey weather to send his Panther gridders through sixth day of the spring training grind.

Andy Gustafson

Considering the very impolite, to say the least, manner with which the elements have treated him and his footballers, Coach Jock is well satisfied with the work that has been accomplished so far.

The good Doctor called the boys out quite suddenly a week ago, and has had them holding forth in daily session since. Yesterday the boys were favored with a really suitable brand of weather, although the ground remained treacherous and gooey.

Assistant Coach Andy Gustafson is on hand and will remain until the windup of the drills. Andy is studying the fullback situation, where several men are racing neck-and-neck for the job. Weisenbaugh, from the sophomore material, is giving Matesic and Luch ace-high competition, and all three have young Mister Izzy Weinstock to worry about.

RING ENTRIES NAMED

Wash-Jeff announces that its student-coach-star, Al Demedowitz, the 165-pound ring star, will represent the Red and Black in the Intercollegiates and Olympic tryouts at Penn State, April 8 and 9. Demedowitz will be accompanied by Taylor Osborn, a 155-pound star, who will have to make the 147-pound limit to compete.

Demedowitz captured the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Conference title in the weight here in Pittsburgh last week. He is a good puncher and a cool boxer.

Next Tuesday night, tra la tra la, the West Penn basketball officials are to put on their annual banquet, this year at the P. A. A. Last time out, the boys gathered at Harry Dipple's tavern on Babcock boulevard.

Max Hannum, upon whose shoulders falls the responsibility of seeing that someone is put on the spot at each and every banquet, announces that he will inform Messrs. Yans Wallace and Leo McGlinchy that they have selected to take the positions of honor held last year by Beggs Snyder and Rody Ruttenbush, which means that Yans and Leo are in for a hot evening.

DUKES ARE SET

Coach Elmer Layden is primed to call his Dukes out for their initial spring grid drill next Monday. The Irish mentor had the stage set for the Dukers a couple weeks ago, but the weather blocked him off and he wisely canceled all arrangements until a later date.

Layden faces pretty much the same situation at Duquesne that Sutherland has in front of him at Pitt. A tough schedule, plenty of replacement work to be done and a reputation to maintain.

The Tri-State Intercollegiate Conference will hold a meeting at the Fort Pitt Hotel this afternoon to consider continuing or eliminating athletic scholarships.

If action is taken toward a general cleanup in Conference athletics, it is understood Allegheny College will make application for membership. It was expected representatives of Geneva, Thiel, Westminster, Waynesburg, Grove City and Bethany would attend.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: AN UNUSUAL HOLE IN PAR—Par for the 186-yard No. 7 hole of the Sedgefield golf course, Greensboro, N. C., is 3. Mr. Boren's tee shot landed in the rough to the left of the green. Trying to chip out, he missed his shot and the ball went a short distance in the rough. On his next shot, the ball left the rough and holed out directly into the cup, without touching the green, giving him a score of par 3 for the hole without the ball having been on the fairway or on the green.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 24.—The bold bad Buccaneers, of Pittsburgh, after having cleaned up in a big way against minor league competition during an 11-day stay in San Francisco, arrived here early today, and will lose little time before being stacked up against a severe test.

The New York Giants, the Bucs' most hated rival, will be played this afternoon at Wrigley Field in the first of a series of games that will bring the Corsairs against the Giants, Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers. The Buccos left nothing to be desired in their competition against the minor leaguers in 'Frisco, winning eight out of the 11 games played with the San Francisco Seals and Missions and the Oakland Acorns.

TOMMY STILL ON BENCH

Manager Gibson has been using his substitutes freely against the minor league teams, but he will change his tactics from today on, using nothing but his regulars, unless it is a case of necessity.

Floyd Vaughan, former Wichita star, who has been playing short, will continue to hold down that berth in the games with the big leaguers, and will be the only recruit in the Buc lineup. Tommy Thevenow is not yet ready for play, and Gibson is not going to take any chances of having him out for the regular season.

Vaughan has been playing a sterling brand of ball since the exhibition tour began and has left nothing to be desired in his play both in the field and at bat.

The regular pitching staff has rounded into excellent form and most of them are ready to hurl the entire route at the present time. French and Swift already have worked full games. Larry will be the mound selection in the first game with the Giants today.

PLANS HAMPERED

The Bucs are hoping that with their arrival here that they will run into a spell of warm weather. In 'Frisco the Corsairs ran into a cold spell that made the playing of baseball games difficult.

It also hampered the plans of Manager Gibson, who had arranged to hold daily sessions to keep his players in trim. He held the drills, but they were tempered

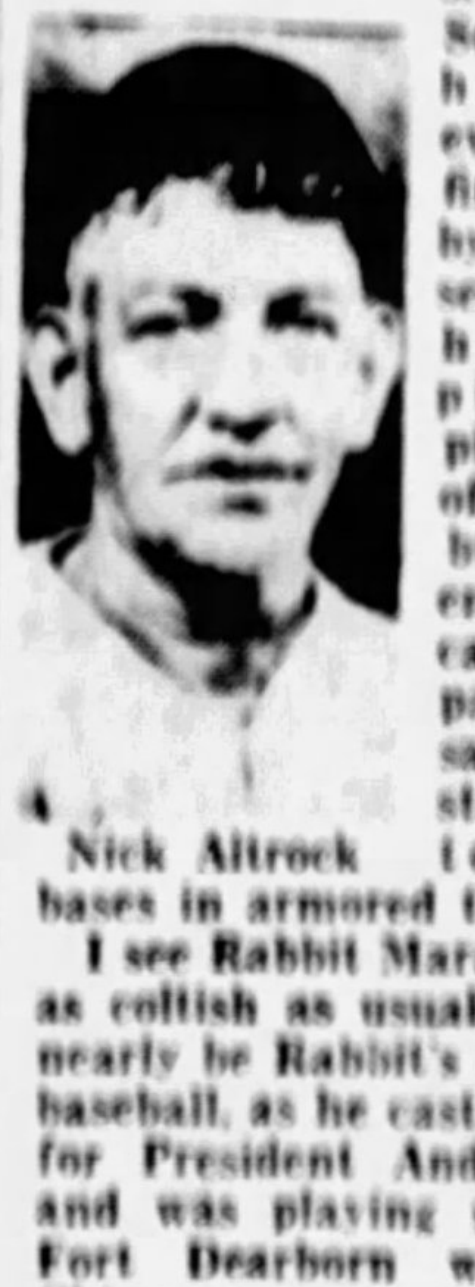
Nick Altrock Says:

BILOXI, Miss., March 24.—Say, that Pepper Martin is already running bases in mid-season form. So far Pepper has stolen everything but first base and by the time the season opens he will be picking umpires' pockets of their whisk-brooms and embezzling the catchers' shin pads. The only safe way to stop Pepper is to put the bases in armored trucks.



Nick Altrock

I see Rabbit Maranville is also as coltish as usual. This must nearly be Rabbit's centennial in baseball, as he cast his first vote for President Andrew Jackson and was playing shortstop for Fort Dearborn when it was Chicago.

APPLEBY ADVANCES

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—Albert Poensgen, of Germany, the defending champion, and Francis S. Appleby, of New York, were victorious last night in the opening matches of the world's amateur 18.2 balkline billiards championship. Poensgen defeated another German entry, Charles Foerster, 400 to 218 in 22 innings, and Appleby, a former national champion, took 45 innings to defeat Worth D. Bergherm, of Saginaw, Mich., 400 to 155.

MACKS, CARDS ARE FAVORED

NEW YORK, March 24.—Wall street believes the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals will repeat this year as pennant winners in their respective major leagues.

Betting odds released by J. B. Fried & Co., betting commissioners who handle most of the Wall street wagering, show that the Athletics are 6 to 5 favorites to cop the American League pennant, and the Cards, 8 to 5 to take the National flag.

The two New York teams, Yankees and Giants, are second best, both listed at 2 to 1 to finish first in their respective circuits. Washington at 3 to 1, and the Chicago Cubs, at 3½ to 1, are third best in the American and National divisions. The Pirates are listed at 10 to 1.

The Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds are the longest shots, each being listed at 40 to 1.

Cravotta Is Victor Over Arden Hefren

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 24.—Charley Cravotta, the Uniontown amateur welterweight, interrupted a sensational string of 39 consecutive victories chalked up by Arden Hefran of Oil City, in the feature bout of an amateur show staged here last night. The local boy won the judges' decision in three fast rounds.

John Nagy, Uniontown, won a three-round decision over Herb Toy, Oil City; Jimmy Clark, Oil City, defeated Paul Bailey, Uniontown, in three rounds at 135 pounds; Steve Stefak, 155, Uniontown, defeated Smoke Robinson, Oil City, in three rounds, and Joe Hornic, Uniontown lightweight, won the decision over Hector Leroy, of Morgantown, W. Va., in another three-rounder.

FRANK HOGAN INJURED

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—(AP.)—The New York Giants have their first casualty of the training season since Frank Hogan came out second best in a collision with the Wrigley Field grandstand. Freddie Lindstrom has a strained muscle in his right thigh. It kept him out of yesterday's game with Detroit, giving Chick Fullis a chance to play.

MOOSE ARENA LOSES DATE

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Finals of Diamond amateur tournament, McKeesport.
Billy Petrolle vs. Battling Battalino, 15 rounds; Ralph Lenny vs. Joey Mora[illegible], 10 rounds, and [illegible] vs. Harry Smith, 6 rounds, Madison Square Garden, New York.

With the Jackie Wilson-Frankie Wallace show scheduled last night called off because Wilson was "borrowed" to fill in for Jackie Rodgers against Baby Face Mathison at Motor Square Garden last Monday night, the Moose Temple also will be without its usual Wednesday night show next week, it develops. The Temple will be in use for another purpose, and it will be impractical to toss in the fight card on any other night of the week.

Ben Jeby, of New York, and Paul Pirrone, of Cleveland, were announced yesterday as the main-bouters at Motor Square Garden next Monday night, but, a few hours later, it developed that Jeby had contracted the heebie-jeebies or some other ailment and couldn't go, which is probably just as well, in view of the fact that he probably hasn't yet got over his one-round knockout defeat by Frankie Battaglia in Chicago last Friday night. Jim McGirr will stage his attractive Willie Davies-Tony Marino show in McKeesport on Thursday, and on Friday Eddie Kapphan and Apples Meyers put over their show in the Arena, following a week's layoff.

Meanwhile the wrestlers will be back in town for a show at the Garden next Wednesday night.

Jim McGirr winds up his Diamond amateur tournament in his McKeesport Arena tonight. He has 11 bouts in the semi-finals and finals and will stage three special bouts to swell the card. In these specials, Charley Cravatta meets Leo Finney, Joe Hughes boxes Eddie Roberts and William Ely takes on Jimmy White.

PINMEN TO DINE

The annual banquet of the Mt. Washington Bowling League will be held on Saturday, April 9, at the Italian Republican Club. A team co-captained by Harp O'Brien and Jim McTighe defeated an all-star get-up led by Mike Cafaro and Speed Wilhelm, 2249 to 2070.

Man Who Brought Connie Mack to Majors Dies

NORWICH, Conn., March 24.—(AP.)—The man who introduced Connie Mack to major league baseball died yesterday. He was Charles F. Daniels, 83, believed to have been the last survivor of the original staff of National League umpires. Injuries and exposure suffered when he fell on a country road during a snowstorm Monday caused his death.

Daniels acquired Mack—a likely looking youngster playing with the Meriden team—while he was managing the Hartford club, then in the National League. The transaction cost him "next to nothing," he once said.

An umpire for 25 years for the American Association, the National League, the Eastern Association and the College Association, Daniels received from $5 to $10 each for his earlier games.

Between Rounds

Dandy Allen, Negro featherweight from Philadelphia who boxed Joey Thomas in his only local start, is looking for bouts. His manager, George A. [illegible], may be reached by calling Churchill [illegible].

The following bouts have been made for Stanley Phillips' second amateur show under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Club of the North Side, in Masonic Hall, Monday night: Mark Urbick vs. Tony Tuccola, Paul Snyder vs. Chuck Meyers, Mike Pickens vs. Young Ray, Al Phillips vs. Frankie Schall, Joe Jeffries vs. Steve Froonick and Al Quail vs. James Davis.

Battling Gizzy, who meets Wesley Ramey in Detroit one week from tonight, also has matches in the making at Flint, Mich., April 7, and in the Chicago Stadium, April 15.

Entries close next Monday night for the A. M. A. senior championship tournament at the Keystone A. C., the following Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

W. VA. SCHOOLS MEET

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 24.—(AP.)—Coaches and principals of Central West Virginia High Schools have been asked to meet here this evening to reorganize the Central West Virginia High School Baseball League for its fifth season. The notice was issued by Newton Anderson, coach of the Upshur County High School at Buckhannon, who is secretary of the league.

DAVIES SIGNS NEW CONTRACT

Charles R. (Chick) Davies, Duquesne University basketball coach, signed a new contract yesterday with Duquesne for a period of two years. The contract was then returned to the athletic council of the university.

Next season will be the ninth for Coach Davies at Duquesne, and following the completion of the new agreement, the popular Duke mentor will have ended a 10-year engagement on the Bluff.

Chick is now in his sophomore year at Duquesne, where he is a student in the school of education. The new contract will expire upon his graduation from Duquesne University in June, 1934. Davies' brother, Audley, a student in the same department, will graduate together with the Duke coach. Audley is a member of the varsity five.

Coach Davies succeeded Bill Campbell, Homestead High School coach, as mentor of the Duke floor teams, and has been turning out flashy combinations on the Bluff ever since.

Beaver Floor Play Begins Tomorrow

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., March 24.—The fifth annual Beaver County tournament will be held tomorrow and Saturday. Competition will be divided into two classes, namely the A and B classes. The tournament is open to any amateur teams and there is a weight limit in the junior division. Last year there were 36 teams entered but this year the entries have not been quite so numerous because of the many other tournaments that are being held in this vicinity.

The games will be handled by members of Beaver County Officials' Association. The tournament has been sanctioned by the A. M. A. A. A. U.

OLDTIMERS AT Y

J. O'LOUGHLIN TOPS DISTRICT NET RANKING

RACQUET STARS HERE RATED BY P. T. A.

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

For the first time in its lengthy history, the Pittsburgh Tennis Association has compiled an official ranking list of Steel City net stars.

J. O'Loughlin

The district ratings, released to the public last evening in an exclusive radio broadcast by Ranking Committee Chairman Robert C. Schmertz, Stanton Heights luminary, as a feature of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Trained Seals' weekly sports session, shows Dr. John O'Loughlin, P. A. A. ace, at the top of the men's singles list, with Dr. Dave O'Loughlin, Winged Head captain, second, and Sam Harbison, Edgewood and Allegheny Country Club flash, third by the well-known whisker.

THE RANKINGS

Twenty performers were selected, the initial 10 in order and the remainder as a group:

First 10

1, Dr. John L. O'Loughlin, P. A. A.; 2, Dr. David L. O'Loughlin, P. A. A.; 3, Sam Harbison, Edgewood; 4, Frank S. McClintock, University Club; 5, John D. Beatty, Stanton Heights; 6, W. McCook Reed, Edgewood; 7, William L. O'Loughlin, P. A. A.; 8, E. A. Knoche, Mount Lebanon; 9, Frank Broida, Pittsburgh Public Parks champion; 10, Leonard Reed, Edgewood.

Second 10

Edgar Alcorn, Mount Lebanon; Paul Barber, Sewickley; Charles Boyd, Edgewood; Dick Cable, University Club; Howard Campbell, College Hill; William Clardy, Westinghouse; William McCabe, South Hills; Don Reeder, College Hill; Frank S. Smith, Edgewood; W. Russell Unger, Mount Lebanon.

John O'Loughlin received the unanimous vote of the committee for the No. 1 position, the Red and Gray satellite having registered nine victories over outstanding local players without suffering a defeat by a racqueter from this district.

TWO NEAR DEADLOCK

Dave O'Loughlin and Harbison were virtually deadlocked in the committee balloting, the former ultimately copping the nod because of having engaged in a greater number of Pittsburgh battles than did his rival. Harbison eliminated O'Loughlin in the semi-finals of the 1931 Western Pennsylvania tourney, but in mitigation of this point it was considered that on the afternoon of the match O'Loughlin was compelled to skirmish through an entire contest with McCook Reed before meeting Harbison, whereas Harbison had been forced to play only part of a joust with Billy O'Loughlin prior to the session with Dave. The rest of the chosen 10 fell into line with mathematical precision.

After a thorough canvass of the field, it was decided to rank but one team in men's doubles, incomplete records and multitudinous switching of partners rendering the task of further selections virtually impossible. Drs. Billy McElroy and Dave O'Loughlin, Western Pennsylvania premiers and winners of the Allegheny Country Club and Pittsburgh Golf Club indoor dual events, annex the palm.

No attempt was made to formulate rankings in women's singles or doubles or in mixed doubles, though it is hoped that it will prove feasible to attend to these tasks at the end of the 1932 campaign.

SCHMERTZ CHAIRMAN

Chairman Schmertz was assisted in his work by the following committee of veteran netmen: President J. Phillips Davis, of the P. T. A.; Percy D. Siverd, P. A. A. crack and former Pennsylvania state champion; T. Coleman Ward, nationally noted in the councils of tennis; Jack Beatty, Stanton Hights leader, and Frank McClintock, University Club high man.

The rankings were based upon showings made in the appended events: The Western Pennsylvania championships, the Greensburg Country Club open tournament, the Beaver County championships, the Pittsburgh Public Parks championship, matches in the Pittsburgh Tennis Association Inter-Club League. Players who reside within 50 miles of Pittsburgh and who competed in at least five tilts in any of the above action were alone considered for ranking.

The committee was aided in its deliberations by lists submitted by each of the captains of teams in Section 1, of the Inter-Club loop.

"The ranking is the result of consultation and comparison of records; opinion argument was tabon in our committee sessions," asserted Chairman Schmertz in final explanation of the methods adhered to in compiling the slate.

Broke, Willard Would Box Dempsey

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 24.—(INS.)—Admitting that he was "broke," Jess Willard, formerly a heavyweight champion of the world, today made plans for an exhibition tour. He weighs 300 puonds, but said his chief ambition was to fight Jack Dempsey a feuur-round bout.

NEW YORK, March 24.—(INS.)—The old report that Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, plans to fight Primo Carnera in Reno, Nev., this year, was revived today as a result of a conference held here between Dempsey and Bill Duffy, Carnera's American manager. Jack said Primo would be a satisfactory opponent.

Dempsey unleashed a blast at James J. Johnston, Madison Square Garden promoter, who frequently has announced plans for a Dempsey fight.

"Johnston would do well to attend to his own matchmaking instead of paying too much attention to mine," the old champion said. "I will never fight for the Garden as long as Johnston is associated with the organization."

LOCALS DEFEAT TITAN QUINT

The Pittsburgh Collegians set down the New Kensington Merchants, an all-Westminster College five, 47 to 37, in an extra-period game, with about 300 in attendance, at Motor Square Garden last night. The game was tied at 25-all when the regulation 40 minutes had ended. Westminster's basketeers had led at the half by a meager 17-15 margin.

Tim Lawry, Pitt ace, scoring nine field goals and two fouls; Montgomery, of Geneva, and Arthur Hyatt, Schenley High star, featured the Collegians' victory, while Brownlee and Rice went well for the Westminster passers. The lineup:

Collegians	Fg	F	Pt	N. Wilmington	Fg	F	Pt
Montgomery f	5	2	12	Douglas f	0	0	0

U. S. NETMEN TRIUMPH OVER FRANCE

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—Breaking even in the concluding singles matches last night, the United States wound up the winner in its international team tennis joust with France, three victories to two.

Frank Shields drove home the deciding points for Uncle Sam when he subdued Christian Boussus, 6-1, 6-4, 10-8. After that it mattered not that the 34-year-old Jean Borotra closed the three-day carnival with a spectacular win over this country's newest indoor champion, Gregory Mangin, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

The bounding Basque, nevertheless, emerged the individual hero of the tournament in scoring both of the tri-color's triumphs. He did more than his share by beating both Shields and Mangin, but he didn't get any help. Boussus bowed to the same pair without much of a struggle, and Borotra was handicapped by a weak partner, Antoine Gentien, in the doubles event against George Lott and Johnny van Ryn.

Borotra really won in the opening set, when he rallied after being down, 4-1, and ran off five straight games. He not only broke Mangin's service twice, but pretty well broke the Newark boy's spirit right there. The American came back to take the second set and square things, but he didn't have much left after that.

Opening the final set with a rush, Borotra quickly piled up a 5-0 lead and Mangin averted a love set only by winning his service in the sixth game. Mangin, to all appearances, was playing about as well as last week, when he sailed through the national indoor meet. He made a battle of it, as proved by the fact he scored 111 points in the four sets to Borotra's 120, but the French star had the deciding edge in the pinches.

PADDY MULLINS SUCCUMBS

Among the boxers Mullins managed were Harry Wills, the Negro heavyweight; Mike O'Dowd, Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, and Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion.

He had not been very active in recent years since the elimination of Wills as a heavyweight menace.

Brown Remains Association Ump

CHICAGO, March 24.—(AP.)—With the exception of W. H. Erwin, an addition obtained from the Western League, the same staff of umpires will call 'em in the American Association during the 1932 season. Erwin replaces Umpire Connolly, who retired. The staff:

Larry Goetz, C. E. Johnston, Frank Brown, of Pittsburgh; Joe Rue, R. W. Snyder, E. J. Pfeffer, W. F. Clayton, George H. Johnson and W. H. Erwin.

Kansas City at Columbus—Johnson and Pfeffer.

St. Paul at Louisville—Goetz, Brown and Erwin.

Minneapolis at Indianapolis—Snyder and Clayton.

BOSTON ICEMEN COP

STREATHAM, England, March 24.—(AP.)—The Boston Olympic hockey club yesterday defeated England 3 goals to 1 in the first game of an international three-game series.

CO. D WINS TITLE

BUTLER, Pa., March 24.—Company D won the championship of the Butler-Armstrong County League on the "Y" floor last night in a thrilling game. The score was 37-34.

NORTH-SOUTH GOLFERS LED BY DOSER

PINEHURST, N. C., March 24.—(INS.)—Clarence Doser, 23-year-old Western New York P. G. A. title holder, of Rochester, N. Y., led the field in early scores with a 36-37—73 in the opening round of the annual North and South $5,650 open golf tournament this afternoon.

Tony Longo, Ferndale, N. Y., and Harold Callaway, Pinehurst, tied for second and third position with 73s. Walter Schieber, Jamaica, N. Y., carded 78 to take fourth position.

Less than a quarter of the field of 101 players, including the favorites, were in.

MRS. HILL CHAMPION

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., March 24.—(AP.)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, Mo., won the women's Mid-South golf tournament today with a score of 159 for the 36-hole medal play event. She shot a 78 for the final round today to go with her 81 which led the field yesterday.

Local Boys Among Leaders in Contest

MANLIUS, N. Y., March 24.—William Seamans, of Factoryville, Pa., won the annual basketball foul shooting contest at the Manlius school here, it has been announced by Capt. Mark Bradley, director of athletics and coach of basketball. He scored 70 out of 100 tries. Other leaders in the contest were were L. R. Titus, of Pittsburgh; W. J. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Troy; D. O. Willard, Nunda, N. Y.; Arthur Hoffman, Syracuse; W. B. Dunlap, Pittsburgh; G. M. K. Baker, Lancaster, Pa.; A. P. Bender, Rocky River, O., and J. B. Murphy, Albany.

Four Race Horses Meet Death in Fire

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 24.—(AP.)—Four trotting mares were burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed a stock barn on the farm of J. O. McAlister, who estimated the loss at $15,000. One of the horses destroyed, Calumet Belricka, a 4-year-old, was a well known racing mare. The other three mares, Lotta Watts, 17 years old; Ophie Creek, 12, and Leila Harvester, 6, were in foal.

CHILLYSAUCE

—By CHARLES J. DOYLE—

New York baseball lovers are receiving daily camp tributes on Rookie Shortstop Frank Crosetti who is in training with Joe McCarthy's Yanks. The clever Italian youth and graduate of the San Francisco Seals has been known to Pirate fans for several years as a result of his brilliance in exhibition tilts between the Buccos and Seals. Crosetti actually started his professional career in opposing the Freebooters; in jig time his employers were asking a fabulous sum for his services and the Yankees eventually paid a fortune for him.

Already Frank is being compared with other star shortfielders of this and another day. His perfect habits are one thing in his favor, yet despite his rare skill he will have to be a corker to match Travis Jackson, Glenn Wright, Joe Cronin, Charlie Gelbert and Woodie English.

It would not surprise me were Crosetti to land at third base. In Lyn Lary, the Yankees have a "sweet" short fielder who, like his teammate, learned his diamond lessons on the Pacific Coast. Lary is almost the last word in grace as a fielding shortstop, and he smacked the ball for a .280 mark as he starred in the shortfield last year. Crosetti has had considerable experience at the hot corner, in fact, Frank broke in at third. Rangy in physique, the Seals' star is patterned along the lines of Tony Lazzeri, another Italian athlete from the Native Son commonwealth, who still holds forth on the Yankee roster.

Not a few people are picking Clan McCarthy to end the pennant reign of Clan McGillicuddy. I recall that in 1929 when Clever Cornelius took the measure of the Bruins in the titular series, the boss of the Athletics stated he expected to see McCarthy accomplish big things in the game. Can it be that Connie's prophecy is to be fulfilled in a manner so striking as to amaze even Mack. The latter, when he gave his estimate on McCarthy, had no idea that Joe would be over in his league to harass him as he yearned for four flags in a row.

Don't wager too heavily on a proposition that has the "A's" bowing to the Yankees. Grove and Earnshaw give Mack a running start with a promise of approximately 50 victories, and don't underestimate Mickey Cochrane, who was a star of the last world series despite the wild ramblings of one Pepper Martin.

The Wild Horse of the Osage deserved every feat achieved in the series, but he did not steal his bases altogether on Cochrane. Pepper had the jump on the pitchers. Moreover, Cochrane was not the Mickey of good health in the scraps with the Cardinals. He was "beaned" by a Cleveland pitcher in the heat of the race for the flag and suffered from that bad incident in the inter-league fights.

Personally, I have seen catchers who are smoother than Cochrane in the point of receiving, and there are any number of better throwers in the sport, but there is no better hustler in any league. And at that bat and on the bases he is close to the Cobb classification. As sick as he was in the series his bat flashed line drives.

Cochrane to Have Ailing Foot Treated

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 24.—(AP.)—Mickey Cochrane, star catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, was today removed to the Lakeland Hospital for treatment of his infected foot.

Cochrane's foot became infected from a blister on the left instep, and he has been out of the game since last week. Last night the swelling increased and it was decided to send him to the hospital so he might have constant medical attention. He probably will be out of the game for the remainder of the training period.

TWO CHARITY TILTS CARDED SATURDAY

Two games will be staged in the Charity Cup series Saturday afternoon. The big game will be staged at Leslie Park and will find the Pittsburgh Rovers clashing with Beadling, of the Panhandle League. When a Panhandle club gets into cup tie warfare, plenty of action is bound to take place.

The other game will be held at Swissvale, and brings together the Union Switch and Signal eleven opposed to the Keystone Shaft aggregation. The Herminie club is composed of veterans from around the Rillton district.

Miss Turnbull May Pilot Boat Abroad

MONROVIA, Cal., March 24.—(AP.)—Lauretta Turnbull, international outboard champion, has been invited to pilot an entry in the famous 600-mile dinghy race at Poole Harbor, England. She probably will accept the invitation.

FARGO EXPRESS FACES TEST IN BATTALINO

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—The almost futile job of flagging down the old Fargo Express falls tonight to the fists of another youngster, this time Christopher (Bat) Battalino, former featherweight champion of the world. The fight is scheduled for 12 rounds.

Since Uncle Will Petrolle, battered old feature and seemingly headed for oblivion, came out of a two-year retirement these youngsters have been taking turns trying to stop him. But Will, the patient hod carrier of the ring, sidles in quietly in his tattered bath robe, makes as calm and workmanlike a job of it as he can and sidles out again, leaving the promoting folks to dig up some new and ambitious battler.

BATTALINO IMPROVES

Aside from Jimmy McLarnin, who took one tearful beating from Will before coming back to edge out two decisions, Petrolle hasn't faced as rugged a foe as Battalino since resurrecting his ring career after a two-year layoff 18 months ago.

Battalino has improved with every fight, beating such feathers as Earl Mastro, Kid Chocolate and Fidel Labarba, stepping long enough into the lightweight ranks to knock out Al Singer in two rounds before forfeiting his title for inability again to make his class weight.

He hovers around the welterweight class now, is steadily growing and may weigh over 140 pounds, Petrolle's best weight, for tonight's tussle. In his most recent engagement Battalino outpointed Ran in 10 rounds.

PETROLLE FAVORED

Battalino, as usual, is the underdog with Petrolle a favorite at 8 to 5, but the Hartford, Conn., Italian is accustomed to that. His opponents in all his big matches have been the betting choices. But they are still trying to beat him.

In styles Petrolle has a decided edge, his left hook to the body and right uppercut to the head being more or less designed to stop the shifting crab-like advance of the former 126-pound king.

SPINELLA PACES OWN TEAM

DETROIT, March 24.—(AP)—The Barney Spinella Recreations of Brooklyn topped the score on the opening team shift of the American Bowling Congress tournament last night when they totaled 2683 on games of 837, 974 and 872.

The Easterners were paced by their famous backer, Barney Spinella, who is considered one of the five leading bowlers in the country. Although failing to roll any sensational marks, Spinella was not entirely disappointing to the capacity crowd that had gathered to watch him. He rolled 597 despite two errors.

After starting with 183, Barney came back to tumble 210 pins as his second effort and in the windup he found the pocket for 204.

Bill Totten, a member of Spinella's team, brought the crowd to its feet when he picked up the seemingly impossible 4-6 split in the second frame of his first game.

Leetsdale Quintet To Dine Tonight

Members of the Leetsdale High School basketball squad, W. P. I. A. L. champions in Section II, will be honor guests at a testimonial banquet in the Leetsdale High School dining hall tonight.

A fine program of entertainment has been arranged, with Jess Carver, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sports staff, as master of ceremonies. Dr. H. C. Carlson, head coach at Pitt, will give the principal talk. John Holahan, graduate manager at Duquesne University and a Leetsdale alumnus; Tim Lawry, of Pitt; Cliff Aultman and Manager A. C. Edgecomb, of Geneva; Dudey Moore, of Duquesne, and Brew Jackson, Duquesne's athletic trainer and an entertainer of no mean ability, are included on the program.

Coach Ray Bucker will award letters to his squad and a captain will be elected for next year.

Women's Pin Event Carded April 16

A one-day bowling tournament for women only is being planned by Eddie Edwards for the Penn Recreation Alleys, 810 Penn avenue. Edwards plans to put the event on Saturday, April 16, and will have competition in singles, doubles and team events.

While rolling for the Edwards team in the Pastime League yesterday, Mrs. Hoffman rolled the fine score of 558, having games of 160, 164, 235. The Edwards team defeated the Brunswick League in a dual match by a count of 1836 to 1663.

Sport Vignettes

From a concern manufacturing a new golf ball comes a sample with the admonition that it be tried out and the results noted.

Now if we only had a set of clubs and a bag and a course to play upon and a caddie, why we'd have ham and eggs, now that we have the eggs.

Paul Reider

Reider, by the way, is the scrappiest grid leader Pitt has had since the salad days of Tommy Holleran. . . . Proof that he is a "natural" southpaw may be found in the fact that he can end any silly argument by walking off and piping, "Aw—go give yourself a blow!" . . . He probably thinks all folks are whales. . . . And him a Trained Seal, too!

Reider weighs less than 160 pounds, but he goes better on the football field than most of the bigger huskier fellows because he is fast, tough, confident and quick-witted. . . . In addition to being a demon ball carrier, the New Castle product is a fine passer and receiver of passes. . . . He likes to kid the opposition and seldom squawks when he gets a dose of his own medicine in return. . . . In one game last year the opposing team inserted its star tackle to take the place of a sub who had started at the position, and what did Reider do but glance up to him and crack: "I hope you're better than that OTHER ham they had in here."

. . . Which comes under the head of getting the mental jump on the other fellow, or psychology of one sort or another.

To show you how much you can believe the average statistics on a football squad, there is that fellow, Joe Moran, who fights in the 155-pound class for Syracuse and is the Intercollegiate champion. . . . In the fall the press agent's fancy lightly lists Joe as the dashing, crashing, smashing 190-pound halfback who simply is ir-rrr-resistible. . . . David Jakes, who won a bout by a knockout in one round at East Liverpool the other night, was the star of the Midland High School football team last fall, a contender for the W. P. I. A. L. championship. . . . The tip is out that the joining of forces by Eddie Kapphan and Apples Meyers in the former's Arena means that Kapphan will have a "piece" of the Meyers Bowl this summer, and will pass up his plan to build a large outdoor arena.—HARRY KECK

Hunting and Fishing

What about the ducks and the future of waterfowl hunting? This and many other similar questions affecting the sportsmen of the United States will be discussed at the tenth annual convention of the Izaak Walton League, to be held in Chicago in the Hotel Sherman next month. The gathering will open April 21 and continue through April 23. The waterfowl situation, including a discussion of plans to aid the birds to stage a comeback, and the newest developments in the farmer sportsman game growing program are scheduled to receive considerable attention.

Forty British sportsmen will compose the parties which have arranged to fish trout and salmon on the Miramichi River during 1932. The British parties, the first organized group of that country's anglers ever to come to New Brunswick, are being sponsored by the Transport Service Limited, of London, England, and are the result of negotiations which have been carried on for some months.

Fishing is the most democratic of all sports. Support all work against pollution of streams and restoration and protection of fish that we may have better fishing. —Theodore Roosevelt.

WEST VIEW GIRLS JUNIOR CHAMPIONS

By JULIUS LEVIN

The West View Junior High School girls' basketball team, coached by Miss Miriam McGarragh, graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers College, has obtained permanent possession of the Allegheny County junior basketball trophy as a result of winning the title for the third time.

The West View girls enjoyed an exceptionally good season, scoring six victories in seven starts, climaxing the campaign by defeating Calhoun Junior High of West Homestead 29-13 on the Bellevue High School floor to clinch the crown.

SEEK TRACK TITLE

The West View girls also hold two legs on the track trophy and another victory this year will give them permanent possession of the cup. Included among the victims of the West View passers this season were Robinson, Findlay and Neville Island.

The trophy and letters will be awarded the members of the team at the Parent-Teachers meeting to be held in West View on April 11. C. W. Peters, of the Allegheny County Board of Education, will make the presentations.

STARS TO GET LETTERS

School Notes

Section VIII has produced the last two basketball champions of the W. P. I. A. L. Scott High, last year's state champion, also hailed from this group. Two years ago Duquesne High was the section VIII representative and it went to the finals before bowing in defeat.

Shady Side Academy has October 14 or 15 open for a football game this fall. Teams interested in filling this date call Sterling [illegible]. Capt. W. A. Palmer, athletic director, will replace Jimmy Robertson as coach.

Sharon will be the scene of the basketball final for the western regional championship. The Braddock-Fifth Avenue winner in Saturday's game will meet Erie Strong Vincent in Sharon for the right to engage the eastern regional champion. Fifth Avenue represents District 8, Braddock District 7, and Erie Strong Vincent District 10.

[illegible] "Pinkey" Kreling, star forward of the Braddock quintet which won the W. P. I. A. L. title, is without doubt the greatest performer to play in the recent elimination series. Kreling never slackened his pace from start to finish.

considerably so as not to endanger the health of the players.

At Oakland yesterday the win-streak of the Pirates was halted by the Coast League club of that place, the Bucs losing 9 to 3 and yielding 16 hits.

Oakland was led by their sensational shortstop, Joe Burke, who cracked out a triple, a double and single in five trips. Ervin Brame, big righthander, started for the National Leaguers and proved easy for the Oaks, who found him for all nine runs and 12 hits in six innings.

Carnera Bruised, But Stops Cook

LONDON, March 24.—(INS)—Primo Carnera, giant Italian heavyweight, who knocked out George Cook, Australian veteran, in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round bout here last night, had a flock of bruises today as souvenirs of the scrap. "Da Preem" absorbed a beating about the head and body before he was able to put his man away.

After being dropped to the canvas for a count of three in the first round, and again after being floored for a count of six in the third, Cook got off the floor and drove the Italian to the ropes. In the fourth, however, Primo felled Cook for a count of nine with a right to the jaw and then sent the Australian crashing through the ropes for a knockout.

Carnera had a 57-pound pull in the weights. He weighed 244 to 187 for Cook.

Wheeling Second In Elks' Pin Event

TOLEDO, O., March 24.—(AP)—The Wheeling, W. Va., Elks No. 1 team last night went into second place behind Terre Haute, Ind., in the National Elks bowling tournament with games of 1,005-918-937 for a 2,860 total.

Oscar, Otto, William and John Jensen, of Terre Haute, made a clean sweep of the singles standings, taking the first four places in order with scores of 634, 626, 610 and 606. Otto Jensen also took the all-events lead with a total of 1,886.

Otto and William Jensen captured the doubles lead with a count of 1,232, with R. Wright and F. Reid, of Wheeling, W. Va., just behind with 1,220.

CITY LEAGUE SETS ROSTER TONIGHT

By TOM BIRKS

With the anticipation of eight clubs affiliating, the City League expects to close its roster this evening at a special meeting at Books at 8 p. m. Homewood, J. L. Thomas, Dormont, Books and the North Side entry will be represented of last season's clubs. Reliance Life, Wilkinsburg and Stowe may be on hand to bid for the other berths.

With Art Rooney back in town the presence of the popular North Side sportsman at the meeting will settle the issue as far as the Cubs are concerned.

The officials for the coming season also will be selected.

HOCKEY TITLE SERIES OPENS

The Yellow Jackets are the only International Hockey League team not scheduled for action tonight. While the other members of the circuit are engaging in exhibition games, all play-off berths already having been clinched, the local skaters will go through a light workout in preparation for their last game of the season—with the Cleveland Indians here Saturday night.

While the International loop's activity will be of a tune-up nature, the battling in the National League tonight will be exceedingly serious. The Montreal Canadiens are to be hosts to the New York Rangers, and the Montreal Maroons will appear at Detroit in the first games of the major league's annual play-offs for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world championship.

Chicago and Toronto, other Stanley Cup series qualifiers, will not swing into championship action until Sunday.

Whether Pittsburgh or Cleveland is to have the services of Goalie Gordy (Sonny Boy) Baxter next season will not be determined until the spring meeting of the International League. Both teams recently claimed the services of the little guard, and when Coach Charley Reid met with President Charles S. King and the Cleveland management a few days ago no decision was reached. The Indians were given more time to produce a contract, which they say they hold.

A "little world series" in hockey, proposed about two weeks ago, has been approved. The winners of the International League and Canadian-American League championships will be opposed in a best out of three games test.

Art Berlett, defense player loaned to Buffalo at about mid-season, has been sold to the Bisons, Coach Reid has announced.

GAME SITE, DATE CHANGED

FORT ERIE, Ont., March 24.—(AP)—The final game on the International Hockey League schedule between Buffalo and Detroit, scheduled for the latter city today, was shifted to Fort Erie and will be played Saturday night.

The change was made because of the National League playoff at Detroit Sunday between the Detroit Falcons and the Montreal Maroons.

TO CHALLENGE FOR CUP

CHICAGO, March 24.—(AP)—The American Hockey League has no intention of letting the Stanley Cup, emblem of world hockey supremacy, go to the National League.

Tom Shaughnessy, president of the Chicago Shamrocks, who led the American League and were favorites to win the intra-league playoffs, today said that his team would issue a formal challenge to the National League winners with every expectation of playing for the cup as would any other club in his league.

Hafey Threatens To Quit Baseball

BERKELEY, Cal., March 24.—(INS)—Charles (Chick) Hafey, St. Louis Cardinals holdout outfielder, will remain out of baseball this year unless he receives $17,000 for his services, he said today.

Hafey, 1931 batting champion of the National League, received $12,500 last year. He said he had not received an answer from Sam Breadon, owner of the Cardinals, from whom he demanded a $4,500 raise.

the Marsh Stogie
IS A BETTER SMOKE THAN EVER

HAVE YOU tried a Marsh lately? If you haven't you're missing something good! Try one, and see for yourself how the fine, old Marsh quality is helped by our two new methods.

First—every stogie is now Seasoned-in-Cedar, stored in a huge cedar-lined room right after it's made. Ask any tobacco expert what cedar seasoning can add. Marsh is the only stogie to take on the extra expense that gives you this extra enjoyment.

Second—the Marsh Flavor-Guard is a patented new method of sealing in Cellophane. It preserves the fine flavor and freshness of the stogie . . . guards against drying out . . . protects them from breaking in your pocket.

Try a Marsh Stogie today—that's the only way you can see for yourself what Seasoning-in-Cedar and the new Cellophane Flavor-Guard have added to the stogie that's been a Pittsburgh favorite for many generations.

CONGRESS TAX REVOLT HELD HARMFUL

Movement to Burden Rich Seen as Tending to Lower Financial Confidence

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Financial confidence, enhanced by the reconstruction program, has been lowered by the tax revolt in Congress.

The movement to "soak the rich" comes when men of finance and trade were already discouraged, and thus tends to weaken initiative and enterprise on which job creating activities depend.

Mr. Rukeyser.

The emotional drive behind the movement is not difficult to understand, since the public believes that the highly remunerated failed in the tasks of management in the large. But the real issue is whether Congress should give irrational vent to its emotions, or seek to stabilize economic conditions. The threat of punitive and harmful taxation scarcely fits in with the reconstruction program.

RICH BURDENED

The rich have already been "soaked" by a vast capital levy in the form of a decline in prices of securities and real estate which they own. Only the shorts and the 100 per cent liquid groups have escaped the shrinkage.

The federal tax problem springs from the fact that the sources of taxation—namely business profits—have tended to dry up. The revenue will not be forthcoming if Congress resorts only to hypothetical increases on hypothetical incomes. The real lineup is not between the rich and the poor, but between knowledge and ignorance. The rich will not be "soaked" because they have avenues of escape in the form of tax exempt securities, non-dividend paying common stocks, offsetting of income through deduction of capital losses and the practice of living on uninvested capital.

SALES TAX FEASIBLE

The tax program should be made part and parcel of the reconstruction program. Congress should do nothing tax-wise which will interfere with measures intended to stabilize economic conditions and relieve unemployment. The manufacturers' sales tax offers a sensible revenue system, which is feasible in time of depression as well as in periods of prosperity. Moreover, an excise tax on beer and light wines, provided they could be legalized, would provide large revenues.

The resentment in Congress expressed in the tax revolt springs in part from impatience over the lack of fundamental remedial measures. Unless Congress acts promptly along sound lines through the acceleration of public works and farm relief which will bolster up purchasing power, then there is the hazard of ill considered measures. The tax revolt is harmful, however, in that it will defeat its own purposes and tend to aggravate business depression.

Rail Expert Sees Improved Traffic

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—If the railways can recoup half of the traffic lost since 1929, they will be able, in view of operating economies effected in the past two years, to earn more than they did in the palmy days of 1929 according to an estimate prepared by W. W. Colpitts, prominent railway expert.

Mr. Colpitts, who presented his estimates in an address before a meeting of the Security Owners' Association, said, furthermore, that it was not too great a stretch of the imagination to assume that railway traffic would return half way back to the 1929 volume "before very long." The speaker is a member of the engineering firm of Coverdale & Colpitts, which has taken a prominent part in railway reorganizations in recent years.

Gas Firms Report January Profits Off

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—Revenues of manufactured and natural gas utilities aggregated $64,915,590 in January, the statistical department of the American Gas Association reported on the basis of figures from companies representing 90 per cent of the utility distribution. This was a decline of 11.4 per cent from the same month last year. Manufactured gas companies reported revenues of $33,728,026, a decline of 8.2 per cent, and natural gas concerns of $31,187,564, approximately 14 per cent less than January, 1931.

BRITISH POUND SHOOTS UP

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—A sharp upturn of 7 cents in the British pound sterling, the greatest gain recorded since its spectacular rise two weeks ago of 20 cents in one day, featured dealings in the foreign exchange market today.

The cable price for the pound ran up 5 cents to $3.69¼ cents in early trading and later moved up to $3.71¼.

New York dealers said that the Bank of England was apparently not attempting to hold the price down although there were widespread reports that it might soften bulges in the currency by selling sterling on rallies.

Bankers described the buying as a combination of speculative and commercial operations with the added force of fairly sizeable shifting of world capital from other financial centers to London.

Although the Bank of England today made no change in its bank rate of 3½ per cent, following the weekly meeting of the board of directors, the sterling rise revived rumors that another reduction might soon be announced.

Producers Adopt Wool Sales Plan

SALT LAKE CITY, March 24.—(AP.)—A plan of marketing cooperatively the 1932 wool clip under an arrangement similar to that of last year was adopted by representatives of wool growers' associations of 11 western states at conferences here.

J. B. Wilson, general manager of the National Wool Marketing Association, said he expects the organization to handle more than 125,000,000 pounds of the 1932 wool clip, as compared with 107,000,000 pounds it marketed last year.

Banks, Exchanges To Close for Good Friday

Banks, stock exchanges and the principal commodity markets throughout the country will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

Banks and stock exchanges will resume business at the usual time on Saturday. Some of the commodity markets will remain closed over the week-end. The Chicago Board of Trade (Grain Pit) will be open Saturday.

Employment Gains In Chicago District

CHICAGO, March 24.—(AP.)—The Federal Reserve Bank said today that on the basis of reports from 2,672 firms, industrial employment and payrolls in the Seventh Federal Reserve District showed a gain between January 15 and February 15.

The increase in employment was the fourth registered since 1929, when industry began its downward curve, and was larger than the February average of recent years, the report said, while the payroll expansion, eighth recorded within two years, was smaller than the average.

Truly Warner Adds Shoes to Sales Line

The Truly Warner chain of men's hat stores will add shoes to its line just as soon as equipment can be installed in the 35 stores, it was announced today by Truly Warner, head of the organization. Mr. Warner said he believes prosperity to be a fact and depression a myth. He said:

"I'm not firing. I'm hiring. Business is here. It can be had by the merchant who goes after it, but he can't sit at his desk and expect it to come to him. This is not a seller's market, but a buyer's."

Second Quarter Car Needs Placed Lower

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Atlantic States Shippers' Advisory Board estimates car loadings of freight to be moved in Atlantic states territory during the second quarter, 1932, will be 626,141 cars, compared with 694,362 cars in the second quarter of 1931.

MIDCONTINENT OIL PRICE RAISED

Continental Company to Pay $1 for Crude April 1; Present Price 85 Cents

TULSA, Okla., March 24.—(AP.)—Dollar oil will flow from wells of the midcontinent area again next week.

The Continental Oil Company announced last night it would post a top price of $1 a barrel for midcontinent crude petroleum effective April 1. The prevailing top price is 85 cents.

An increase to $1 was sought vainly by state officials of Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas in a campaign for restriction of production last summer and fall. Prices were as low as 10 cents.

TOP GRADE TO BE $1

Gov. William H. Murray cut Oklahoma's output by material law. National guardsmen of Texas also were called out. The Kansas flow was reduced by civil action.

D. J. Moran, Continental president, said his company's new schedule would begin with 76 cents for oil of 29 degrees gravity or below and range upward 2 cents for each higher degree, making the highest price $1 for oil of 40 gravity or above.

OTHER COMPANIES FOLLOW

The other large companies will meet Continental's advance. Magnolia Petroleum (Standard Oil of New York), Sinclair Consolidated and Barnsdall announced similar prices and Standard Oil of New Jersey was expected to make its announcement momentarily.

Receivers Named For Clothing Firm

CINCINNATI, O., March 24.—(AP.)—Receivers have been appointed by Federal District Judge R. R. Nevin for the R. B. Clothing Company, which operates retail stores in six states.

The receivers were M. M. Rabb, president of the clothing company, and M. J. Feldman, banker, both of Cincinnati.

STOCK MARKET GAINS SOON ERASED

Number of Shares Lose 1 to 2 Points; Steel Declines; Tone of Oils Improved

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—The stock market was unable to make progress today in the face of pre-holiday speculative apathy.

The list pushed up moderately in the early trading, as higher crude prices bolstered the oils but scattered selling soon appeared which erased most of the advance and carried a number of rails, utilities and specialties 1 to 2 points lower. Selling appeared to represent largely a pre-holiday lightening of accounts however, as many traders were preparing to leave town until Monday.

Losses of around 2 points cropped out in Santa Fe and Union Pacific, and issues off a point or so included American Telephone, North American, American Tobacco B, McKeesport, National Biscuit and Procter & Gamble. United States Steel and General Motors sagged fractionally, the latter registering another new low. Anaconda and Kennecott again dipped fractionally to new bottom prices. Standards of New Jersey and California sold up more than a point during the temporary morning upturn, and fractional advances in the oil group were numerous for a time.

The advance of 15 cents a barrel in crude prices in the mid-continent area posted by Continental Oil was apparently to be followed by other producers generally, and represented the first upturn since November. Further firmness in gasoline prices was forecast as a result.

While petroleum prices stiffened, however, copper was again heavy. Copper Exporters, Inc., reduced its price at European base ports ⅛ of a cent to 6⅛ cents a pound.

Southern Pacific's February net operating income statement showing a deficit of $402,557 against a balance of $411,828 in the like month of last year was a little disappointing after the improvement reported by such roads as Union Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio. Opinion prevailed in Wall street, however, that recent railway revenues had been somewhat more satisfactory than expected at the start of the year. Some roads are rumored to have dropped or altered plans for requesting aid from the Reconstruction Corporation, finding that their needs will be substantially less than anticipated.

WHEAT CLOSES IRREGULAR

Some estimates put the total of Canadian wheat export sales as high as 1,500,000 bushels and noted 200,000 bushels additional from the United States. Other estimates of Canadian export sales were down to 750,000 bushels.

Wheat closed irregular at ⅛ a ⅛ decline to ⅛ advance compared with yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, oats ⅛ a ⅛ up, and provisions 7 to 17 cents down.

LOCAL MARKET IRREGULAR, QUIET

Quotations Sag Slightly As Sales Volume Gains; Gas Securities Narrow

Trading was a little more active on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, with the quotations on several issues showing moderate recessions from last night's closing figures.

Westinghouse Electric firmed up at the start, reflecting the better demand for the issue on the "big board" just before the close yesterday. Columbia Gas was fractionally lower. Lone Star was quiet and narrow. Western Public Service sold unchanged.

Oils here were slow in following the upturn in New York where the leading pertoleum issues responded sharply to the raise in Midcontinent crude prices.

Soviet Orders Steel From German Mills

BERLIN, March 24.—(AP.)—Reports from Essen today said that Soviet industries had placed orders for 200,000 tons of iron bars and sheets and that possibly 300,000 additional tons would be ordered later.

Russian orders in the Ruhr industries so far this year were estimated at between 300,000,000 and 400,000,000 reichsmarks. Terms of financing are still being considered.

Cotton Dumping Reports Unfounded

NEW ORLEANS, March 24.—E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, after his return from Washington stated that reports of proposed dumping of cotton by the Federal Farm Board are unfounded.

The Stabilization Corporation, of which Mr. Creekmore is manager, is under agreement with bankers of the south to sell no cotton until July 31, next. The corporation holds 1,300,000 bales of cotton.

Forbes

Congress Runs Amuck, Causing Renewed Alarm

—By B. C. FORBES—

CONGRESS, AFTER co-operating nobly to hasten financial recovery, has kicked over the traces.

Mr. Forbes

The effect is acutely disturbing.

The wildest, most impossible, tax proposals are enthusiastically hailed and indorsed by Congressmen utterly unfamiliar with economics, utterly ignorant of the consequences their schemes would precipitate.

They apparently don't realize that their plan to exact from the rich $72 out of $100 income simply would not work.

Would you choose to hand over $72 out of a hundred if you could, without the slightest trouble, avoid doing so? You would not.

Neither would nor will the rich. Should the crazy proposal become law, its intended victims would escape by investing in securities exempt from taxation.

Why should any financier or industrialist who would be subject to 72 per cent income tax risk putting his money into any kind of enterprise when his maximum possible reward would be 28 cents of each dollar of net profit? Why shouldn't he play safe by buying government and other tax exempt bonds and POCKET ALL THE INCOME?

Business hazards are serious enough these days without Congress seeking to kill the spirit of enterprise by demanding almost three-fourths of the possible return. The objective of Congress and everyone else today should be, not to discourage but to encourage men of large means to launch new undertakings and expand existing ventures, in order that unemployment—infinitely the most serious problem harassing America—may be lessened.

Manifestly, it is considered smart, gallery-playing politics to propound impossible plans to "soak the rich." But the rich would sidestep—even as you or I. And the glittering, globular receipts pictured by the irresponsible politicians would not be forthcoming. Result: our national finances would be gravely demoralized.

THE RECONSTRUCTION corporation is using your money and mine.

Is it agreeable to you that banking firms that sponsored railway loans be relieved of all responsibility by handing over our money?

Surely this is a time when everybody in a position to do so must shoulder a fair share of the existing heavy load. Surely it is not unreasonable to insist that those who underwrote railway securities be not completely relieved of the consequences.

Our most powerful bankers, if they be guided by wisdom, will not even ask from the Reconstruction Corporation anything calculated to bring them into still more widespread and bitter unpopularity with the people of this country. All the facts are certain to be revealed by and by.

Therefore, anything savoring of attempts to unload an undue share of financial burdens on the rank and file of taxpayers should be scrupulously avoided.

The American public feel that they have suffered quite enough already from following the leadership of those who manufactured high priced securities by the billions, sold them to all and sundry, pocketed ample commissions, and then dismally failed to provide effective leadership when the storm burst.

SEVENTY ORCHESTRAS will strike up in 55 leading cities on April 2, when General Motors opens national exhibits in the largest available auditoriums "as a direct and aggressive attack on existing psychology," as President Sloan expresses it.

That's exemplary enterprise!

COTTON STEADY AT ADVANCE

NEW ORK, March 24.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 4 to 7 points on covering and trade buying, promoted by firm cables. May sold at 6.53c. The demand was supplied by some further liquidation and a little southern selling, however, and the volume of business tapered off with the market comparatively quiet by the end of the first half hour at net advances of 7 to 8 points.

The market eased later in the morning under some further scattering liquidation which seemed to be coming partly from brokers who sometimes act for Japanese interests. There may have been some selling on the easier tone of the stock market. May contracts sagged off to 6.48c and December to 7.03c with the market quiet and fairly steady around midday at net advances of 2 to 3 points.

Auto Changes Methods Of Production in Plate Glass Making Industry

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

CONSTANT EFFORT to keep up with changing manufacturing processes has been an outstanding factor in the operations of the more successful companies in the glass industry. The companies which failed to keep pace with these rapid changes have dropped out of the picture or find themselves in serious situations.

In the field of window glass, the old method of blowing the glass in cylinders and flattening the cylinders has been entirely supplanted by new equipment which draws the glass in a continuous sheet from a furnace. The modern method produces at a lower cost and usually makes a better glass with few of the waves and flaws formerly found in window glass.

Libby-Owens was one of the first organizations to make sheet glass by a continuous process. The death knell of the cylinder process was sounded three years ago when the American Window Glass Company, which owned patents on the cylinder machines, started replacing all its equipment with Fourcault machines for drawing flat glass. This company completely abandoned its old process a year ago.

* * *

Automobiles Change Plate Glass Methods

AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT set of conditions faced the plate glass producers. The sudden rise in the popularity of the closed automobile after the war created an exceptional demand for small sizes of plate glass. The industry's equipment was designed entirely to make large plates for store fronts. The demand for small sizes used to be light and was supplied by cutting larger plates which were broken in manufacture.

The motor car industry became the largest single user of plate glass. Its consumption accounted for practically half the output. This resulted in rapid expansion in the industry but little change took place at first in manufacturing methods. To insure their requirements, General Motors, Ford and Durant all went into the business of making plate glass.

It was not until the years following 1925 when foreign competition started to break the price that the industry began to install equipment specially designed to produce small sizes of plate glass.

* * *

Continuous Process Reaches Perfection

PITTSBURGH PLATE Glass Company and the Ford Motor Company both installed machinery to draw glass in a continuous strip in widths designed especially for automobile use. This glass was subsequently ground and polished to produce the plate glass finish.

At the same time Libby-Owens was becoming a factor of increased importance in the plate glass field. This organization polished heavier grades of sheet glass and came into direct competition in the plate field.

The use of safety glass in the auto industry presented another problem. This is made of two thin sheets of plate glass cemented together by a transparent material. Only the most modern plate glass equipment can make glass sufficiently thin.

A change in architecture also affected the industry. Modern store fronts usually are designed in an irregular shape to increase the display areas of the window. This has eliminated much of the demand for the largest sizes of plates.

The efforts made by individual glass companies to meet these changing conditions will be discussed in this column tomorrow.

Midcontinent Oil Price Boost May Extend To Other Fields

The advance of 15 cents per barrel in midcontinent crude oil is the first change since November 2 last, when Continental Oil Company also led in raising prices a like amount. The new range of prices is 76 cents a barrel for oil below 24 degrees gravity to $1 for 40 gravity and higher. As previously, the advance undoubtedly will be extended to other fields in the Southwest and other areas east of California. One of the important benefits to oil companies in general which will result from the advance which is based on the stronger gasoline market and the balancing of output with demand, will be in the matter of inventories. Stocks of oil at December 31, 1931, market quotations were at extremely low levels.

The New York Stock Exchange today sent a reminder to all its members that the new short selling restrictions will go into effect on April 1. The reminder took the form of an admonition from Secretary Ashbel P. Green saying "I am directed by the committee on business conduct to emphasize the fact that these resolutions are operative on April 1 and that no stock may be loaned in any way on and after that date without the separate written authorizations of customers referred to therein." Stock exchange houses have sent new form letters to their customers asking their position in the matter. A number of leading wire houses have reported most of their customers willing to permit loaning of their stock for short selling purposes.

The 34-year dividend record of the Northern Pacific Railway Company was interrupted by the decision of directors hereafter to declare dividends on a semi-annual basis, thereby deferring action due at this time. Wall street would have been greatly surprised had the board ordered the regular 75 cent quarterly payment due at this time, but there were a few who believed that a 50 cent payment might be declared, placing the stock on a $2 annual basis.

Following the same procedure adopted by the New York Central and the Southern Pacific not so long ago in dealing with an unhappy dividend situation, Northern Pacific did not say in so many words that the dividend had been omitted; rather it was deferred until the June meeting. However, after the lengthy session of the board, there was a general disposition about the financial district to conclude that the business skies will have to turn distinctly brighter before the road decided to make further payments to the stockholders.

Estimates of probable first quarter results of a number of leading corporations are now beginning to appear. Calculations place American Telephone net for the current three months around $1.80 a share against $2.31 a share. A deficit of about $1.40 a common share is indicated for Steel Corporation against net of 5 cents a share last year. Other suggested comparisons are General Electric, 20 cents against 38 cents last year; General Motors, 25 cents against 61 cents; New York Central deficit of 80 cents against deficit of 3 cents; Westinghouse deficit of 50 cents against deficit of $1.14; Bethlehem Steel, deficit of $1.20 a share against net of 6 cents, and du Pont, net of 80 cents against $1.01, in the March quarter of 1931.

Petroleum stocks staged a momentary show of strength early in the day following announcement of the posting of an advance in crude prices in the Mid-Continent area. The advance which becomes effective April 1 was inaugurated by the Continental Oil Company, and was immediately met by other leading purchasing agencies in the region. Oil shares settled down after their early flurry, ruling quiet with the general market.

EASY CREDIT CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Development of the Federal Reserve policy of facilitating government credit transactions at low interest rates continues by leaps and bounds.

This is brought out by the latest combined statement of the 12 central banks covering the week ended March 16, when the banks' holdings of government securities increased $57,000,000 during the week to reach a total of $842,162,000. This rise follows one of $25,200,000 the previous period and an increase of $19,400,000 three weeks ago. The total now is $224,000,000 in excess of the comparable period of last year.

The gains noted above were offset by a reduction in bills discounted for member institutions, which item dropped $87,000,000 last week and $80,500,000 the week before.

In this connection, however, it is pointed out that discounts are repaid at the option of member institutions, while the 12 central Federal Reserve banks assume the initiative in their transactions.

Hence, member banks on the one hand are liquidating their obligations to regional institutions which, on the other hand, at the same time, are expanding credit and automatically providing the means by which member institutions are meeting their obligations.

Foreign Exchanges Close for Week-End

LONDON, March 24.—(AP.)—The stock exchange here and the Liverpool cotton and corn exchanges will remain closed Good Friday, Saturday and Easter Monday.

PARIS, March 24.—(AP.)—The Bourse will remain closed from today until Tuesday, March 29, Easter holidays.

Price Reduced on Copper for Export

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP.)—The price of copp in the export market was reduced ⅛ cent to 6¼ cents a pound, it was learned today. This recession brings the market back to about the extreme low level prevailing before producers reached their latest agreement for curtailment of output.

R. F. C. Directors Call $100,000,000 from U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have called upon the Treasury for payment of an additional $100,000,000 on the subscribed stock of the corporation. This makes a total of $350,000,000 which has been called for.

NO. 75
AN ORDINANCE. Making an emergency appropriation in the sum of $250,000.00, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the Department of Public Welfare, to be used to furnish assistance, relief and help to the unemployed of the City of Pittsburgh.
WHEREAS, Pursuant to section 15 of the Act of May 11, 1911, it has been duly certified by the Mayor and Controller of the City of Pittsburgh that there now exists an emergency in said city arising out of the unemployment of thousands of men and women, and there is the necessity of a large expenditure of money to furnish assistance, relief and help to the unemployed of the City of Pittsburgh; and,
WHEREAS, There is no existing appropriation from which these extraordinary expenses can be paid; now, therefore,
SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That from the revenue derived from taxes and other sources of income to the City of Pittsburgh during the present fiscal year there is hereby set apart and appropriated the sum of $250,000.00, or as much thereof as may be necessary, to the Department of Public Welfare, Code Account No. [illegible], to be used to furnish assistance, relief and help to the unemployed of the City of Pittsburgh.
SECTION 2. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance be, and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.
Passed in Council March 21, 1932.
Approved March 22, 1932.
CHARLES H. KLINE, Mayor.
Recorded in O. B. Vol. 41, page 172.

NOTICE
NOTICE is hereby given that an ordinance, Bill No. [illegible], has been introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, March 21, 1932, entitled:
AN ORDINANCE amending an ordinance entitled "An ordinance regulating and restricting the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses and regulating and limiting the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected or altered, and regulating and determining the area of yards, courts and other open spaces in connection with buildings hereafter erected or altered, and establishing the boundaries of districts for the said purposes; conferring certain powers upon the Superintendent of the Bureau of Building Inspection; providing for a board of appeals, and imposing penalties," approved August 9, 1923, by changing the Zone Map, Sheet Z-5-0, so as to change from a "B" Residence Use and an "A" Area District to a Commercial Use and "C" Area District all that certain property bounded by Verona avenue, a line parallel with and distant 115.18 feet west of Bigham street, Pier way, Bigham street, the northerly property line line of lots of M. Valentine, a line parallel with and [illegible] feet east of Bigham street, the southerly line of properties fronting on the southerly side of Verona avenue and [illegible] street.
And that a public hearing will be held in the Council Chamber of the City of Pittsburgh, regarding said ordinance, at the Council Chamber, City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., at 2 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday, April 13, 1932.

EMBERS OF LOVE -:- Story of a Pretty Girl in Whom Burned The Flame of a Great Emotion -:- By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Lily Lou Sings Well in First Operatic Appearance And Is Acclaimed

CHAPTER XLIII

Lily Lou stood, shivering slightly, while they sewed her into the pale blue and brown peasant dress in which she was to sing Micaela. It had been made for a larger woman. It was the wrong color. She twitched and jerked at it, in a futile effort ot make it hang better.

"It does very well," Madame Nahlman said, after a hasty glance, returning to the mirror to finish beading her eyelashes.

"Then go without one. Wear a shawl over your head. The French don't expect grand costumes anyway. It's the singing that matters over here."

"It's the singing that matters . . ." Lily Lou went to stand in the wings, turning it over in her mind, moving every minute or two to get out of someone's way. There was confusion, excitement, sharp argument, then a sudden hush. The curtain had gone up.

Before she realized it it was time for her to go on. No time to be frightened. When the moment for her song approached she felt no fear, no emotion of any kind. She sang and knew that she sang well. The tenor was delighted. "A pleasure to sing with such a Micaela," he said gallantly.

BECOMES FRIGHTENED

And then, for the first time—she was frightened. She had gotten through the first act. But how in the world could she get through the rest? Her knees were jelly. Her throat felt as though it were stuffed with cotton wool.

In search of comfort and reassurance she followed Nahlman to her dressing room, but it was already filled with people waiting for her. Nahlman was too busy accepting congratulations to notice her. She returned to her place in the wings, a little forlorn and frightened. She realized that in all that vast audience there was not a soul to care whether she succeeded or failed. An audience of inimicable strangers come to hear the American Nahlman . . . some of them perhaps come to hear the Mademoiselle Dejere whose ankle was broken.

She wished she did not have to wait until the third act to go on. It was such a long time to wait. She should have come to the theater later. That would have given her time to wait until the doctor got there to see the baby.

His little head was hot . . . but Bess always said that children's fevers didn't amount to anything . . . the bubchen was well, but he wasn't as strong as Bess' children . . .

PRAISED BY NAHLMAN

If she weren't made up she could get a taxi and slip home and still be back in time. No she couldn't . . . not at this hour . . . Well, the baby was all right . . . She'd just have to wait.

"Dear Lily, you are so beautiful! A little thin for the tradition, but lovely. If you do just half as well as in the first act they will adore you . . . you are not nervous?"

"No . . . not really . . . just . . ."

"Of course not. I must go. I depend on you, Lily, for my great performance. I could not sing with that squealing Dejere. Remember, I depend on you . . . for my big scene . . . my triumph."

Lily Lou was alone again. She stood, waiting for her cue. Nervous? She didn't know whether she was or not. She wanted the chance. She was determined to succeed. Her hands were frightfully cold and her face was hot . . . maybe she was getting the measles too! She stifled a nervous giggle.

MIND WANDERS

Mustn't think of the baby . . . To let that stop her now! Suppose that she got out on the stage and opened her mouth and no sound came out.

It was too bad about Dejere's ankle. Her own ankle hurt so much that time she sprained it in Woodlake and Ken held her in his arms and kissed her.

It would soon be over now . . . Then she could rush home to the Bubchen.

To think of that now! The baby and Ken . . . something that was all over . . . Of course, the baby wasn't all over, he was just beginning, but he was too small to need her very much. If he was to need her it would be in a financial way. So the way to help him was to succeed. Make something of herself. Put herself in the great artist class, above criticism, above gossip . . . If anyone ever got above gossip . . . To be thinking of that now . . . here, in the wings . . .

SINGS WELL

The stage was emptying, the chorus men in their costumes of gypsy smugglers were coming back into the wings and it was time for her . . . time for her . . .

The footlights leaped at her. She came towards them, down the board walk behind the papier-mache rocks.

There was a ripple of applause. It was because she was pretty, of course. They'd as likely hiss her in a minute, her throat felt so wooly.

"I try not to own that I tremble. But I know I'm a coward, although bold I appear. Ah! how can I ever call up my courage, While horror and dread chill my sad heart with fear?"

How appropriate the words were . . . she thought, singing in the French that seemed almost as natural as English now.

Did her voice sound small? She couldn't be sure. But it was true, oh, thank heaven, true . . .

This was her big chance . . . she was making the most of it. She was impatient to get back on the stage for her scene with Nahlman and the French tenor.

His breath smelled of onions . . . He always ate green onions in the wings, waiting his cues . . . what a funny habit! How funny that she wasn't frightened now, that her voice went right on, sure and perfect as if she was just turning on a phonograph record . . .

Applause . . . Nahlman had taken her hand, the tenor had her other hand. They were bringing her out before the curtain . . . She felt herself bowing, smiling . . . listening to the thunder of applause, not for her of course, for Nahlman, but still she was part of it . . .

"But she is perfect! Like a bird! She must be starred!" he cried, kissing her again, and pinching her leg through the blue petticoat.

"Didn't I tell you?" Nahlman shouted. "Didn't I say she was my pupil? But no, you would have that tin whistle, Dejere. Next time you will listen to me, eh?"

"Madame, s'il vous plait . . ." It was the wardrobe mistress, with Susanne Coin. Something about Nahlman's gorgeous silver and lace costume for the last act.

"My God! A rip in the armhole! And you stand like dummies looking at me. And my great last act to be ruined by an armhole! Susanne, clear my room. Lily, why do you let me shout? My strength . . ."

Lily Lou, still starry-eyed, still a little tremulous, turned to follow the three excited women. Her little part was over. She must help Nahlman with the costume.

Synopsis

Lily Lou Lansing has ambitions to become an opera singer. She meets Kentfield Sargent, son of a wealthy shipper. Ken is also interested in Peggy Sage, prominent society girl. Ken admits his love for Lily Lou and they go away and are married. When Lily Lou first sees Ken's mother she is told that Ken was not old enough to get married. Anxious days follow. Then Lily Lou is told by Ken's father that the marriage has been annulled. He gives her $500 and a ticket to New York. In New York she has a hard time getting a job and her money runs low. From a home town paper she reads that Ken has become engaged to Peggy. She learns that she is to become a mother. She gets a job as accompanist with Dwight Gwin, voice teacher. Nita Nahlman, famous opera singer, hears Lily Lou sing and offers to take her to Europe to study. Later Lily Lou explains her circumstances to the singer, expecting the offer to be withdrawn. She is invited to take the trip regardless and decides to do so. They go to England first and then to France. They go to Vienna, where Lily Lou becomes ill. She becomes the mother of a baby boy. When Lily Lou recuperates they return to Paris, where, through an injury to one of the singers, Lily Lou gets her first chance to sing in opera.

Now Go On

Heart of a Wife

Madge Recalls Chinese Prophecy

Hank hesitated for a few seconds after Dicky had asked him if he had heard or seen anything which made him think that the Chinese miscreants were watching Bill and himself when they made the discovery of the apparently lifeless man in the cornfield.

"N-o," he said at last, "we didn't hear or see anything but—we sort of felt somebody not far off was watching us. Bill said it was all our imagination, but I don't know. Isn't it true, Uncle Dicky, that sometimes you can feel things that are near you without seeing or hearing them?"

"I'll say so, boy," Dicky said heartily. "I haven't any doubt that they not only watched you find this body, but that they have an eye or two or three cocked in this direction right now."

HOPE FOR RECOVERY

"There's only one thing they don't know," Mr. Underwood said.

"And that is?" Dicky asked, as the big man hesitated.

"They're not sure whether this fellow has croaked yet or not," Mr. Underwood said. "I can't imagine how they missed making a complete job of it. Why they left even the breath that is still in his battered body is beyond me."

"It seems to me, I've read somewhere," Dicky said, "that some Orientals posses the power of stimulating death. This poor devil may have been wily enough to do just that. Then, when his torturers had put him in the cornfield and left him, he probably relaxed from the strain of pretending that he was dead, and lapsed into unconsciousness, which I am afraid will never break."

"I'm not so sure," Mr. Underwood said grimly. "True, I've never seen a man more done than this one, but I've seen some well-nigh hopeless cases come back to consciousness. After all, that is the main thing. I don't want him to die, of course, but even more important than his life is what he can tell us."

ARRIVE AT FARMHOUSE

"Yes," Dicky agreed, "that's the main thing. If he can revive well enough to speak—"

So slowly did I drive because of the humps in the road that Bill arrived much ahead of us. When we reached the farmhouse Lillian threw the door wide open and Jim appeared at the side of the car as if he had risen from the ground.

"Katherine says to bring him into the library," Lillian said. "The doctor is on the way."

Dicky and Hank were out of the car almost before it stopped, and in an infinitely short time the apparently lifeless figure of the Chinese was deposited in the library upon the emergency hospital cot which has stood in the farmhouse storeroom ever since Katherine came to us and stocked the house with everything necessary for first aid, surgical and medical treatment.

Katherine bent over the unconscious figure as Harry Underwood laid him down and the rest of us waited tensely as she put her fingers upon the man's wrist and searched his face with her wise and tender eyes.

There was no expression in her face as she turned back to us.

"Everybody but Harry and Dicky, please get out of here," she said. "Madge, send that doctor in a-running when he gets here and see that the supply of boiling water doesn't run short. Get that big kitchen table cleared and ready. We may have to have an emergency operation—if he's alive when the doctor gets here."

"That's a lot for Katrina to spout," Lillian said, as she and I went soberly out of her room, followed closely by Hank, Bill and Jim.

RECALLS WARNING

"At that I suppose she figures that there's nobody here to be affected by a pessimistic spiel, but it looks pretty bad for the poor old chap, don't you think?"

I nodded, for I felt like anything but speech as I went to the kitchen to make sure that the supply of boiling water for which Katherine had asked would be ready. Before my eyes was the haunted, terror-stricken look upon the face of the Chinese messenger when, at my refusal to give him Marion's lockbox for which he had asked he had said: "Velly bad for me, velly bad for you." It was indeed "Velly bad" for him. They had wreaked their vengeance well. If he did not recover consciousness and enable us to get some trace of the men who had done him apparently to death, would it be my turn next?

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Saturday's meeting of the Kenyon Chapter of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club was largely taken up with the election of officers who will serve for the next four meetings.

Hazel Fritz was elected grand jester, while Mariam Clarke, Robert Fritz, Anthony Pace, George Baltsaric and Georgie Klenk were elected to the board of governors.

These children will receive the new members, distribute the prizes and conduct the meetings from the stage. Miss Fritz, after her election, made a very pretty speech of thanks to the boys and girls who had voted for her.

One of her first acts was the welcoming into the clubs the following new members: Vernon Harvey, Lorraine Laibach, Gertrude Barker, Edward Scaft and Charles Dully.

ARSENAL CHAPTER

At the Arsenal chapter a stage show was presented by the members. Those taking part were Jean Lesnich, songs; Koontz and Welsh, acrobats; Richard Sisters, dancing; Josephine Barron, blues singer, and a comedy sketch entitled "Spooks" by John Jilliard, Al Gressler and Russell Neggi. Alberta and Minnie Fundi closed the program. Bernadine Gressler acted as Mistress of Ceremonies and led the members in singing with the organlogue.

Adele Yorio and Mercedes Brinker danced the Virginia reel, to the delight of the members who attended the meeting of the Cameraphone chapter of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club last Saturday. These two clever little girls were dressed in becoming green costumes. Tony, the acrobatic clown, had the children shouting and laughing with his funny stories and tricks. every little member was sorry when Tony finished. Bob Rosen, the singing pianist, entertained the youngsters in his own inimitable style and then led the group singing.

CAMERAPHONE

In next Sunday's Sun-Telegraph there will be a life-size comic mask of "Funny Bunny," which when cut out will give all the youngsters loads of pleasure and fun on Easter Sunday.

Starting today, Milt Gross, that celebrated cartoonist, joins the daily Sun-Telegraph family of comic artists, bringing to both the young and old many a laugh with his comic strip "Dave's Delicatessen." This is the comic which has been appearing every Sunday in colors in the big comic section you get with your Sunday Sun-Telegraph.

If you are not already a member of the Sun-Telegraph Junior Komic Club, send your name and address, name of your parents, school you attend, date of your birth to the Secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card and button will be mailed you.

AFTER THE BRAWL

Ladies used to be discreet,
Circumspect, retiring, sweet,
When they found love was a frost.
Maybe sleeplessly they tossed,
Wan and pallid with their grief,
But they didn't ever beef.
Nowadays when love goes sour
Gals don't sniffle by the hour,
Beat their brows or tear their curls
Like the dear, old-fashioned girls.
They sit down at the typewriter
And write a verse about the blighter.
With a good and snappy last line
Indicating he'd a fast line.

Wages Are Preferable

It Is Regrettable That the City Should Resort to the Dole When There Is Work to Be Done

The municipal authorities have decided to disburse the $260,000 emergency appropriation for the unemployed as direct relief instead of work relief. The recipients of the money are to receive it as a dole, not as wages.

This is regrettable, especially in view of the fact that there is a great deal of work to be done—work which could very well be done by some of those who are to get the money.

For example, the abandonment of its work program by the Allegheny County Emergency Association leaves eight sewer projects in abeyance. Trenches have been dug and materials ordered, but the work is held in suspension. Chief Engineer Charles M. Reppert, of the Department of Public Works, estimates that an expenditure of $75,000 would finish these jobs.

Since these were projects on which destitute men were employed, why should they not continue to be employed on them? Why should the $75,000 needed for completion of these sewers not be taken from the $260,000 emergency poor relief appropriation and paid out as wages instead of as a dole?

The taxpayers would thus be given something in exchange for their money, and the self respect of the recipients of the money would be saved.

There are no doubt plenty of other jobs on which the remainder of the $260,000 appropriation could be wisely spent.

Of course, there are some persons in need of relief who are unfit for the kind of work that the city is in position to offer, but there is no good reason to believe that the number of the physically disabled is abnormally large. As for the "white collar men," the war showed that they can soon adapt themselves to manual labor if necessary.

If the municipal authorities persist in their decision to distribute the $260,000 as direct relief, they are at least to be congratulated on their announcement that the established organizations of social service will be employed as the distributing agencies. They have the experience and sympathy with which to do good work, and are trustworthy.

Salesmanship Needed

Charles F. Hosford, president of a Butler County coal company, told a Senate sub committee he had heard of cases in which miners were working for as a little as a dollar a day; which led Senator James J. Davis to remark that convicts working in the coal mines used to be paid that much.

The fuel agent for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission the other day that his company had bought coal at as low a price as 72 cents a ton.

Patrick T. Fagan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, remarked yesterday that the United States has the largest deposits of bituminous coal and anthracite found in any country and that some of our coal has been shown by analysis to be the finest produced.

In the face of all these things—cheapness of production, low price and superior quality—European coal is being imported in large quantities.

The New England Coal and Coke Company, a subsidiary of the Koppers Company and owned by Pittsburghers, is reported to have sold 23 shiploads of British coal at retail to people in and around Boston.

The concern through which the British coal was imported is also reported to have brought 38,471 tons of Russian coal into the United States since December.

Furthermore, the European coal is said to have brought a higher price than the domestic product.

If our coal is, as we believe, as good as is to be found abroad, the sale of hundreds of thousands of tons of the European product in the Boston district stands as a serious reflection on the salesmanship of Pennsylvania coal and coke operators.

A campaign of education should be launched to acquaint New Englanders with the good qualities of Pennsylvania fuel.

Value of Fingerprints

Scientific Identification Helps to Catch the Guilty, But Also Protects the Innocent.

Richard B. Canfield, who escaped from the Western Penitentiary two years ago by sliding down a rope tied to a tower, made his way to California. But he recently was arrested there, and examination of his fingerprints exposed him as the fugitive wanted by the Pennsylvania authorities.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the value of this comparatively new and scientific method of identification in the apprehension of criminals.

But if fingerprints help to catch the guilty, they are also useful in protecting the innocent.

The state police were notified not long ago that a fugitive wanted on a criminal charge in this state had been caught in Honduras. The Honduran authorities were positive they had the right man, and the state police sent one of their number to the Central American country to bring the fugitive back. On arriving there, however, he found that the fingerprints did not tally.

THE HEARST PAPERS ADVOCATE:

2—Proportional representation in the United States Senate—no state to have less than two Senators.
5—Army, Navy and Aviation—all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
6—Vigorous federal action under a Secretary of Education to abolish illiteracy in the United States.
7—Federal sales tax and excise taxes to replace the income tax which has degenerated into a racket.
9—Construction of Nicaragua Canal for commerce and defense, advocated by Hearst papers since 1895.
10—Acquisition of French and English West Indies as part payment on debts to United States.
11—Selective immigration to admit only those suited for American citizenship and American needs.
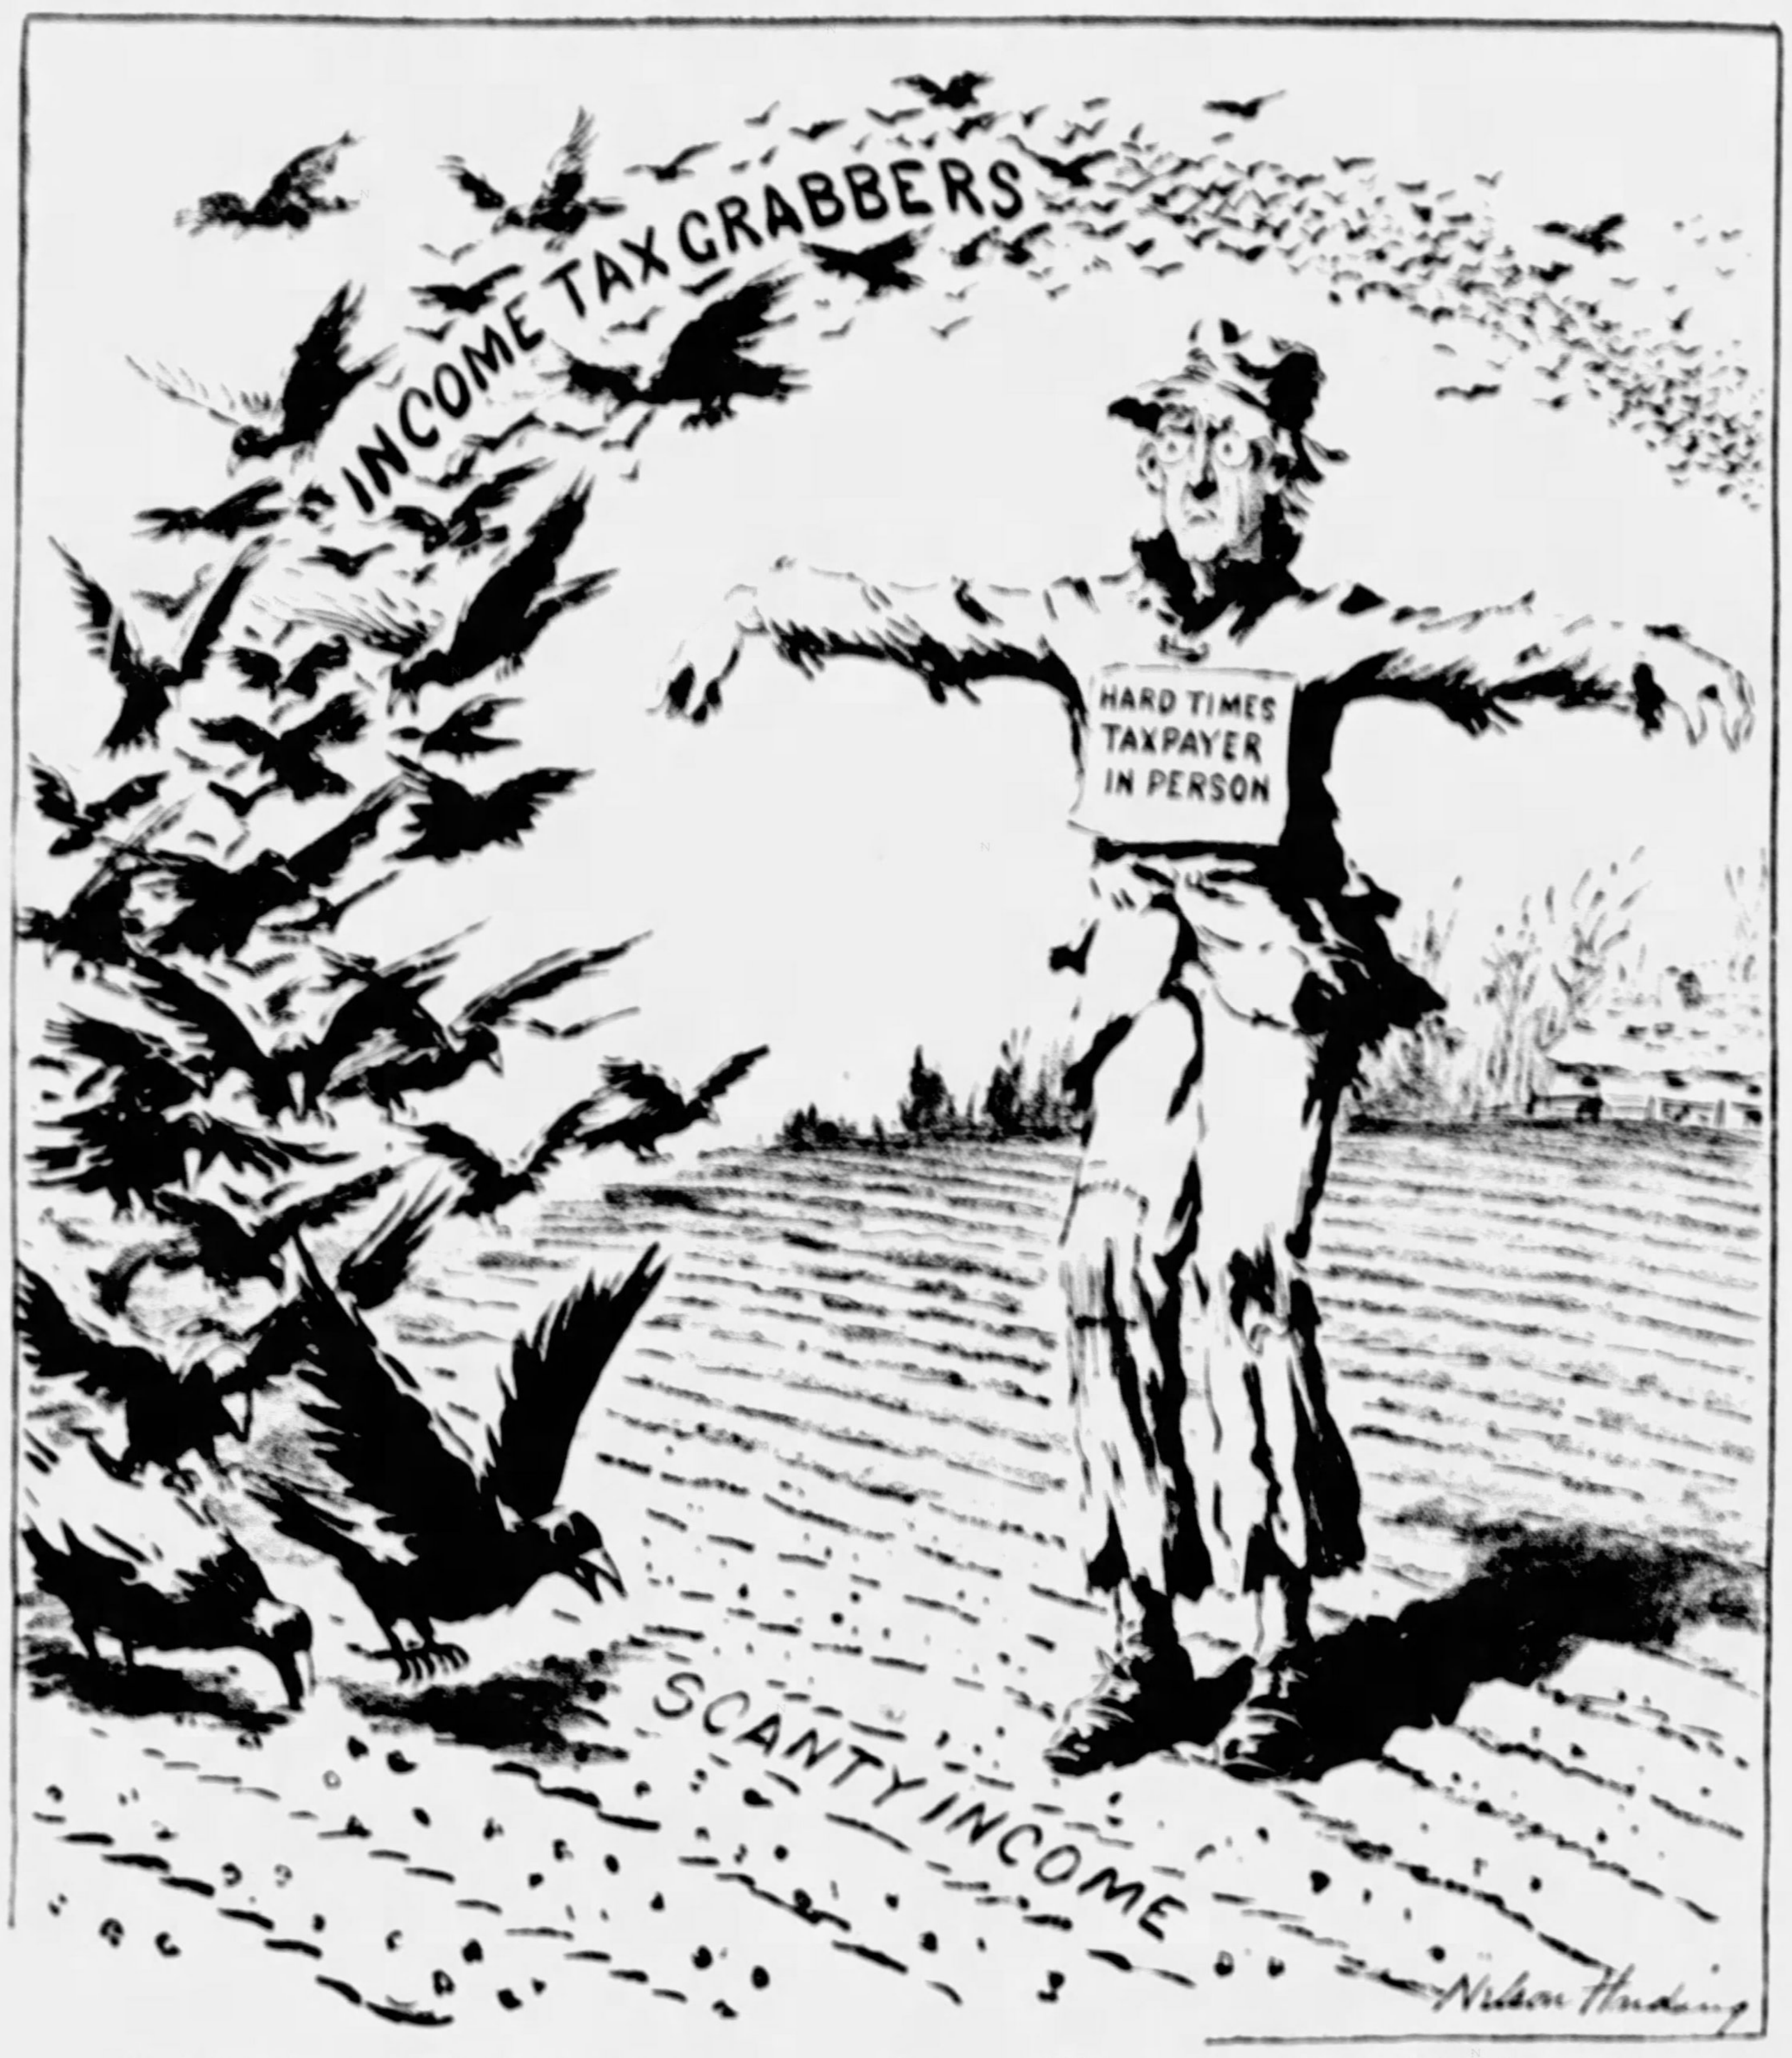
14—A calendar year of 13 months of four weeks each, all holidays to fall on Saturday.
15—A five-day working week or a six-hour working day to provide more jobs and better conditions for workers.

Glutton Crows Ignore the Scarecrow!

By Nelson Harding



To this real scarecrow's flapping rags
These birds pay not the slightest heed,
But without end the flocks descend
And gobble up the scanty seed.

When crops are poor and seed is scarce
In lean and unproductive years,
With beak and claw they seek still more,
These gorged and gorging racketeers.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 24.—This has been worst of all possible years for light ladies of Broadway. All the slick artifices from breach of promise suits to "tips for the wash room girl" fail in the panic.

In flush days a shakedown girl, following up an evening out with a philandering husband, had her conniving lawyer write him he had not done right by our Nell and did he propose to leave her waiting at the church? And she could live a year on the settlement.

Today such letters are returned with a jovial "Try to get it!" Good-fellows are stony. Their new Gilead is without balm. Anyway, the spenders are too busy just now playing hide-and-seek with bailiffs to appear in public with the most dazzling of charmers.

During the triad of boom years, it is estimated a million a year in such extortionate demands was squeezed out of the Broadway playboys. Two notoriously ratty lawyers levying such tribute are reported planning to close their offices and go into other business.

These bars are edged with revolving stools and in the manner of the French cocotte girls angle for suckers to buy drinks, for which they receive 40 per cent. Such pickings are slim, but, as one of them yawned: "It's this or the river."

Good Time Chucks are as scarce as cheer in Wall street. Gold diggers prospered when the market was going up. When it hits bottom and stays, there are only crumbs. And for those pecking among golden nuggets so long, crumbs are a puny fare.

Broadway's newest banquet table wit seems to be an acid-tongued gentleman named Joe Cunningham, a Philadelphia cartoonist. He came into favor delivering Olympian flippancies at the celebrity nights of the Friars. After listening to lachrymose sentimentalities he finishes up the evening by roasting everybody, including the honored guest. And leaves them all blushing.

* * *

A gentleman, following heavy winnings in a dice game, appeared in a speakeasy, tossed down a half dozen cocktails and invited a lady near to join him. She did. Departing he said: "Sister, would it offend if I slipped you a hundred dollar bill?" She replied: "It would. But be domineering."

Kelcey Allen discovers the politest kibitzer in the world. After watching a pinochle game three hours without a word he inquires: "Gentlemen, will you excuse me if I leave?" And tip-toes out.

Top for graciousness with me was reached by an unguentary fellow in a boat train to London one late afternoon. I was reading a newspaper and holding a lighted cigaret when he announced in circumflex accent: "Pardon, but you are burning a hole in my shirt front." I not only was but had.

Eerie epistle: "I'm not interested in beyond-the-grave phenomena. You know me as a materialist and truthful. Well then, passing a block in the 50's I saw a striking double of Valentino gazing into a window that proved to be the shop of his former wife, Natacha Rambova. Such coincidence inspires much spiritualistic nonsense."

Coincidence or not, crepe hanger, I'm sleeping tonight with all lights blazing full tilt.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

The respectable world appealing to gangdom for help in finding a stolen child—you gasped when you read it, didn't you?

You thought, with mounting anger and bewilderment, of the growing number of atrocities—of the sudden, enormous power of the underworld. And now—this!

"It's unbelievable!" you cried. "Why, no one ever heard of such a thing when I was a child. Toughs stayed in their place. Decent people weren't at their mercy, as they are now. Something's wrong—something ought to be done. It almost seems as if there isn't any justice any more if good people can be treated like this—"

Yes, there is still justice. But justice isn't the sentimental affair we'd like it to be. Justice is grim. It follows every cause with a ruthless effect. It gives us what we ask for—by our secret thoughts, our careless deeds.

AND IF GOOD PEOPLE ARE BEING TREATED LIKE THIS, IT IS BECAUSE GOOD PEOPLE ASKED FOR IT.

This latest proof of gangdom's power wasn't an accident. It didn't happen simply because the Lindberghs were caught in a cruel trap. It came as the inevitable fruit of our own policy—or lack of policy.

God hasn't deserted the righteous. We have deserted ourselves. We have let ourselves get into this mess by our spineless shilly-shallying . . . by our aimless drifting . . . by our conceit and stupidity and refusal to face facts.

Every day the menace has increased. Every day there has been fresh proof that the "powers of darkness" were getting the best of us. But we've muddled along. Told each other that things weren't half as bad as they said . . . that something would turn up.

And now we're whining and feeling terribly abused. Now we're crying that "it can't be possible—law and order must triumph—"

Don't fool yourself! Law and order HAVE triumphed. BUT THEY ARE THE GANGSTER'S LAW AND THE GANGSTER'S ORDER.

Our law and order have proved a farce. We have made laws that won't work? We have drifted and dawdled until we have no order left. And all this while the underworld has been making a law and order for itself that WILL work . . . the ruthless, uncompromising law of people who do not duck reality . . . the organized, controlled order of people who make a plan and see it through.

Why are we today truckling to the underworld?

BECAUSE THIS IS A SHOWDOWN.

The underworld is strong where we are weak, organized where we are disorganized, positive where we are negative.

The underworld is vigilantly, viciously on the OFFENSIVE. We are weakly, wobblingly on the DEFENSIVE.

The underworld knows what it wants and it is going after it. But we are spending our energy on preaching and pouting and being sorry for ourselves.

"Lord, how long shall the wicked triumph? How long shall they speak hard things and the workers of iniquity boast themselves?

"They break in pieces thy people, O Lord . . . they slay the widow and the stranger and murder the fatherless!"

The Israelites were said to be "God's chosen people." Yet the law of cause and effect worked as ruthlessly with them as with any outcast or savage. They dreamed while their enemy schemed. They drifted while their enemies acted.

And the day inevitably came when the walls of Jerusalem went down—and the bewildered, indignant Respectable Citizens were led, in shackles, into the enemy's land.

GOD HELPS THOSE WHO HELP THEMSELVES. And "to him that hath it shall be given," even though he be a racketeer.

And what can you and I do about it? That's easy. We can DO something, not just talk about it.

We can stop telling ourselves that we are the most wonderful people on earth and that nothing can happen to us because we are so good and smart and stronge . . . and we can face the fact that PLENTY IS HAPPENING RIGHT NOW . . . AND UNLESS WE GET AS BUSY DOING GOOD AS THE GANGSTER IS GETTING BUSY BEING BAD, IT'S TAPS FOR AMERICA!

Marry-Go-Round

I think there is nothing so dazzlingly beatuiful in all the world as a platinum-blonde in glistening pure white satin.

Women who wear long kid gloves with evening gowns only prove that those men, who opposed women suffrage on the ground that women haven't sense enough to vote, had a lot on their side.

I never call a man on the telephone, unless it is a matter of life, death or business. There are only three kinds of men, these days—those who EXPECT women to call them up; those who get SORE when women call them up, and those who shiver for FEAR women will call them up.

I can read any man's character and almost tell you what he looks like, by the sound of his voice over the telephone. Nothing is so intriguing as a beautiful telephone-voice, and nothing so disenchanting as a raucous one.

* * *

I still believe that there are lots of faithful lovers, devoted husbands and decent worth-while men in the world, today—in spite of the jazz-age and the so-called "new morality." Yea, even in spite of the anti-marriage crusade and the flapper-cult. And, in spite of my own eyes!

* * *

Women over 45 who dye their hair would look far younger if they would whiten it—or wear softening white wigs. It is better to appear to be a young thing trying to look older, than to look like an old thing trying to appear young.

These new spring hats, tilted 'way up on one side and 'way down on the other are SO becoming! And SUCH a relief from those terrible off-the-face things which made older women look like bald-eagles and the flappers look like half-wits. Now, if the milliners will only let them STAY that way!

* * *

Why should young couples make pre-matrimonial contracts? There are more promises in the wedding service, now, than they can possibly KEEP!

* * *

To advise a girl not to marry "a struggling young man," is a waste of breath. There isn't any other kind. When it comes to marriage, they ALL struggle until their strength gives out!

FRUIT OF THE TREE

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The idea that the tax bill to meet the most appalling peace time deficit in American history would speedily be enacted has gone glimmering. In view of the startling revelations of the conditions that have crowned 12 years of the present regime in power, even so robust a partisan as Vice President Curtis might well refrain from optimistic statements for a while. We have a two billion dollar deficit confronting us; and it was announced in the House last week that the government of the United States is running behind more than $7,000,000 a day—day after day.

The United States as a nation is facing a very grave crisis. It may be found inadvisable to attempt to balance the budget in one year.

This tragic state of affairs has come upon us during the complete domination of the party of Mr. Hoover. It was in control of the House where for years there was a merciless use of the steam roller. It was in control of the Senate. It had the presidency. There is the responsibility. It is a responsibility that cannot be met with smug complacency by the administration forces. This three-year panic is a Hoover panic.

* * *

Anything Can Happen If People Lose Faith

Last week in the House the members of both parties broke loose from the leadership of both parties, and things were said on the floor that one does not often hear except in revolutionary days. In the days preceding the revolution in France that country was battling with a deficit which the government was unable to meet. Minister after minister was entrusted with the task. Nothing suited. Nothing met the situation. And the result was that the country completely lost faith in the government. When the people lose faith in the government anything can happen. Among other things—when people lose faith in the government they lose faith in everything and everybody. And that means a period of something like chaos.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House struggled with its problem, considered every plan for meeting the deficit, and agreed upon a plan. There was no minority report. Both parties' representatives on the committee agreed. The administration agreed.

And it was agreed that the appalling situation called for sacrifices all along the line. Under anything like normal conditions, there probably would have been a general acquiescence. But there has been a revolt in both parties. Mr. Snell has no more been able to hold his men in line than has Mr. Rainey or Mr. Crisp. And the House adjourned on Saturday to give members an opportunity to cool off and think soberly.

* * *

Social Justice Long Forgotten

The revolt expressed itself in bitter demands that the rich be made to pay until it hurts. War time taxes were voted. A tax of 65 per cent on large incomes in days of peace is one of the fruits of a regime of market-minded-statesmanship, with no concept of popular psychology, no contacts with the men in the street, no interest in the average man. The long prevalence of the state of feeling expressed last week would mean, in the end, legislation to limit private fortunes through taxation.

And why this bitterness against the rich and the great fortunes?

We predicted just such a state of feeling months ago in these columns unless government and industry found prescience enough to give some thought to social justice.

* * *

Bursting Bubble Hits All Alike

We are expressing no opinion here. We are trying to explain a state of feeling. Every one in America has been hard hit through the bursting of the purely artificial, unwholesome G. O. P. Bubble. This has been accentuated by administration policies that violate the laws of economic common sense. Banks have failed as never before in history; long-established business houses have gone into bankruptcy; exporters and importers have been ruined, and the office buildings in great ports like New York City are being drained of tenants; railroads have been threatened with receiverships; factories, that have not cooled their furnaces, have moved to other countries to give employment to foreign workers.

This is serious, and the administration refuses even to consider changing the tariff act, which is collecting a terrible toll.

But government has interested itself actively in the plight of the banks and the railroads and private industries—that are big. Money from the Treasury has been put at the service of the powerful. Two billion dollars are at the disposal of these. They are being distributed—secretly.

Wrong? No, we think all this was necessary to prevent a dreadful collapse.

* * *

Man in the Street Should Be Questioned

But there are more than 8,000,000 breadwinners refused the right to work who are being driven every day to bitterness, and probably 40,000,000 others, including dependents, who have grown cynical in their misery, and among the masses of the people the failure of a great business enterprise is no more appalling than the daily eviction of women and children because of non-payment of rent.

And nothing has been done for this group of victims of the ineptitudes of government and the gluttony of the few. Government actually throws out its chest and makes a virtue of its refusal to let a penny from the Treasury, that offers $2,000,000,000 to the powerful, go to the feeding of the poor. And it refuses to consider a prosperity loan to create work on public improvements—when in the vicious circle we are in, there is no other way to create a job. Now, if government thinks the masses of the people are not thinking along this line, it would do well to stop the first dozen ordinary men on the street and engage them in conversation.

* * *

Industrial Leaders Spurn Reforms

And there is another reason for the bitterness: Our industrial leaders have evidently turned thumbs down on any suggestion for a reform of the industrial system in the interest of social justice. We are to have no readjustment of work days to meet the menace of machinery. We are to have no unemployment insurance—through any initiative on the part of government. We are going to have "business as usual"—and we won't.

We are passing into the most critical period civilization has known since the crumbling of the ancient civilization and the fall of feudalism, and most of our industrial and political leaders are in utter ignorance of the fact. They are living in a fool's paradise.

And it was reflected last week in the House when so many turned in resentment against the rich and powerful.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

Do you have a foreign-born girl employed in your home?

How do you treat her?

She is looking to see what better breeding and position has done for you in comparison with her experience.

By your attitude toward her do you make her feel friendly or antagonistic to you and toward the grade of society that you represent.

It would not take much of your time to teach her when her work is done.

Why not divide some of the benefits derived from knowing how to speak and read the language of your country, by helping her to understand what is said to her and make a suitable reply.

It is a tragedy not to be able to understand and worse to be unable to make yourself understood.
